Britain's Aid Pledge to Poland

NUERNBERG, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Britain's pledge to aid Poland in the event of hostilities delayed start of World War II seven days as Hitler unsuccessfully tried to keep the British neutral, according to a statement by Hermann Goering filed at the war crimes trial today.

Goering, one of the 20 Nazi leaders on trial, said Hitler originally had planned to invade Poland Aug. 25, 1939, but held up his attack until Sept. 1 while his diplomats sparred to try to "eliminate British intervention."

The Goering statement said Britain's signing of the Polish assistance pact on Aug. 25 made Hitler pause. The reichsmarshal added that he had been in secret contact with Lord Halifax, then British foreign minister, "to do everything to stop war with England."

Interrupted Wire Service Restored

Spasmodic interruption of telegraph service to the south was reported today by L. R. Coles, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company here.

Forty poles were reported down in the Mt. Shasta area, Cole said. Lines were out from 1:30 Tuesday until 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Service has been regular since with only minor interruptions. Several poles near Eugene were reported down.

A telegram expected last night at the new Greyhound station, from San Francisco, giving the mileage of a tire on display, failed to arrive, but was delivered this morning Coles said.

The California-Oregon Power company, restoring service this morning on its 125,000-volt transmission line to Coos Bay, H. C. Wells, manager, reported. Other service was briefly interrupted when a tree fell across a power line south of Cottage Grove.
