likely either to become accustomed to American occupation and completely dependent on us OR resentment against alien rule will have time to flower into open rebellion.

MANY Japanese, he says, view the future of their country darkly. He adds that "a few express the hope that American occupation will last MANY YEARS, regarding it as a shield against further disaster."

Babb says "Americans and Japanese agree that thus far there has been 100% compliance with the series of hard-hitting directives issued from Mac-Arthur's headquarters. The initial occupation was completely blood-less. There have been no subsequent instances of revolt against American control. There is no evidence of any underground in the making."

ON the whole, the picture he paints is a pleasing one, leading us to hope that our job in Japan will be neither as long nor as difficult and costly as we had feared. It holds out to us at least the possibility of a demilitarized and peaceful Japan that will be a customer rather than an enemy.

IT is worth while to contrast this optimistic estimate of the Japanese problem with a much more pessimistic summing up of the European situation just made by Professor Vincent Harlow, of London, who writes on world affairs under the pen name of "Veritas."

Professor Harlow says:
"Europe is in imminent danger of COLLAPSE, and if that happens the whole concept of a world system to insure security and promote the well-being of mankind as a whole will fall apart."

"What confronts us now (in Europe) is the rapid DISSOLU-TION of the greater part of a civilized continent into a FORM-LESS MASS of humanity, drifting toward destruction by starvation and epidemic disease. Nothing like it has been seen before because, although Europe is reproducing the sort of breakdown which frequently occurred in the ancient world, this time it is happening after modern science has hooked every branch of the human race together."

WHY this mess in Europe?

Well, in substance and in a great many large words, Professor Harlow tells us it is because Germany, after being thoroughly beaten in war, is being ADMINISTERED by four nations, all of which have particular interests of their own to serve —interests that OVERRIDE the common purpose of demilitarizing Germany and making her a USEFUL member of the society of nations.

He adds:

"As so often happens, an arrangement made in the flux of war has hardened into a system which almost amounts to the partition of Germany into four self-contained compartments."

HE cites an example of how this works.

He says the food situation in lower Austria is catastrophic — which no one who has seen it will doubt. He relates that in one case several trainloads of horses (horse meat is a standard article of European diet) were taken from Carinthia, where there are too many horses for the available grazing, for export to lower

CLEAN UP OUR FORESTS

By Charles V. Stanton

A special committee recently appointed by Governor Earl Snell to investigate methods of improving Oregon's forest protective system, last week held a public hearing in Roseburg and secured many valuable suggestions. The committee was organized after the State Department of Forestry had been severely criticized for inability to halt the fire which raged through thousands of acres in the Tillamook area. It was contended that precautions should have been taken to prevent a blaze of such magnitude. It has been demanded that a more adequate protective system be established.

The need for better protection is not confined to the Tillamook burn. Douglas county, for instance, has areas equally hazardous—more hazardous, in fact, because we have at least 30 more days in our fire season. We have the Tioga burn, the Smith River burn, Beaver Creek burn, the latter being within the national forest, and numerous smaller spots where we are trying to bring about reforestation following disastrous forest fires.

These sections are filled with weather-beaten, rotting snags—which become flaming torches, hurling sparks and embers over long distances when struck by lightning—down timber, heavy undergrowth, dense fern patches.

Everyone will agree that snags should be removed, down timber cleared away, fire breaks built, good roads and trails constructed to facilitate movement of fire fighting crews and equipment. But where is the money to come from to make such improvements? That is the question puzzling the governor's special committee.

It would require an army of men and hundreds of thousands of dollars to clean up even a medium sized burn, particularly after it has been neglected for a few years. Undoubtedly we can provide a measure of protection by dividing burned over areas into checkerboard pattern through construction of fire breaks, with the hope of keeping a fire confined to a few acres. But when a forest fire, on a hot, dry day can hurl burning embers for many miles, such control methods do not offer too much promise.

We would like to see the State of Oregon subsidize a program of salvage and clean-up until the activity can be turned over to free enterprise. It might cost a considerable amount of money at the start, but it would, we believe, prove profitable over a period of years.

We believe the state could well afford to set up a number of small operations to follow cutting crews in the woods; utilizing discarded large branches and tree tops for ties, cross arms, two-by-fours, step rizers, fuel, pulp wood, etc.
Cleaning up behind logging operations would prevent many forest fires.

Small portable outfits, capable of doing this type of work, also could be sent into areas hit by forest fires to salvage a large amount of small-sized lumber from snags, down logs, etc., cleaning up the litter to such an extent that succeeding fires could be more easily controlled.

Wood waste utilization is now being given much experimental study. Laboratories are endeavoring to formulate cleanup methods. But we believe technical procedure could be worked out more advantageously in actual practice than on drawing boards. American ingenuity, aided by laboratory research into methods of utilization, could, undoubtedly, develop profitable operation in the field.

With existing equipment and methods, the type of cleanup suggested would not be profitable. It would be necessary for the state to subsidize the activity until profitable procedure could be devised. But at the same time the state would be providing jobs, could offer opportunities to returning service men, would be providing more complete protection for forests, and speeding reproduction.

Governor Snell has been interested in a rehabilitation program for wayward boys—something better than our obsolete system of training schools. The pattern sponsored by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the days before the war has been suggested. The state might do well, perhaps, to consider an experiment with forest cleanup and boys camps at the same time.

Austria, which has more grazing than livestock.

But when the horses arrived at the zone border they were NOT ALLOWED TO CROSS.
You can't cure starvation that way.

IN Japan, we have been running the show ALONE. Having licked the Japs completely, our sole job it to make them over into an UNWARLIKE people capable of supporting themselves by peaceful pursuits. We haven't had to COMPROMISE this worthy objective because of CON-FLICTING interests of other powers.

RUSSIA wants, or professes to want (she may be using it merely as a trading stock) a finger in the Jap pie. If we are wise and far-seeing, we will do well to insist that since we carried the bulk of the load of licking the Jap militarists we will go on and complete the job of making over

Of Success in 4-H

Bill Matthews, the winner of an all-expense paid trip to the National 4-H club congress in Chicago December 26, told Lions club members how he has developed his 4-H program and increased his projects until his investment in livestock and equipment exceeds $2,500. Bill told the club members at their regular meeting last Thursday how he started out with two bumper lambs and has continued on until now he has 470 head of poultry and sold hatching eggs and fryers for an income of around $1,000 this last year. His trip to Chicago was won for having the outstanding poultry project in the state.

Kenneth Minnick, county club agent, talked on the achievements of 4-H club members in the county and showed motion pictures of 4-H projects in Douglas county last year. There are more than 1,100 4-H club members in the county, with a valuation of projects in excess of $19,000 Minnick reported.

Lt. Ed Wyatt Survives
Deadly Okinawa Typhoon

Word has just been received from Lt. Ed Wyatt, above, who has been in charge of one of the Navy landing craft at Okinawa, that he survived the terrific typhoon unharmed, and that it was the fifth of these wild Pacific storms that he has weathered during his service with the Navy.

Lt. Wyatt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wyatt of Roseburg, who formerly lived at Winchester. He has just received orders to report back to a naval station in the United States. He is going to Japan for a few days with his ship before turning his command over to his successor and starting for home. How long it will be before he arrives will depend on whether he is returned by plane or on a ship but it will be only a matter of weeks.

Lt. Wyatt entered the Navy as an ensign after graduating from the University of Oregon where in his senior year he was physical education instructor in swimming.

Wright, the latter of Days Creek, will both attend the National Club Congress as a result of their outstanding 4-H work. Maxine will have all expenses paid by the Kerr Glass company, and Bill's trip will be paid for by Swift and Company. This is the first time two Douglas county 4-H members have attended the National Congress the same year.

Hiring Rate in Nation Takes Upward Turn

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—
The Bureau of Labor Statistics, reporting that 1,400,000 workers were laid off in September, said the number was 1,000,000 less than in August and that hiring turned upward.

The hiring rate for September was placed at 73 per 1,000 workers, the highest since June, 1944.
In August it had been 59 per 1,000.

BLS said the increase resulted chiefly from a 40 per cent boost in the hiring rate for the so-called munitions industries. Many munitions plants had completed reconversion and were ready to produce new products, the agency said, while workers were rehired by some plants which found they still had war contracts to complete.

Sutherland High,

Play Scoreless Tie

The Sutherland High school's Buildings and the Roseburg High school sophomores played a 0 to 0 tie in a football game on Finlay field Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday's game was Sutherland's first attempt at 11-man football, although a six-man team has participated in county B league competition. Sutherland had a considerable weight advantage in the line, pivoted on Rehwall, 6-foot 7-inch, 278-pound center. Both teams penetrated on several occasions into scoring position, but neither was able to muster strength to break through goal line defense. Plans were tentatively made for another game Nov. 20.

U. S. Imposes 3 Provisos
For Albania Recognition

The United States has offered to recognize the provisional government of Albania under three considerations. One of which is news freedom for American reporters in that country.
The reporters would have to be assured of an opportunity to cover forthcoming elections and the constituent assembly to follow.

The two other assurances required by the United States are that the elections "shall be held on a genuinely free basis, with secret ballot and with no threats or intimidations," and that "all democratic individuals and groups in Albania shall enjoy freedom of speech and the right lawfully to present and support their candidates."
