

Jackson, Mask to Headline Card in Grudge Combat

One of the most outstanding wrestling programs in the history of the Roseburg Armory has been lined up for Saturday by Promoter Don Owen. Besides the grudge match between Bulldog Jackson and the Gray Mask, previously announced, Owen has signed Joe Lynam, newly crowned Pacific Coast junior heavyweight champion, for a non-title bout against Angelo Martinielli.

Lynam annexed the title recently in a thrilling battle with Jack Lipscomb, the hated Hoosier Hot Shot, who had held the crown for many months. The match Saturday night between Lynam and Martinielli should provide fans with one of the best exhibitions of scientific wrestling skill ever shown here. Martinielli, the Toledo, Ohio, flash, is one of the best grapplers ever to show here but may lack some of the speed and agility that Lynam possesses.

The grudge battle between Bulldog Jackson and the Gray Mask should be an interesting affair to put it mildly. The comical Bulldog has sworn vengeance for an earlier painful licking suffered at the hands of either the head of the Gray Mask. Jackson's face was cut so badly by the head-butts of the hooded villain that the match had to be stopped.

The slow healing cuts have kept the Bulldog out of action in several matches since then. He has put up $100 as a guarantee of his appearance. He has said that he would not assist his customary comical tactics and would be all business against the Mask.

Vinson Raps Plan To Link Army, Navy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Adoption of President Truman's recommendation for unification of the armed forces would "sink the navy," Rep. Vinson, chairman of the House Naval Committee, declared yesterday.

"The very phraseology of the scheme," Vinson said, "smacked of the Germany of the Kaiser and of Hitler; of Japanese militarism. It is a frightening manifestation of military power-politics which we would view with suspicion and dismay if it were introduced in any of our sister democracies."

"If the burdens of watching over our national security establishment are too much for the president as commander in chief—and that is the suggestion in the president's message—I prefer an elected, rather than an appointed, deputy commander in chief. I am unwilling to risk the future of this country without some voice in the selection of the man to make decisions."

Oregon Prep Basketball Tourney Dated at Salem

PORTLAND, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The Oregon State prep basketball tournament was set today for March 12-16 at Salem.

Oregon High School Activities Association, which announced the date, said the tourney would be held either at Willamette University gym or the State Fair-ground pavilion.

The state tourney for "B" schools is already slated for Arlington, Ore., March 5-7.

MEDFORD, Ore., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Three games on the Medford High basketball schedule have been dropped because of colds and influenza, officials said today.

Medford called off games to night and tomorrow with North Bend and Coos Bay, and Albany canceled its December 27 game here.

Coach Al Simpson was reported among those ill.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Shoemaker of Roseburg have received word from their youngest son, Robert, who is a T-5 in the U. S. ### Roseburg Indians Beaten by Weed 'A' At Grants Pass Roseburg's Indians tasted defeat again last night as they lost by one point in their game against the Weed, Calif., "A" in the Rogue Valley Invitational Basketball Tournament at Grants Pass. The score was 35-34.

Three Douglas County High Schools are participating in the Grants Pass series. Included in yesterday's games were Reedport vs. Medford and Glendale vs. Prospect, which Glendale took by default, 2-0, since Prospect failed to show up. These were in addition to the Roseburg-Weed tilt.

The California eagres generally made a poor showing. Both of Eureka's squads and one of Weed's went down to defeat by Oregon hoopsters.

Klamath Falls scored the highest, dousing Eureka's "B" team 63-22. Cottage Grove laced Eureka's "A" squad, 40-23. Grants Pass defeated Weed "B" boys, 32-23. California schools entered both "A" and "B" teams in the "A" division of the tourney.

In the "B" division of the tournament for small schools and junior squads, the Grants Pass Wildcats downed Kerby, 27-23; Grants Pass Junior Varsity stopped Central Point, 29-24; Reedport walloped Medford "B" boys, 55-14.

WE SEND AN OREGON "Christmas Card" TO THE NATION...

We selected Oregon's mountain playgrounds as a seasonally appropriate subject this month in The Oregonian's national advertising series.

Climate and geologic advantages which give the Oregon Country year-round recreational outlets, provide more than just pleasure and health in the out-of-doors. They form the basis for a tourist trade that is Oregon's third largest business.

This message is one of many The Oregonian has placed in such magazines as Time, Business Week and Editor & Publisher to stress this area's industrial and market advantages. Since the purpose of such advertising is to benefit the entire region, we thought you'd be interested in what we are doing.

A WHITE CHRISTMAS —OR A GREEN CHRISTMAS

thrill to world-famous slopes and jumping hills. And in the same vicinity are gentle, open slopes for the beginner. In summer, Mount Hood terrain is taken over by horseback riders, fishermen, golfers and climbers. Timberline is only one example in the remarkable climate "selectivity" that helps make Oregon an ideal vacation land—and creates a tourist business out-ranked only by our $280,000,000 agricultural income and our $238,000,000 lumber industry.

You can go skiing or pick roses in Oregon at Christmas time. Snow is a rarity in a vast area of Oregon's western valleys, warmed by prevailing westerly winds from the Pacific ocean. But there are easily reached, mile-high snow playfields in all-year recreational areas of mountain ranges which shelter this fertile garden. Outstanding is $1,000-foot Mount Hood, one of above sea level on 11,245-foot Mount Hood, from America's most climbed and most skied glacial peaks. Here the winter sports season lasts nine months, from November to July. This massive, hospitable lodge of native boulders and woods is only 63 miles from metropolitan Portland, where roses are in bloom at Christmas. Spectacular natural ski courses, rivaling those in the Alps, surround the lodge's mile-long ski chair, then riding fast trails downhill to Government Camp at 3500 feet. Here are difficult tournament trails—some as long as four miles—for expert skiers. Slalom starts and jumps
