GIs Drafted Same Time Discharged Together

Two Douglas County youths drafted together into the Army four years ago were home again as civilians this week. They met quite by chance at the Fort Lewis separation center after one, Carl Fair, had seen service in the European theater, and the other, Albert Stone, had been to the South Pacific. They were discharged the same day and returned together.

Argument, Sentiment, Comment

By HARRIS ELLSWORTH

Congressman, Fourth Oregon District

In last week's letter, I mentioned the efforts being made to secure additional supplies of protein meal for Oregon agriculture, and the hope that meal processors might respond without the necessity of regulatory measures. I have been advised by the Department of Agriculture that the processors have formed a pool and have agreed to ship to Oregon 2,000 additional tons of soy and linseed meal during December.

This quality, along with tonnage already shipped during December, will compare more than favorably with the total quantities received by Oregon last year.

The 79th Congress will be in recess between sessions until January 14. By working long hours, most of the pending legislation which was ready for action on the floor, was disposed of before adjournment. In January, several outstandingly important and highly controversial pieces of legislation will doubtless come out of committee and reach the floor. These include peacetime military training, the unification of the armed forces, and quite likely, some labor legislation.

month by 52 applicants, it was announced today.

Herbert W. McIntosh, secretary of the Oregon Board of Accountancy, said 23 failed the exam and 14 passed in some subjects.

Successful candidates: Frank H. Elsemann, Ruth O. Felton, Chester A. Hostetler, Robert C. Hull, Ruth C. Jeschard, Willard A. Johnson, William A. King, and Richard H. Pursifull, all Portland; Donald S. Deremer and Leonard L. Rav Jr., Eugene.
