people of these islands against Dutch rule or merely a ruckus stirred up by outs who want to get in does not yet appear.

The British, who have empire commitments of their own that vitally affect their interests, seem to be inclined to support the Dutch.

(Illustrating the difficulties which we, who have NO empire ambitions, must face in our task of getting along with the British, whose future is pretty thoroughly tied up in their empire structure.)

SOME KIND of revolution occurred in Venezuela. Again it doesn't yet appear whether it was a sincere and genuine upheaval of the people or an effort by outs to get in. It will be well to keep our fingers crossed until the picture clears a little.

THERE is strife, involving blood-letting, in Indo-China, which is a part of the French empire. There is good reason to think that the native peoples want to run their own affairs instead of having them run by far-away France.

One suspects that these trouble spots in Asia arise out of resentment of "inferior" peoples who have been bossed by supposedly "superior" peoples.

WE Americans instinctively sympathize with the desire of these peoples to run their own affairs, but we must remember that we don't know how much of the trouble is being stirred up by ambitious leaders who want personal power and who may have no conception of the responsibility that should go along with power.

We shall certainly be unwise if we jump to conclusions before we get a better picture of the facts.

ONE can't help noting that the bulk of these present trouble spots are in ASIA, rather than in Europe. That might lead us to the conclusion that Europe's troubles are nearer solved.

Not necessarily. We must remember that Europe is pretty thoroughly under the thumbs of three great military powers—the United States, Russia and Great Britain. We have great armies of occupation in Europe.

Anything that looked like an uprising there would be promptly squelched. There is no such firm control in Asia.

THE solution of all these problems, of course, is perfectly obvious. It lies in world-wide, sincere application of the principle of the Golden Rule: "Do ye unto others as ye would that others should do unto you."

Not until that principle is generally applied to the solution of human affairs will we have peace on earth, good will toward men.

THE attitude of "practical" men toward the Golden Rule is that it would be grand if it would work but that it is IMPRACTICAL.

Really, it ISN'T impractical. Sound, honest business men are coming rather generally to agree that a business contract that is FAIR TO BOTH SIDES is apt to be more profitable in the long run than a ONE-SIDED, unfair contract.

What is that, after all, but a working out in practice of the principle of the Golden Rule?

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

By Charles V. Stanton

The committee directing Roseburg's recreation program announces a "Get-Acquainted" party to be held at the armory Wednesday afternoon. This, we believe, is one of the finest activities the recreation committee, which has been performing a most efficient and important task, has undertaken to date.

It is proposed to entertain Wednesday afternoon all ladies who have become residents of the Roseburg community within the past two years. Card games will be furnished for those who care to play and other entertainment will be offered those who do not enjoy cards.

This action of the recreation committee is in keeping with Roseburg's reputation for hospitality. Roseburg always has been known as a city where no person could long be a stranger, but in recent months the population growth has been so rapid that assimilation of newcomers into our circle of friendship has not been as rapid as in days when there were fewer population changes.

The next step, after getting newcomers acquainted with one another, should be a series of progressive entertainments in which persons who have resided in Roseburg for a longer period of years may become better acquainted with the fine people who have more recently established their homes in the community.

It is more difficult for ladies to become acquainted upon moving into a new location than for men. Men quickly form new friendships through their contact with fellow workers, lodges, clubs, labor organizations, or various other means of association. But women, especially those tied to the home by the care of small children, have less opportunity for outside contacts than do their husbands and often are subject to unhappiness until new friendships can be created.

The program offered by the recreation committee should materially hasten the time when newcomers will begin to feel "established" in Roseburg. From this meeting Wednesday we may expect to be developed some neighborhood groups, and unquestionably through acquaintanceships formed at the afternoon party there will blossom close friendships which will last throughout many years to come.

Certainly nothing in the outstanding program developed by the recreation committee promises more benefit to the community or lasting results to the participating ladies. We commend the originators of this idea and express gratitude on behalf of the Roseburg community to the few who will be in charge of the actual arrangements and the detailed work involved in preparing and presenting the entertainment. Nothing could be more typical of Roseburg's hospitality nor more important in promoting greater happiness among our new residents.

We would urge that all ladies eligible to attend plan to be present. We hope further that the community will express its approval of the recreation committee's action by furnishing funds with which this program may be further developed during the months ahead.

This Is Oregon Safety Week

The week from October 22 to 27, inclusive, has been designated as Oregon Safety Week. We have so many special weeks and days throughout the year that few of them attract any particular interest. But when 95,000 persons are killed in this country in one year alone, as was the case during the past year, we believe Safety Week deserves more than mere passing interest.

Yet, despite the fact that there were 95,000 deaths in 1944 from accidents, the number was a decrease of four per cent from 1943.

Coupled with the deaths were almost ten million injuries of which 340,000 left victims permanently crippled. Economic loss to the nation is estimated at $4,900,000,000—almost five billion dollars.

A few of these accidents possibly were unavoidable, but by far the greater number could have been prevented through exercise of care and caution. Oregon Safety Week is designed to make us stop and think for a moment of the need for accident prevention, with the hope that we will put its lessons into practice throughout the remaining weeks of the year.

Famous Russian Chorus Will Be Heard In Roseburg

The Don Cossacks, famous Russian male chorus, will be one of the coming attractions to be enjoyed by the membership of the Roseburg Community Concert Association this year, according to an announcement made at the annual workers' banquet held last night at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Linnapa. The banquet officially opened the 1945-46 membership campaign and was attended by officers, committee chairmen and campaign workers.

Miss Gladys H. Strong, president, welcomed the group and acted as mistress of ceremonies, introducing Mrs. Paul Geddes, Father William Coughlan and Louis J. Fullerton, who gave short talks regarding concerts being presented in Roseburg.

El Story, representative for Columbia Concerts Inc., was introduced and gave a talk outlining the week's campaign for members. Mr. Story will be at the headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce office from 10 to 5 beginning today until 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 27, when the campaign will officially close for the season. All members and those desiring to obtain new memberships and unable to contact one of the workers, are requested to call at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The association is a non-profit organization. All officers, committee chairman and workers assist without compensation. The organization was formed for the purpose of bringing outstanding artists to Roseburg in concert. Three concerts are guaranteed yearly and so far the Roseburg association has been able to sponsor four concerts both years since its organization. The association is open to everyone in the county and the membership includes both adults and students.

Joe Lynam Victor Over Jones in 2 Straight Falls

PORTLAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Joe Lynam defeated Rufus Jones in two straight falls to score one of the season's top mat upsets last night.

Lynam won the opening fall on a disqualification, when Jones—struck the referee, Jones had Lynam on the floor, and was continuing to butt after his opponent had submitted. The referee jerked him off, and he countered with a butt in the referee's eye. Lynam won the second fall with an uppercut and a body press.

Partnership?

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Jeff Woods, veteran livestock dealer, is nursing a lively sore jaw and a very suspicious nature in a hospital room here. Woods thinks maybe the mule that kicked him may have some kind of a "working agreement" with his former owner.

"The mule," Woods said, "proved faithful to his old boss—an undertaker."

Women Urged By Pope Pius to Take Part in Politics

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Pope Pius urged in a Sunday radio broadcast that Catholic women actively participate in a political life to meet a challenge which he said for a long time past, "has been evolving in a manner unfavorable to the real welfare of the family and women."

In concessions made to women by some political movements, the pontiff said, "one can easily see, not respect for her dignity, or her mission, but an attempt to foster economic and military power of the totalitarian state."

He particularly exhorted war widows to answer the militant call for their energies resulting from "new needs created by the entry of women into civil and political life."

"The electoral ballot in the hands of the Catholic woman is an important means toward the fulfillment of her strict duty in conscience, especially at the present time," the pope told a general audience of 1,000 women in the speech broadcast by Vatican radio.

"No wise woman favors a policy of class struggle or war," he declared. "Her vote is a vote for peace."

The pope foresaw a particularly important position for women in "those matters which call for the delicacy of maternal instinct rather than administrative rigidity."

He emphasized that everything really good in mankind benefits by the results of an orderly family life, which the young become accustomed to looking up to as a "holy ideal."

Cpl. W. R. Russell of Field Artillery Returning

WITH THE 24th INFANTRY (VICTORY) DIVISION ON MINDANAO — Corporal Walter R. Russell, whose wife, Mrs. Elsie Russell, resides at 1301 Winchester street, Roseburg, Oregon, is returning to the United States under the Army's demobilization plan after serving overseas with the 52nd Field Artillery battalion of this division.

The battalion was on Oahu when the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor. It fought in New Guinea, Leyte, Luzon and, most recently, on Mindanao. Landing at Parang on April 17, the battalion followed close on the heels of the 24th division's hard-fighting infantrymen who drove across the island in the record time of 17 days to blast the Japs from their final bastion in the Philippines.

DIAL-LOG

Probably all of you know by now that Commander Scott will not be in town, as previously scheduled. Postponement of the bus depot opening, "due to circumstances beyond control" (which we won't go into here) cancels the personal appearance of your favorite story-teller. Perhaps he will be able to visit us at a later date.

For tonight remember to tune Music You Remember at 6:15 and Snapshots at 8:30. There's good music, too, on Clara's Review now. Annaloris presides at the piano and, in addition to the small guests, always has some special tunes for you. Fulton Lewis at 9:45 tonight and opera at 10; it's "Salome" tonight.

Tomorrow morning there is plenty of entertainment for you. We call your attention especially to "Queen for a Day," from 11:30 to noon. If you haven't heard it yet, be sure to tune it in tomorrow, A. M. It's guaranteed entertainment. We don't often crawl out that far on the limb, but this is one show that has almost everything including a lot of laughs. Also for your listening pleasure there is "Take It Easy Time" at 8:30 and Morton Downey at 9:15, plus good old mountain music at 10:30, with the Mentholatum Mountaineers. Also—make a note to listen to Bert Wheeler on the Fresh Up Show tomorrow evening. He's having trouble with his Community Chest drive, too.

Oregon Colleges Urge Federal Help To House Students

PORTLAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The State Board of Higher Education will ask National Housing Authorities to speed transfer of surplus war housing to Oregon college campuses, Board President Willard L. Marks said today.

Marks reported the move was suggested by Governor Snell as the only apparent means of providing immediate housing for war veterans, particularly married servicemen, already overtaxing the state's colleges.

Dr. Charles D. Byrne, board secretary, left today for Washington, D. C., to take up the proposal with housing officials after Governor Snell talked to them by telephone, Marks said.

The board reported 40 NYA housing units at Skinner Butte near the University of Oregon campus have been available on lease for war veterans' families. Married veterans at the Eastern Oregon College of Education at La Grange will be able to use 40 units of a war housing community opposite the campus, Marks stated.

Meanwhile emergency quarters for 40 women at the Eugene campus have been approved on the third floor of Gerlinger hall. Remodeling of Villard hall to accommodate 80 men is also scheduled.

The war housing units must be provided without expense to the state, Marks said, although cost of transporting and erecting them at Corvallis and Eugene will be borne by the Department of Education.
