broadmindedness on the part of communist Russia. It would further indicate (if true) that in spite of much mutual suspicion we and the Russians are beginning to find a way to get along together.

SCARCELY, however, had the teletype ticked off this seemingly good (though unofficial) news when it began to rattle again—this time announcing that Patrick Hurley has RESIGNED as U. S. minister to China and says in a hot statement that American foreign policy in Asia has FAILED.

He lays the blame for the alleged failure on the "lower echelons" of our professional diplomats—who, he charges, have succeeded in messing up our well-meant efforts to get the Chinese factions together and (presumably with the consent of Russia) prevent disastrous civil war.

HURLEY says in his statement: "It is no secret that the American policy in China did not have the support of all the career men in the State department. The professional foreign service men sided with the CHINESE COMMUNIST party and the IMPERIALIST BLOCK of nations whose policy it was to KEEP CHINA DIVIDED AGAINST HERSELF."

He adds: "Our professional diplomats continuously advised the COMMUNISTS that my efforts in preventing the collapse of the national (Chungking) government did NOT represent the policy of the United States.

These same professionals openly advised the Communist armed party to decline unification of the Chinese Communist army with the national army unless the Chinese Communists were given control."

THE whole affair may be a tempest in a teapot, Hurley may just be resigning in a huff because he couldn't have his way and giving out a statement blistering his opponents. Such things often happen in diplomatic circles.

But the whole off ag'in-ag'in course of developments in China suggests disturbingly that he may be right and that our State department policy makers in China are divided among themselves—resulting in encouragement of first one Chinese faction and then another.

THERE are similarly disturbing developments in the Dutch East Indies, where the native rebels issue an appeal to "all the peoples of the earth" to "restrain the British from converting Indonesia into another Manchuria for the BENEFIT OF THE DUTCH."

SIMULTANEOUSLY, a Russian radio commentary in Moscow accuses the British of breaking a promise in using troops to crush the local "movement of liberation" in Indonesia and adds: "British authorities first declared their objective (in Java) was to disarm and evacuate Japanese troops and not to interfere with internal affairs, but they are now FIGHTING BATTLES and the Dutch authorities are banking on them to restore pre-war DUTCH domination."

In America, such a statement by a radio commentator would mean nothing at all, but in Russia no broadcaster would dare to make such a statement without the consent and perhaps the PROMPTING of the Kremlin. In other words, Russia is probably

WHO WON WHAT?

By Charles Y. Stanton

There is every prospect that the A. F. of L. lumber strike will end soon, with unions accepting the compromise wage boost of 15 cents per hour instead of 20 cents as demanded.

The Salem Capital Journal reports that "wages lost by the 60,000 workers totalled $2,732,000 (per week) or $24,588,000 for the nine weeks strike and it will take them nearly six years to make up their losses and catch up with the pay checks."

Losses to workers do not include all of the strike cost. Business also takes the rap.

Here in Roseburg, for instance, we have several industrial supply companies. These concerns report business at a virtual standstill since the mills were closed September 24. We have a number of firms handling logging and transport machinery and equipment. They, too, have been marking time since the strike was called.

The situation, however, is not as dark as it looks, and we doubt if the loss does amount to $3 million, because of the fact that a large majority of strikers have been employed at temporary work and have not been entirely unproductive. But, on the other hand, there has been a loss of many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Furthermore, Roseburg's progress has been most seriously handicapped. We have an acute housing shortage. Business and industry are severely handicapped because homes cannot be obtained for additional employees or for workers needed on construction jobs.

Workers will increase their pay 15 cents per hour, but it will take them many months to offset the losses they have experienced.

About the only profit we can see from the nine weeks strike has been the saving of face by labor leaders, who continued to draw high salaries while the men they were charged to protect took the financial beating.

Had the A. F. L. prolonged negotiations without a strike, it is quite possible that a work shutdown could have been avoided and losses to workmen, business, industry and community development avoided.

There can be no quarrel with a JUSTIFIED strike. If strikes are necessary to bring stubborn management into line in keeping with maintenance of living standards, then financial losses must be accepted as an inevitable result of the controversy.

Health-Medical Plan of Truman Rapped by Journal

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Calling for defeat of President Truman's proposed health and medical program, the Journal of the American Medical Association asserts editorially it would put "the medical profession and the sick whom they treat" directly under political control.

THE measure would "destroy the private practice of medicine," place the medical profession "under the direction of one man," enforce hospitalization provisions to "destroy the voluntary hospital system," and require people to "take any doctor the surgeon general tells them to."

THE measure was further assailed by the journal as an "at-tempt to enslave medicine as first among the professions; in-duce and trade to be socialized." The editorial continues: "Let the people of our country realize that the movement for placing of American medicine under the control of the federal government through a system of federal compulsory sickness insurance is the first step toward a regimentation of utilities, of industries, of finance and eventually of labor itself."

ARE we HELPING to save the Dutch empire? What IS our foreign policy? What are we driving at? It is all beginning to look confusing and alarming to the common, ordinary citizen, who is told NOTHING AT ALL.

THE Pearl Harbor mess, with all the seeming effort to COVER UP SOMETHING, doesn't make the average uninformed citizen any easier in his mind.

Atrocity Movies Shown at Trial Of Nazi Gangsters

NUERNBERG, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Ghastly scenes of Nazi concentration camps were shown in motion pictures yesterday at the International Military Tribunal.

The grisly pictures of mass murder sobered Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering and others of the score of defendants who had grinned and laughed earlier as an American prosecutor disclosed the threats, bluffs and deceit with which Hitler softened up Austria for an unopposed invasion.

Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's "financial wizard," sat with his back to the screen, refusing to look at the official U. S. Army film. Franz von Papen, once Germany's wildest diplomat, refused to glance at the screen but could not shut out the sound of the narrator's voice describing the deaths of thousands of Nazi victims.

Rudolf Hess, on the other hand, showed an interest in the trial for the first time. Hitler's one-time deputy, who is trying to escape from the trial on a plea of lost memory, followed the uncensored film closely.

Goering also watched the screen intently. Cold, aloof Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, German Navy commander-in-chief, glanced at the screen only occasionally. Blame Hits Goering. Fat and not-too-happy Goering was described as the man who directed by telephone the blitz invasion of Austria after Austrian Nazis paved the way by deposing Chancellor Schuschnigg.

Goering became serious as assistant Prosecutor Sidney W. Alderman read in detail transcripts of telephone conversations between Goering and Austrian Nazis on the days before and on the days of the unopposed invasion.

Many of the telephone conversations with Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Austrian Nazi leader and one of Goering's top defendants. The prosecution said the records clearly disclosed Nazi plotting to absorb Austria into the Reich.

Transcriptions of the telephone conversations disclosed Goering succeeded in having Seyss-Inquart installed as Austria's chancellor by threats and dictated the telegram in which German troops were invited by Seyss-Inquart into Austria in the Anschluss coup.
