Indiscreet Talk Of Britons Strains Bond With America

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
One of England's leading newspapers, the Manchester Guardian, says the world's greatest fear is that the United States, in her desire to return quickly to normalcy, "may cast aside moral obligations which she assumed during the war."
The Guardian's point is that we may not be willing to keep occupation forces long in Europe. The paper maintains that American troops must be held in Germany until that country becomes democratic.
While the Guardian's fears are groundless, there can be no argument but that allied occupation must be continued until reform has been achieved. Uncle Sam more than once has subscribed to this view and has made it clear that he fully intends to do his share towards making not only the Germans but the Japs democratic and peace-loving. Our desire for normalcy—and it is great, as it is in all other countries—must not preclude our playing our part in world rehabilitation. We have pledged that.

Indiscreet Talk Resented
It must be admitted, however, that our spirit is at times rather dampened by such indiscretions as that by Stanley N. Evans, labor member of the British parliament, in a speech a couple of days ago. Mr. Evans said that while Britain didn't expect ease and plenty immediately after the war, she did believe that the United States "would have some consideration for us who held the fort two years while Americans waxed fat on proceeds of cash and carry." He declared Britain's alternative was to submit to political blackmail.

"America," asserted Evans, "wants to sell to everyone, but

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and grown-ups may be victims of pin-worms without suspecting what is wrong!
Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it. After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a highly effective way to deal with them has been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug called gentian violet.
This special drug is the vital ingredient in F.W. the Pin-Worm tablet developed in the laboratories of Dr. E. Jayne & Son. F.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.
So if you suspect this early infection, ask your doctor for JAYNE'S F.W. and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.
It's easy to remember: F.W. for Pin-Worms!

Jealous Italians Strip Girls Accompanying GIs

ROME, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Jealous Italian youths seized two Italian girls from an American jeep last night and disrobed them, setting off a mob scene which was broken up by allied military police who swung clubs and un-lashed police dogs.
Rome newspapers treated the incident humorously and reported that there were no casualties among the 2,000 who crowded the Piazza Colonna.
Allied authorities withheld comment on the incident.
Such outbreaks have become fewer than several months ago, when the newspapers reported the hair of a number of girls was clipped and others were disrobed because they associated with allied soldiers.
