

Local News

Merry-Go-Round Club to Meet—The Merry-Go-Round club will meet Friday at a 1 o'clock potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. D. H. Morgan at Winchester.

Working at Penney's—Miss Deloris Carey of Roseburg has been employed by the Roseburg J. C. Penney company store and started her duties there yesterday.

D. of U.V. to Meet—Florence Nightingale tent No. 15, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Roseburg Woman's clubhouse on South Jackson street.

Theta Rho Club Team to Meet—Alpha Theta Rho girls club drill team will meet tonight at 6:45 o'clock at the I.O.O.F. hall for practice. All members interested in joining the team are requested to be present.

Camp and Auxiliary to Meet—George Starmer auxiliary and camp to United Spanish War Veterans will meet Friday night, September 14, at a 6:30 o'clock potluck supper at the I.O.O.F. hall. The camp and auxiliary will hold their respective business sessions following the supper.

D.A.R. to Hold Meeting—The D.A.R. will observe Constitution day with a program Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. M. Campbell at 941 Winchester street. Mrs. Walter V. Monger will be in charge of the program. Mrs. George M. Brown, regent, has asked all members to be present as this will be the first fall meeting of the organization.

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Kindness is the very heart of practical Christian living. The essence of kindness is having a fellow feeling for our fellow men. We see our fellow man as "one of our own kind." He belongs to us and we belong to him. We may not have experienced just the thing that he is suffering, but, as we are of his kind, we are liable to it. Therefore, a feeling of kindness comes into the heart and the fruit of that feeling is kind dealing with others. Kindness is a word first of all for the home. The Christian home is built on the spirit of kindness. But kindness reaches far beyond the home. Out into a man's business and even far out into national and international affairs. The spirit of kindness is the Christian's balm to heal the world's hurt. Even God's great redemptive love could go no further than kindness. Man's spirit is kindred with God's spirit. The Old Testament writers add a beautiful qualifying adjective and speak of the loving kindness of God. How beautiful that we, too, as God's children can be kind. To be kind is to be like Christ. Amen.

Visits Friends—Mrs. F. F. Parker of Cottage Grove spent Wednesday in Roseburg visiting friends.

Back in Office—Dr. D. R. Gibbs has returned to his dental office in the Medical Arts building, following a vacation.

Back From Coast—Mrs. W. C. Woods and son, Donald, have returned to their home in Roseburg, following a visit in Bandon with relatives and friends.

Returns to Work—Mrs. Noah Hatfield has resumed her duties as a clerk at the J. C. Penney company store, following several weeks' convalescence from an appendicitis.

Returns to Portland—Miss Virginia Mills, cadet nurse at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, has returned to her training, following a four-day stay in Roseburg visiting her mother, Mrs. Gene Mills.

Visiting Here—Private First Class Richard Reynolds, who has been serving with the U. S. Army in Italy for the last 18 months, has arrived in Roseburg to spend his 30-day furlough visiting his aunt, Mrs. Gene Mills.

Wesley Bible Class to Meet—The Wesley Bible class will hold a 6:30 o'clock potluck supper Friday evening at the Methodist church parlors. A social will follow the supper. Members having birthdays in July, August and September will be guests of honor.

Sale to Be Held Saturday—Patrick Kelly auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a cooked food and rummage sale Saturday, September 15, from 9 A. M. to 1 o'clock, at Powers Hardware store on North Jackson street. The sale will close at 1 o'clock as all business houses are closing for the afternoon on account of the rodeo. Those having contributions for the sale are asked to have them at the store before 9 A. M.

Residing in New Home—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chamberlin and daughter, Miss Ida, are now residing at their new home in the Edgewater district at the end of the Calkins lane, which they recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Houston L. Walsh. The Chamberlins spent a year visiting relatives in Pennsylvania and have only recently returned to the West Coast. Mr. Chamberlin has engaged as a contractor in the building business for many years in Roseburg. Mrs. Chamberlin spent a few days last week in Salem visiting her sister, Mrs. K. Evans.

Enduring Peace Demands Erasure Of Jap War Lords

By D. WITT MacKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst) A long, long line of Japanese war lords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the sooner we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the Mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb had demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon. The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the Sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itakaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Realtors in Partnership Gray Carnes, engaged for several years in real estate sales at Canyonville, is now associated with T. L. Weaver in the Weaver Realty company. It was announced today. Mr. Carnes will manage the company's office in the Canyonville hotel. Headquarters will continue in Judge Weaver's office. The company handles land and home sales and rentals and insurance.

Sergeant J. T. Trozelle Gets Honorable Discharge FORT LEWIS, Wash., Sept. 12—Technical Sgt. John L. Trozelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric G. Trozelle, Route 2, Roseburg, Ore., has been honorably discharged from the Army air forces at this separation center.

Last stationed at Perrin field, Texas, an AAF training command basic pilot school, Sgt. Trozelle was formerly in the infantry and served overseas 34 months in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. He was a machine gun platoon sergeant, winning two battle stars for combat action and the Purple Heart for wounds.

Entering the service March 10, 1942, T-Sgt. Miller served with the 5th air force in the European theater from April, 1942, until March, 1943. A gunner overseas, T-Sgt. Miller was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for his outstanding contribution to the AAF. Since his return to the states, T-Sgt. Miller has recently been stationed at March field, Riverside, Calif.

Point Score for Release Of Marines Is Reduced WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Marine corps today reduced its critical point score for release of all Marines 35 years of age and older. The changes are effective immediately. In connection with the release of personnel over 35, it was pointed out that the Marine corps point system, unlike that for the rest of the Navy, allows no credit for age.

The point release system does not apply to enlisted men serving four-year enlistments in the regular Marine corps or extensions thereof. The new conditions for discharge eligibility apply to all Marine corps personnel, irrespective of whether they are serving within the United States or overseas.

There was no change in the critical score for members of the Women's Reserve, which remains at 25 points.

Sgt. Leslie Miller Given Discharge From Air Unit ARMY SEPARATION CENTER, Fort Lewis, Wash., Sept. 12—Technical Sergeant Leslie Miller, 27-year-old son of Mr. James Miller of 831 N. Jackson street, Roseburg, Ore., and husband of Mrs. Betty Belle Miller, Roseburg, was honorably discharged from the Army air force this week.

Entering the service March 10, 1942, T-Sgt. Miller served with the 5th air force in the European theater from April, 1942, until March, 1943. A gunner overseas, T-Sgt. Miller was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for his outstanding contribution to the AAF.

Since his return to the states, T-Sgt. Miller has recently been stationed at March field, Riverside, Calif.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

Enduring Peace Demands Erasure Of Jap War Lords

By D. WITT MacKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst) A long, long line of Japanese war lords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the sooner we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the Mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb had demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon. The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the Sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itakaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Realtors in Partnership Gray Carnes, engaged for several years in real estate sales at Canyonville, is now associated with T. L. Weaver in the Weaver Realty company. It was announced today. Mr. Carnes will manage the company's office in the Canyonville hotel. Headquarters will continue in Judge Weaver's office. The company handles land and home sales and rentals and insurance.

Sergeant J. T. Trozelle Gets Honorable Discharge FORT LEWIS, Wash., Sept. 12—Technical Sgt. John L. Trozelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric G. Trozelle, Route 2, Roseburg, Ore., has been honorably discharged from the Army air forces at this separation center.

Last stationed at Perrin field, Texas, an AAF training command basic pilot school, Sgt. Trozelle was formerly in the infantry and served overseas 34 months in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. He was a machine gun platoon sergeant, winning two battle stars for combat action and the Purple Heart for wounds.

Entering the service March 10, 1942, T-Sgt. Miller served with the 5th air force in the European theater from April, 1942, until March, 1943. A gunner overseas, T-Sgt. Miller was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for his outstanding contribution to the AAF. Since his return to the states, T-Sgt. Miller has recently been stationed at March field, Riverside, Calif.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Enduring Peace Demands Erasure Of Jap War Lords

By D. WITT MacKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst) A long, long line of Japanese war lords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the sooner we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the Mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb had demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon. The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the Sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itakaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Realtors in Partnership Gray Carnes, engaged for several years in real estate sales at Canyonville, is now associated with T. L. Weaver in the Weaver Realty company. It was announced today. Mr. Carnes will manage the company's office in the Canyonville hotel. Headquarters will continue in Judge Weaver's office. The company handles land and home sales and rentals and insurance.

Sergeant J. T. Trozelle Gets Honorable Discharge FORT LEWIS, Wash., Sept. 12—Technical Sgt. John L. Trozelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric G. Trozelle, Route 2, Roseburg, Ore., has been honorably discharged from the Army air forces at this separation center.

Last stationed at Perrin field, Texas, an AAF training command basic pilot school, Sgt. Trozelle was formerly in the infantry and served overseas 34 months in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. He was a machine gun platoon sergeant, winning two battle stars for combat action and the Purple Heart for wounds.

Entering the service March 10, 1942, T-Sgt. Miller served with the 5th air force in the European theater from April, 1942, until March, 1943. A gunner overseas, T-Sgt. Miller was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for his outstanding contribution to the AAF. Since his return to the states, T-Sgt. Miller has recently been stationed at March field, Riverside, Calif.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Enduring Peace Demands Erasure Of Jap War Lords

By D. WITT MacKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst) A long, long line of Japanese war lords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the sooner we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the Mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb had demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon. The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the Sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itakaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Realtors in Partnership Gray Carnes, engaged for several years in real estate sales at Canyonville, is now associated with T. L. Weaver in the Weaver Realty company. It was announced today. Mr. Carnes will manage the company's office in the Canyonville hotel. Headquarters will continue in Judge Weaver's office. The company handles land and home sales and rentals and insurance.

Sergeant J. T. Trozelle Gets Honorable Discharge FORT LEWIS, Wash., Sept. 12—Technical Sgt. John L. Trozelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric G. Trozelle, Route 2, Roseburg, Ore., has been honorably discharged from the Army air forces at this separation center.

Last stationed at Perrin field, Texas, an AAF training command basic pilot school, Sgt. Trozelle was formerly in the infantry and served overseas 34 months in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. He was a machine gun platoon sergeant, winning two battle stars for combat action and the Purple Heart for wounds.

Entering the service March 10, 1942, T-Sgt. Miller served with the 5th air force in the European theater from April, 1942, until March, 1943. A gunner overseas, T-Sgt. Miller was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for his outstanding contribution to the AAF. Since his return to the states, T-Sgt. Miller has recently been stationed at March field, Riverside, Calif.

That's what the allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, if the allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now.

Hamstringing Try Falls The melodrama of the militarist plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Russel Brines, an Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo, reports from a well-informed Japanese source that fanatical young Japanese officers on August 14 even assassinated the command general of the Emperor's personal guards in their attempt to prevent the imperial announcement of surrender from reaching the public. Having killed the general, they forged his name to an order and sent troops to surround the palace, but the scheme failed.

That was the finale of the battle waged by the Mikado and his peace-seeking advisers with the militarists who were determined not to capitulate. It was a conflict which had been going on since last February.

Incident Conveys Warning The fact that a strong element, including the Emperor, stood for peace is encouraging to the allies. We have our warning, however, in the strength of the militarists.

There's another lesson which we shouldn't overlook, and that is the tremendous power wielded by the spiritual-temporal ruler of the empire. We already knew that his hold on his people was great, for they regard him literally as a living god. But never before has the world had such a demonstration of his influence as is shown in the sensational circumstances surrounding the battle in Tokyo over the surrender.

Only one of the league's 15 top hurlers benefitted yesterday. Liska, Portland's veteran submariner, pitched a gem.

Beavers Stretch League Lead to 7 1/2 Games (By the Associated Press) With the pennant in Portland's lap every day but mathematical, and the four top teams sure of their playoff spots, about all that remains in the last week and a half of the Pacific Coast Baseball league season is for the players to fatten their batting and pitching averages.

Fire Damage Repaired at Douglas County Mills Repairs have been made and production resumed in the feed department of the Douglas County Flour Mills, where fire Tuesday damaged the main motor earlier this week. The fire halted feed production for 48 hours, damaging the motor and a small quantity of stored feed.

Enduring Peace Demands Erasure Of Jap War Lords

By D. WITT MacKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst) A long, long line of Japanese war lords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the sooner we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the Mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb had demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon. The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the Sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itakaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the