DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

What reflections one may see in a face. A face has the power of expressing and revealing the inner thoughts of one's soul. The face is the supreme vehicle of revelation. It is the outward expression of one's individuality. In every country there have been some few men who have known God, but He was not fully known until the coming of the Christ. Revelation truly dawned as men beheld the face of Jesus Christ. It was easy to see God in the face of Jesus. When He healed the suffering, patiently endured insults and died upon the cross. When Thomas saw Him after the resurrection, he exclaimed, "My Lord and my God." Jesus was divinity made flesh. Those who saw Him said He was full of grace and truth. He was the wisdom of the ages that became living reality. Face saw the glory of God in His face. The reflections in His face are all that we need for life and eternity. My face speaks the true language of my heart, "for as a man thinketh in his heart so is he."—Amekn.

Manila Leads Oriental Spots In Postwar gaiety, Business Revival Despite War Ravages

By HAL BOYLE
MANILA, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Manila is the biggest boom town in the Orient. It is a combination of Tombstone, Ariz., and Missouri county fairs. There is so much traffic—still predominantly Army vehicles—that it takes three military police at some intersections to break up the jams.

Crews are steadily at work on road repairs but Manila streets are tougher than Tokyo's when shell craters fill up with water. It takes an amphibious duck to plow through them. The natives say it never rains here at this season of the year but the sun hasn't poked its head out of the storm clouds more than an hour or two in eight days.

Little has been done yet to repair Manila's pock-marked face. Ruins sag under climbing vegetation in the heart of the city. Rough wooden buildings reminiscent of frontier western towns are springing up everywhere. They serve an urgent temporary need but if allowed to remain on a permanent basis it may take the Philippine capital decades instead of years to regain its old leisurely beauty.

You can still see traces of its former charm among dwellings and public buildings blasted into all but shapeless chunks of concrete and rusted iron girders.

Gaiety In Fast Tempo
For all the shattering destruction wrought here, however, there is more life and feeling of activity than in any city in the Far East with the possible exception of Shanghai. Much of this business boom is based on the dollars of free-spending American soldiers and sailors. Half of Manila seems to be earning its living keeping the military entertained and there remains the question of what will happen when the rest of the troops move out and homeward. Manila's two main streets—the Escolta and Rizal Avenue—have gone completely honky-tonk in the kind of commercial chop stony that finds souvenir stores, photo galleries and blaring night clubs shouldering for space. There is a snack shop in the American Hardware building and a variety show in the staid, former Philippine Bank of Commerce. The Escolta once was Manila's Fifth Avenue.

Now it's an alcoholic razzle-dazzle complex with bar girls, tinpan pianos and one piece shot whiskey. But the streets are crowded with shoppers and spenders and everybody seems happy and hopeful in this brave new world of peace.

Prices Drop Steadily
American-made goods are pouring in and every day sees more on the shelves. Kentucky bourbon was scarce at $40 a quart last August. Now it's plentiful at $7.50. All prices are dropping steadily. Most stores are miniature department stores, stock everything they can buy. One hole in the wall, for instance, had souvenir shoes, Philippine Panama hats, liquor, new women's cosmetics and American catmeal. The oatmeal sold for 50 cents a large package and you could have your watch wrapped up, or get your watch repaired.

Stocks of badly needed clothing are beginning to arrive but many children still trot around bare as Lady Godiva and with bobbed hair. One small shoe shine boy who works outside one Army post exchange wears a shirt made from a cloth bag. When he has over your shoes he won't touch them for less than two bits in this still high-priced and booming burg—you can read clearly stenciled on his back: "Overseas ham."

Roseburg Indians Get 21-19 Revenge On North Bend

In a "very rough game," the Roseburg Indians scored a 21-19 victory over North Bend Saturday and avenged a previous loss. Tomorrow, the Indians with three recent victories to their credit, meet Cottage Grove in league play. In Saturday's game, North Bend led in scoring almost to the end, when Mel Ingram's boys jumped ahead to take the game. Half-time score was 8-14 in favor of North Bend. Third quarter score was 15-19 still in North Bend's favor.

When Cottage Grove comes here tomorrow, the Indians will deal with four returning lettermen and a six-foot center. Tomorrow's tilt will be the third league contest for Roseburg. First two league games with Victory Hi and Junction City were chalked up as victories for the Indians' men. Junction City, which groveled under a Roseburg defeat, in turn had a victory over Cottage Grove. Tomorrow's game should be close.

Saturday's line-up: Roseburg (2) (19) North Bend (3) (15)
Colley (4) F (3) Hason Young (8) F (1) Fry Benson (4) C (4) Sanders Pope (1) G (7) Maffey Piper (0) G (4) Rose Substitutions for Roseburg: Atterbury, Gerretson (4).

Luxuries Among Brass Hats Arouse Gls' Resentment

By HAL BOYLE
MANILA, Jan. 10.—(AP)—"Fat-cutting" by senior officers is arousing enlisted men and junior officers in the American forces overseas. "Fat-cutting" is a term applied in the lower ranks to higher leaders who try to guide their personal military careers back into the easy prewar days of "Colonel Blimp" by saddling themselves with special privileges and comforts.

This practice is sometimes common enough in peacetime, when social grace is sometimes more important than courage and character in winning promotion. At any rate, it is pretty well accepted in professional Army circles, even by enlisted men.

After all, in peacetime even sergeants are provided with good government quarters and have a pretty nice deal. In wartime, however, sergeants sleep with privates in foxholes or tents and many a junior officer finds his billet at the front is a cold hole in the ground.

Luxuries Stir Resentment
Waiting now to return to civilian life, many of these junior officers, even by enlisted men, are speeded with high-ranking officers have surrounded themselves with expensive luxuries. This strikes particularly sour notes with men whose families back home are living on a pinch-penny level and who feel themselves to be victims of the tardy demobilization program.

These are some things to which the men especially object: Quality items for post-exchange, such as good cigars, watches, cigaret lighters and all but the cheapest fountain pens have an uncanny habit of flowing in the general direction of colonels and upward. Privates

GOP Chief Hails Norblad's Victory

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell Jr. Saturday hailed the outcome of Friday's special Congressional election in Oregon as "additional evidence that the Republican march toward control of the next Congress is continuing."

Tabulations showed that Walter Norblad, Republican, apparently had been elected by a two-to-one margin over his Democratic opponent.

Brownell, in a statement, pointed out that Republicans have been winners in the four special Congressional elections held since President Truman entered the White House.

"The geographic distribution of these special elections (Montana, Illinois, New Jersey and Oregon) indicates general public recognition of the incompetency of the administration to handle the affairs of the nation," Brownell said.

"The people have taken at face value the long delayed confession of failure which Mr. Truman made in his radio address on Jan. 3."

Argentine Vows Nazis' Deportation

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Juan Cooke, countering charges by Acting U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, asserted Saturday that United States refusal to join in a hemisphere military treaty with Argentina was "not democratic."

At the same time, Cooke denied an assertion by Acheson that Argentina had done nothing to fulfill her pledges to deport "obnoxious" Germans to their fatherland.

Cooke said in an interview that Argentina was doing her utmost to get rid of such Germans, and that 100 convicted Nazi spies and 700 former crew members of the German pocket battleship Graf Spee would be deported soon.

"The spies and sailors, he said, will be sent to Germany aboard a North American merchantman. He declined to give the exact date of their departure, but hinted that it might coincide with the arrival here of the British cruiser Ajax, now en route from Malta.

The Graf Spee was scuttled off Montevideo in December 1939, and her crew has been in Argentina since that time.

Spanish War Vets and Auxiliary Seat Officers

Joint installation of officers for the ensuing year by George Starmer, Capt. and Auxiliary Lighted Spanish War Veterans, was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall last Friday. Repeating the inspired performance he gave last year, Charles Paul acted as installing officer for the Camp. The work of Mr. McConnell, now almost 80 years old, was the highlight of the evening. The following officers were installed by the Camp: W. R. Stinnett, commander; Wm. A. Long, senior vice-commander; Martin Hoffman, junior vice-commander; Sam Starnier, officer of the day; George C. Bailey, adjutant; Harry A. Taylor, quar-

Pay Pact Reached In Pine Belt Area

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 14.—(AP)—A 21-cent-an-hour raise for CIO lumber employees of this section of the pine belt appeared a certainty today after negotiations for management and unions agreed on the boost which puts CIO wages on a level with the recently negotiated AFL scale.

The pay hike will affect about 6,500 employees from Prineville in Central Oregon well into the California pine belt south of here. The agreed effective date is January 1, making the increase retroactive.

Negotiations were signed by Chas. Irving for the Pine Industrial Relations Committee, Inc., representing 20 companies with CIO operations in this settlement. The same agreement will undoubtedly be extended to several other CIO operations not represented by PIRC, and some have already put the boost into effect by independent action.

Both Irving and Vernon Chase, CIO officials, said today they expect favorable action on the agreement by management and union locals.
