Reedsport Auto Hit by Gondola Car

REEDSPORT—Mr. and Mrs. Earle Sanborn narrowly escaped serious injury here Tuesday night when their automobile was demolished when struck by a gondola being switched on an S. P. siding at the unprotected street crossing near the depot on Winchester avenue. Mr. Sanborn is local manager for Schafer Brothers Shingle company. Both Mr. Sanborn and his wife escaped with minor injuries. The dangerous condition of Reedsport grade crossings has resulted in several protests and requests from the City Council, Chamber of Commerce and other groups to the railroad company and highway department for protective devices.

In Friday night's accident it was reported that the car was shunted through the crossing without a brakeman aboard and with no signalman at the crossing. As the accident occurred after dark, occupants were unable to see the car as they drove onto the tracks, according to the report given police.

Work Permit Law Cited by School Superintendent

Warnings to Douglas county children under the age of 18, who are not now attending school, to get work permits from the State Labor commission before becoming employed, have been issued by Mrs. Lula C. Gorrell, county school superintendent.

Under the compulsory school attendance law, amended by the 1945 legislature, all persons under 18 are required to be in school unless they have completed the 12th grade.

Penalties for parents who fail to comply with this law, range from fines of not less than five dollars nor more than $100, to imprisonment for not less than two days nor more than 300 days, or by both fine and imprisonment. For employers who hire children without necessary labor commission permits, the penalties are fines that range from $10 to $25.

Several who have appeared before the Douglas County Non-High School board have been excused from school attendance, pending the securing of a work permit from the State Labor commission in Salem.

Those who have failed to secure such permits, Mrs. Gorrell stated, will be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Nation's Turkey Crop 22 Pct. Above 1944 Total

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Tom turkey, absent from many of the nation's holiday festive boards in wartime, will be available in large quantities as the piece de resistance for the first peacetime Thanksgiving dinner in four years.

There are millions of turkeys—this year's enlarged crop totaled 44,160,000—and there will be plenty available in almost every section of the country for next Thursday's holiday feast. The crop is 22 per cent greater than a year ago and 44 per cent more than the 10-year average.

DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Some people have been deeply concerned over the fact that the Constitution of the United States contains no recognition of God. Some even go so far as to declare that they can take no part as citizens of the nation in its political life because of such lack of religious declaration. Most Christian people however feel strongly that such a question is a distinctly minor one. The really important thing is not what formal declarations are made but what Christian principles find expression in the life of the nation. If such Christian ideals find no strong embodiment in the life of the nation, a formal expression of Christian belief as stated in the Nicene Creed would be of no importance whatever. Consider then, what features of government and life in the United States are in part at least definitely Christian in their nature and effect. There are many such features no matter how keenly we may feel some aspects of our national life may be lacking in Christian characteristics. "Blessed is the nation where God is the Lord." —Amen.

Forest Work Animals Get Winter Pasture

Almost 20 head of government horses and mules were delivered this week to the ranch of Reuben Johnson on North Deer creek, for winter pastorage.

The animals were taken to the ranch, formerly that of the late Douglas Waite, by Dale Bonney of the North Umpqua ranger district and Elmer Slatby of the Diamond Lake ranger district.

For the past several years, the animals have been pastured near the Illabebe guard station on hay produced by the forest service. Hay production this year, however, has been inadequate to feed the animals properly throughout the entire winter.

School Superintendent Completes Long Trip

County School Superintendent Mrs. Lula C. Gorrell returned from an inspection trip to the coast this week, during which she traveled 267 miles to visit the schools of Reedsport, Gardiner and districts nearby.

She was unable to visit Victor Boyd, an old-timer in Douglas county, who teaches at Five Mile school north of Gardiner, because heavy rain had made the trip over narrow roads extremely dangerous. Boyd's school has only four pupils.

Consumers must sign the coupons with name and number of ration book 4 before presenting them to dealers to be honored, Mrs. Leo reminded.
