WORLD-FAMOUS PIANIST TO BE HEARD IN CONCERT IN ROSEBURG FEB. 7

Dalies Frantz, brilliant young American pianist, will be presented by the Roseburg Community Concert Association at 8:15 o'clock the evening of February 7, at the Junior High School auditorium. He was born in Lafayette, Colorado. When he was only a child, the family moved to Denver, where he received his early musical training, and performed in concerts with his mother, a fine lieder singer, as half of the "Frantz Duo." He was graduated from the Huntington School in Boston and then worked his way through the University of Michigan, being graduated with highest honors.

His piano study was done principally with Guy Maier, with brief European interludes as a pupil of Artur Schnabel and Vladimir Horowitz. By winning first prize in three important competitions he won, first, a solo appearance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra; second, a New York debut recital, and finally, two appearances with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski in both Philadelphia and New York.

His performances were greeted with enthusiasm by critics and public and he was soon playing concerts throughout the United States and making numerous appearances with major symphony orchestras. He was rapidly recognized as one of the outstanding contemporary pianists. In 1938, the handsome blond musician was signed to a seven-year contract by MGM and appeared in "Balalaika," "Sweethearts" and "I Take This Woman." Originally signed to play the role of Franz Liszt in life of Chopin, a picture that was temporarily shelved, Frantz rebelled when the company wished to dub sound for Chico Marx and managed to break his contract. He returned to his concert work, giving two more New York recitals and building up an enviable record of performances with every major symphony in the United States, except one. In the summer of 1942 he joined the U. S. Army, graduated from O.C.S. and became a lieutenant in the A.A.F. Intelligence, serving with a P-38 squadron. After nearly two years, he received an honorable discharge and accepted a post as professor and head of the piano department at the University of Texas, a position he still holds and will retain through 1945-46. In the fall of 1944, he once again began his regular concerts, receiving an enthusiastic welcome from public and critics. Recently, he has played at many Army camps, servicemen's centers and hospitals, crowding in such appearances wherever possible. He is fond of sports and is an expert swimmer and skier. His favorite hobby is reading.

Highway Speeds in Oregon Increased

Prevailing speeds on Oregon highways continued to creep upward during the month of December, Secretary of State Farrell reports. During that month the ceiling speed of 8 per cent of the drivers passing speed recorders maintained by the State Highway Department was 57 miles an hour.

In November, the ceiling for 85 per cent of the drivers was 56 miles an hour. The ceilings for the twelve months of 1945 follow: January, 49; February, 50; March, 50; April, 50; May, 50; June, 49; July, 52; August (war's end), 55; September, 56; October, 56; November, 56; December, 57. During December, only three per cent of the drivers kept their speed below 35 miles an hour, Farrell said. Since speed too great for traffic conditions is a prominent factor in most serious traffic accidents, the Secretary of State urged drivers to hold their speeds to a reasonable level, giving consideration for all traffic conditions at all times.

A 3-year enlistment in the Regular Army now entitles American young men to a FULL COLLEGE COURSE or a Business or Trade School Education

By Act of Congress, benefits of the GI Bill of Rights are open to every qualified young man who enlists in the new Regular Army before October 6, 1946

HUNDREDS of thousands of intelligent young men finishing high school have been unable to afford a higher education. Now they can have it, free.

GREATEST EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY IN HISTORY

Under the GI Bill of Rights every young man who enlists in the Regular Army before October 6, 1946, is entitled, after discharge, to education or training in the school or college of his selection at Government expense. For a period based on the length of his service, the Government will pay his tuition, up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 monthly for living expenses—$90 if he is married. After a 3-year enlistment, for example, he may have 48 months of education, with a total of $5120 paid by the Government!

Original enlistments are open to men aged 17 to 34, and may be for 1½, 2 or 3 years.

The Army itself is one of the world's best schools. Thorough training in one or more of 200 skills, trades and technical subjects is open to every soldier.

If you are 17 or over, and mentally and physically fit, you can earn while you learn in the Army. You'll get good pay, food, clothing, quarters and medical care. You'll get a 30-day paid furlough each year. If you enlist for 3 years you can choose your branch of service and your overseas theater in the Air, Ground or Service Forces.

Get full particulars today at the nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station. This is your opportunity to get the education you want and fit yourself for a successful career!
