Urgent Seed Need Told to Farmers

Farmers are urged by the USDA to harvest as much alfalfa and red clover for seed in August and September as possible. All legume seeds are in heavy demand this year. They are needed here to maintain high production and in European countries to help rebuild pasture land damaged by war. Through the Agricultural Adjustment Agency program, a special payment is made for harvesting alfalfa and red clover and an additional poundage payment can be earned by selling the seed to commercial dealers for movement into areas where seed is needed. There is also a need for a greater harvest of sweet clover seed than last year and loans on this seed, if it meets certain standards, can be obtained through the county AAA offices. Price schedules and specifications for the 1945 seed purchase program have been received and copies are being distributed by county AAA committees to all dealers and warehousemen who have signed agreements to handle seed sold to the government under the program. As in 1944, top prices will be paid for seed meeting basic germination and purity requirements with discounts for each one per cent below the basic requirements. The basic prices are $12.00 for hairy vetch, $11.50 for crimson clover, $6.00 for Willamette vetch and $7.50 for common ryegrass.

Surplus Articles Offered for Sale By Federal Govt.

Thousands of surplus commodities, exclusive of farm machinery and automotive equipment, now are available to individuals, business firms, and industrial plants. It was reported today by Thomas A. Crowe, assistant chief of the surplus property division of the RFC office in Portland, and W. B. Johnson, of the sales division, who were in Roseburg today to acquaint the public with the service now available. Pamphlets giving detailed instructions concerning methods of purchasing surplus property and listing items for sale were left at the office of the Chamber of Commerce for free distribution to interested persons. Among items now available through the RFC, they report, are aircraft, aircraft parts and accessories, inedible animal products, chemicals, coal and related commodities, communication and electronic equipment, indicating, leather and related products, lumber and wood materials, industrial machinery, machine tools, metal alloys, metallic ores and concentrates, fabricated metal products, non-ferrous metals, mineral products, paints and varnishes, plastic materials, paper, paperboard, textile fibers, vegetable products, and others. Prospective purchasers, it is reported, may have their names placed on mailing lists for catalogs of any classification of property in which they are interested. Specific information may be obtained regarding any particular item, giving full particulars as to style, model, condition, accessories and all other pertinent facts, the RFC representatives report. Interested persons are invited to secure pamphlets at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Seed Crop Prices For 1945 Listed By AAA Committee

Detailed price schedules for the 1945 cover crop seed purchase program have been announced by William J. Enschede of Hillsboro, acting chairman of the state AAA committee. The schedule covers various grades of four varieties of seed to be purchased from growers or dealers. This is the sixth year the government has purchased such seed for shipment to southern and east central states for distribution to farmers in place of cash AAA practice payments for growing winter cover crops. Purchases this year will be made on essentially the same plan as in 1944, except that no seed will be bought on the basis of private tests. Producers may sell on either official purity and germination tests, or on official purity test alone. On seed sold on purity test alone, payment will be at 80 per cent of the full rate pending outcome of official germination tests. Seed will be purchased from dealers who offer it in carload lots, 60,000 pounds or more, of one variety and of uniform quality. Blending of ineligible seed in a carload will not be permitted. Enschede said. Prices Schedule Listed. Prices and specifications are as follows: Hairy vetch, $12.00 a hundred for seed with 95 per cent purity and 90 per cent germination; discount of 15 cents per hundred-weight for each per cent below 90 for germination, and 9 cents for each per cent below 95 for purity. Minimum requirements are 70 per cent for both purity and germination, 98 per cent total winter legumes. Certified Willamette vetch, $6.00 a hundred for seed with 90 per cent germination, 98 per cent purity; discount of 9 cents a hundred for each per cent below 90 for germination, 2 cents for each per cent below 95 for purity. Minimum requirements are 70 per cent for both purity and germination, 98 per cent total winter legumes. There is no discount for hairy or wooly pod vetch in Willamette. Crimson clover, $11.50 per hundred for seed with 85 per cent germination, 96 per cent purity; discount of 15 cents for each per cent below 85 for germination. Minimum requirements are 65 per cent germination, 96 per cent purity. Common ryegrass, $7.50 per hundred for seed with 90 per cent germination and 98 per cent purity; discount of 10 cents for each per cent below either of these basic requirements. Minimum requirements are 75 per cent for germination, 95 per cent for purity, and not over 2 per cent weed seeds. County AAA committees can provide further information on the program.
