DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Joan of Arc heard voices calling to her. In an interview with King Charles, she referred to this. Whereupon Charles, with considerable irritation, replied that the voices should come to him, the king. Joan's answer was, "They do come to you; but you do not hear them. If you prayed from your heart and listened, you would hear the voices as well as I do." There are voices we never hear except when other things are hushed. The deepest things of life do not come with an insistent blast. God speaks in a still small voice. We must listen. In spite of the comforts of our streamlined modern life, many people feel that they are missing something at the center of life. Hands are full but hearts are empty. Our day's imperative need is for the secret closet and the closed door. We must give God a chance to be heard. There are some voices we never hear until we pray from the heart, and later.

"The world is too much with us; late and soon, getting and spending, we lay waste our powers." —Wandsworth. —Amen.

Congressmen's Pension Plan Gets Committee O.K.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Legislation to provide pensions for congressmen was approved by a House Civil Service subcommittee.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Vinson, would allow congressmen and heads of executive departments to participate in the federal retirement program from which they are now excluded.

Noted Horse Dies at 30

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Exterminator, winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1918 and 49 other races in 100 starts, died at Sun Briar court yesterday. The horse, adjudged by Col. Matt Winn the greatest all-round thoroughbred in American racing history, was 30 years old.

Disposal of Slash From Logging Is Topic of Meeting

Thorough discussion of the problems of logging slash disposal featured a meeting of wardens of the Douglas Forest Protective association, logging operators and personnel from the State Department of Forestry in Roseburg Wednesday evening. Methods of burning slashings with the greatest measure of protection to surrounding timber and without danger to reproduction, were discussed in detail.

Refresher Course

ATHENS, Ga.—(AP)—An outstanding co-ed at the University of Georgia is 70-year-old Mary Guler White, a Methodist missionary to China for 42 years and the survivor of a Japanese internment camp. She's the author of two published books, and is now enrolled in a feature writing course "to shake the rust off the old pen."

Ed Schroeder, conservation assistant, reminded operators of responsibility under the conservation act, as it relates to burning.

Lee Harter, inspector for the state forester, spoke on long term planning by the operator and of the moral obligation of the operator to succeeding generations of loggers and citizens.

Fred L. Southwick, district warden, outlined the technical end of slash burning.

Eugene Peterson, district ranger of the O. and C. administration, related policies of his department concerning slash disposal.

Ray B. Hampton, fire chief of the Umpqua National forest told of innovations being used by the forest service in slash burning.

Jess Adkins, logging superintendent of the A. K. Wilson Timber company, and Jim Combs of Smith Wood Products company, spoke on long term planning of forest practices.

In addition to speakers and employees of the several agencies, those present included Sid Comfort, Harry Rogge, R. A. Brown,

Klamath Strikes Ended, No Closed Shop Proviso

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Strike settlements were effected here in three more

Klamath Lumber operations and the entire CIO shutdown here was declared officially at an end after seven weeks.

The Kesterson Lumber corporation, Ewauna Box company and Bly Logging company operations will resume work on Monday, it was announced jointly by management and union officials.

Weyerhaeuser Timber company mill and logging operations, involved in the same shutdown, resumed work today.

All of the settlements were effected with a restoration of cancelled contracts and the substitution of a new clause on union membership maintenance. Union shop, declared purpose of the strike in its early stages, was not mentioned in the agreements.

"Hang Himself" Performer Tries it Once Too Often

JASPER, Ala., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Daredevil Bruffy, billed as the "man who hangs himself and lives," tried it once too often here at the Walker County fair.

Coroner Joe Levy said the performer, whose real name was Elmer L. Bruffy, placed a rope around his neck and leaped from a swing 120 feet above the ground. His fall was arrested after a 60-foot drop, but the apparatus in the loop of the rope around his neck failed.

Schedule for Bus Line, Reedsport to Roseburg, Drawn

REEDSPORT—Officials of the Oregon division of the Pacific Greyhound Lines have submitted for approval of the San Francisco headquarters a proposed schedule for a bus line between Reedsport and Roseburg by way of Drain, the company planning to start operations in mid October for a month's trial.

It is proposed to start the bus from Reedsport about 9 A. M. daily, following arrival of the northbound bus from Coos Bay. Approximate arrivals would include: Scottsburg 9:25, Elkton 9:52, Drain 10:13 (connecting with northbound bus to Williamette valley, points and Portland), Yoncalla 10:33, Oakland 10:58, Sutherlin 11:03, Roseburg 11:25.

The return trip would leave Roseburg at 3:30 P. M., arriving at Sutherlin at 3:53, Oakland 3:58, Yoncalla 4:23, Drain 4:30, Elkton 5:01, Scottsburg 5:28, Reedsport 5:53.

The schedule would permit Reedsport residents to spend approximately four hour in Roseburg in which to transact business.

In addition to scheduled stops, flag stations would be maintained at the quarry landing, Furchard's landing, Long Prairie, Hedden landing, Brown's Hancock bridge, Oaks, Sunnydale. Regular flag stops would be observed between Drain and Roseburg.

The Reedsport Chamber of Commerce, which first filed application for the service, is active in urging liberal patronage for the bus line. If ample patronage is not obtained, the service will be halted after a month's trial. The Reedsport chamber also is suggesting use of the bus by residents between Roseburg and Drain in order to assure continuation of the extra service.

Kidnapped Co-Ed Freed After 2 Days' Captivity

SPOKANE, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A 20-year-old Washington State college co-ed and beauty contest winner told Spokane authorities she had been held captive Monday night and Tuesday by two men who struck her over the head as she was returning home from visiting a friend.

Mrs. Carl Bergquist, the former Janet Harrison of Longview, said two men wearing dark overcoats hit her with a heavy object, put a hood over her head and drove her to a room. They intended to hold her there for ransom, she told police, but late yesterday took her downtown and released her.

Treated for shock and a head injury at emergency hospital, Mrs. Bergquist said the men did not otherwise molest her.

She is a senior at Washington State and has been doing practice teaching at Lewis and Clark High school in Spokane. Her husband, Dr. Carl Bergquist, is a Spokane veterinarian.

F. R. Casualty to Long Tenure, Morse Declares

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Senator Morse of Oregon declared Friday that the late President Roosevelt was a "casualty to the long term policy."

"I believe the late president would be alive today and of great value in an advisory capacity to his party and to this government if he had served only two terms," Morse testified before a Senate Judiciary committee considering five proposals to amend the Constitution and limit presidential terms.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) endorsed a much broader amendment that would limit tenure for members of Congress as well as the president and vice-president to not more than six years.

Both Morse and Senator Capper have sponsored constitutional amendments to limit presidential tenure to two four-year terms in whole or part.

Blue Governor
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Governor Robert D. Blue has the blues again. He's house hunting—the third time since he assumed office.

The governor has been advised by his landlord, now on Okinawa, that he soon will be discharged from the service and he'll want to move into his house.
