O. S. C. Athletes Have Banner Day

CORVALLIS, Ore., April 22.—69—Oregon State College athletes had a banner day Saturday with track and field entries, the baseball squad, the campus varsity golfers and tennis players winning their sports competitive events.

The State ball team won 3 to 1 over Washington State. Track entries accumulated 117 points to sweep University of Portland and Willamette University athletes from the field, winning all but one first place and most of the second and third place honors.

Oregon State tennis doubles gave the Staters a 4-3 edge over the University of Oregon court players in the conference opener.

The State golf team added the links trophies to the bag of honors by winning 151 to 113 over the University of Oregon.

The first railroad locomotive in Chicago arrived there in 1848—delivered by a salient vessel.

Members of The Pacific Wool Growers Get Paid On Grade

The U. S. Commodity Credit Corporation buys all grades of wool and for 26 years Pacific has always graded and sold on grades. The Government buys Douglas County wools at different prices for each different grade. These prices range from $1.05 per clean pound down to 85c per clean pound.

Every member shipper receives a grade sheet showing the actual grades of his wool and the net prices he received from the Government for the wool he produced.

Through the Pacific you receive the actual price that the CCC paid for the grades of wool that you produced.

Growers who produce choice wools receive a higher price, which your Government intended you to have and to which you are entitled. Our members who produced strictly combing wools averaged 52.47c per pound compared with 48c for combing and clothing together. Growers of short defective wools receive less.

Why should you sell your wool at a flat, average price when you may have produced a considerable percentage of wool that is worth 10c a pound more than your poorest grade of wool.

Pacific Wool Growers furnishes sacks and twine and insurance without direct cost to you. Sacks and twine may be secured direct from our representative in your territory or by writing the Association office and requesting them.

See your Pacific local representatives and join now. Keep the good Douglas County wool together in one pool to maintain an established outlet and reputation.
