3 Missing Fliers Feared Slain by Japs Reach Safety

MANILA, July 24 (AP)—Three U. S. Seventh fleet fliers reported missing and presumed dead have returned to a navy advanced airbase in the Philippines after surviving six months in enemy-held Borneo.

They are Lt. Robert J. Graham, Rosemont, Pa., Reuben L. Robbins, aviation machinists mate, Omak, Wash., and James R. Shephard, aviation machinists mate second class, San Diego, Calif.

Five of the six other members of their liberator patrol bomber were captured and killed by Japanese.

The sixth, seaman first class Alvin M. Harms, Holly, Colo., escaped earlier.

While on a routine mission last Jan. 13, their big plane was attacked by four enemy fighters and forced to land in a rice paddy near Brunei Bay.

For 13 days they walked into the hinterland. They were weak and hungry and all of them suffered from malaria.

Native Women Aid: "It looked for a time as if the mosquitoes would claim all of us," Graham said.

Japanese patrols drew close to the little band. For security, the party split into three groups and hid in the jungle.

Graham heard that two Army lieutenants were hiding out in another village and after a four-day walk in which he was trailed by Nipponese patrols, he succeeded in reaching them.

To their horror, they found that Japanese had caught five of the original party and had executed them.

They left the area as quickly as possible and walked deeper into the jungle toward a village where natives had indicated there were five more white men.

They found a friendly Dutch official who fed them solid meats and cooked foods.

With the help of natives they built a crude airstrip by embedding bamboo slabs in the mud.

FEEDER LINE AIRWAYS

A diagram for long-heralded invasion of small trade territories by commercial airways is contained in recommendations of examiners to the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The plan has been under consideration and in process of development for many months and has been prepared only after much study and calculation.

Roseburg and Reedsport would be Douglas county centers under the program recommended. The area west of the Cascades would be served by the Southwest Airways.

Incidentally, Klamath Falls is waiting most plaintively because of the examiner's recommendation that that municipality be linked with other Western Oregon cities as a part of the feeder system.

Southwest Airways, the company selected from a dozen or more applicants to serve Western Oregon, has been planning its service most extensively.

This company operated in California and neighboring states prior to the war and was expanding rapidly when hostilities came.

Contingent upon securing the proposed feeder line franchise, Southwest Airways has designed a plane particularly for the type of work which it will be called upon to perform.

The planes are designed for cruising speeds of 180 miles an hour, which, counting landings and take-offs, would give a consistent schedule based on 120 miles an hour.

There is every prospect that the entire nation will be blanketed with feeder line service in the postwar era, but the CAB is not permitting promiscuous operation by irresponsible companies.

U. S. Senator Guy Cordon of Roseburg is among a group of senators on the commerce committee vigorously fighting to sustain the CAB in its plan of "controlled competition."

U. S. Assailed by Chinese Red Radio

CHUNGKING, July 24 (AP)—The Chinese communist radio at Yenan said today American policy toward China had become "definitely imperialistic."

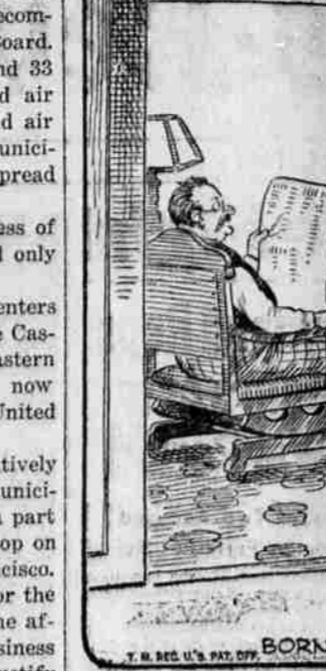

The Yenan broadcast said Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, U. S. ambassador, had made misrepresentations during a visit to Washington in April and subsequent articles in American newspapers showed that America's policy toward China had become "definitely imperialistic."

The radio spokesman then appealed to the United States government and Army to repudiate the new foreign policy sponsored by the Chinese communist party.

He charged that the National government at Chungking "represents feudalism and fascism," and said defeat peace in China depended upon American support.

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

George Weber of Roseburg has received a letter from a nephew, Siegfried Koenig, Oslo, Norway, containing the first information of relatives in Norway and Russia since the start of the war, except for a brief Red Cross report in 1943.

The letter reports that Lee Weber, who spent a year in Roseburg, 1894, a brother of George Weber and of Morris J. Weber, the latter also a former Roseburg resident, now of Keswick, Va., apparently was executed by the nazis.

The death of an 83-year old cousin also was reported. "About us here in Norway," the writer states, "I give you good news. Those five years under German occupation were dreadful, of course. We simply were prisoners in our own land and own home, but nevertheless we did not give up the fight. And that this fight finally should be crowned with such a victory no one dared hope or expect. You may have seen in your newspapers how easily everything developed here, but you cannot imagine how wonderful those days were in reality."

Accommodation, Plus! COLUMBIA, S. C., July 24—(AP)—Police were seeking today to recover an automobile which was stolen from under the owner's very nose.

John Wilson reported that when he asked a man to guide his stalled machine while he pushed, the driver kept on going.

Pennant Good As Won by Beavers, O'Doul Declares

Associated Press Sports Writer—Portland's Beavers, who have won 11 straight games and lead the Pacific coast baseball league by seven, might just as well fold up the 1945 bunting and stow it away—as far as Mr. Francis J. O'Doul is concerned.

The master-mind of the San Francisco Seals, who's seen them come and go on the coast for more than a decade, has conceded in the public print there is no other club able to head Manager Marv Owen's crew.

His prediction came on the eve of a Portland-Seattle series in which the runner-up Rainiers must at least break even to stay in the race. To O'Doul's way of thinking the Beavers will win seven straight.

"Seattle doesn't stand one-two-eight with Portland. I can't understand how the Rainiers have stayed in second place so long. If we'd had one more pitcher last week we'd have slaughtered them," the Seals' skipper said after a northwest road trip in which his team lost six out of eight to the Beavers and took its series with Seattle 4-3.

"Portland has a regular pitcher ready to go nine innings every night of the week. There's your answer. Those tossers work in turn, get their regular rest, and are fresh and willing every start. What can you do against a setup like that?"

Statistics would appear to bear out O'Doul's soothing. In two previous series Portland has beaten Seattle 10 out of 15 games and is riding the crest of a "hot" streak.

McCarthy Resigns As Yankees' Boss; Club Lags in Race

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)—Dark days have fallen upon the once mighty New York Yankees who today are exploring the unfamiliar regions of the American league's second division without the guiding hand of Manager Joe McCarthy.

Joe is off to Buffalo for a short period to reconsider a proffered resignation that President Larry MacPhail yesterday refused to accept.

Ill health prompted McCarthy to decide to step down in a surprise move but he agreed to think it over while undergoing a thorough physical checkup by his physician.

While the Yankee stadium seethed with various rumors, the ball club itself continued to wander about in a daze, blowing a tough 11-inning decision to Chicago, 1-0 to sink into the second division.

The White Sox took over third behind Detroit and Washington and the idle St. Louis Browns eased past the Yanks and Boston, tied for fifth.

The rebirth of Bobo Newsom of Philadelphia would be the top baseball news of the moment, if it weren't for the McCarthy affair, for old Bobo helped himself to a fourth straight decision, 1-0, over the pace-setting Detroit Tigers.

Washington missed a chance to move within one and a half games of the top by dropping a 2-1 verdict to Cleveland, bowing to Kleiman's five-hit pitching.

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

"As many as received Him to them gave He power to become the Sons of God." The word power might be changed to "right." What a challenging opportunity to become somebody. We are always becoming. The student becomes a scholar, the amateur an expert, the theologian a preacher.

In America we are becoming patriotic Americans. Men in the nation's uniform may flash into patriotism in some over-maturing moment during a bombing raid or at the point of a bayonet. Others will grow into patriotism by slow degrees through everyday experiences.

Such as a rationed diet or giving up something dear to them. Likewise in the spiritual realm, the process of becoming may be slow and channeled through insignificant bits of religious service.

We have been given the right, the power to become children of God, but this power is given only to those who believe in Jesus Christ. Faith is the wholesome atmosphere in which the Spirit lives and moves and has its being.

"And he that hath this hope in Him purifieth himself even as He is pure." It is our happy privilege while here in the flesh to claim Sonship with Christ our Elder Brother.—Amen.

tract is under jurisdiction of superior court, appeared in shark-skin clamdiggers, black wool halter, bare-legged and shod in moccasins and asked to see the judge because she wanted $300 above her allowance.

Clerk Jesse Jones listened to her reasons, took a startled look, and agreed and communicated her petition to his honor in chambers. An order for the money came quickly.

Her reason: "my summer wardrobe is inadequate."
