pre-war period from 1935 to 1939. It adds that the NUTRITIVE value of our per capita food supply this year is expected to be close to the 1945 figure, which was 3350 calories.

In other words, we won't just be stuffing ourselves this year with bulky low-power foods. The food we eat in 1946 will have more KICK than our diet in the pre-war years.

KEEP your finger on that 3300-calory figure. Then turn to a dispatch from Stuttgart (Germany), which says: "Eighteen million Germans in the American occupation zone were officially notified today that their food ration will be cut to 1180 calories daily May 27."

Drop down in the dispatch a little farther and read this: "British military food administrators warned today that nine million persons in the British occupation zone (of Germany) may be placed on starvation rations of 500 calories OR LESS unless there are substantial grain imports in the next few weeks."

YOUR cynical (and perhaps quite natural) first thought will be: "These are GERMANs. They brought it on themselves. Let them starve. It will teach them what war is."

Well, it might. But history tells another story. The lesson of history is that starvation breeds hatreds that are LONG in dying out.

This thought is put by an officer of the British control commission (in Germany), who expresses concern lest the re-education of the German people and their conversion to what he calls "Christian humanism" may be made impossible by the food situation. He adds: "You can't teach democracy on an empty stomach."

WITH so much of the rest of the world facing starvation, why is it that Americans are cheerfully stuffing themselves with more food than in pre-war years?

Have they lost all their traditional human sympathies? Have they become suddenly hard and cynical and utterly selfish?

It could be. But this writer doubts it. All the Americans he knows within his limited orbit are pretty decent people.

Your observation must be somewhat similar. Suppose a case of actual starvation showed up in your neighborhood. You and your neighbors would give him all the food they could get because of the giving.

If the American people are heedlessly stuffing their own bellies in the face of worldwide starvation, it must be because they are poorly and inefficiently LED.

They must be saying to themselves: "All this propaganda CAN'T be true, because if it were true our government WOULD ACT, instead of merely talking. Besides, what good would it do if I starve myself alone? Unless EVERYBODY helps, nothing effective can be done. The thing for our government to do is to TAKE the food that is needed and transport it to the starving and oppor-

RECOGNITION AT LAST!

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Announcement is made by Arne Suomela, master fish warden, of the State Fish Commission, that recommendations are being prepared by the commission for submission to the next session of the state legislature to institute conservation measures protecting the spring run of Chinook salmon in the Umpqua River.

The Fish Commission, at last, has admitted facts that conservationists in Douglas County for years have been fighting to have recognized. Persons interested in preservation of fish life in the river have been striving diligently to convince commissions, the legislature, or anyone who would listen, that the Umpqua River was being ruined as a fishing stream.

We recently commented upon the apparent intent of the Fish Commission to do an about-face on the matter of conservation, and the announcement by the master fish warden indicates the sincerity contained in the new policy.

The announcement by Suomela did not detail recommendations proposed to be submitted, but from recent talks made by Commissioner Earl Hill of the Fish Commission, and Frank B. Wire of the Game Commission, it is considered very probable that proposed restrictions will affect both commercial and sports fishing.

A proposal to close the river completely to both commercial fishing and angling would be a "face-saving" gesture for the Fish Commission. It could hardly be expected to rule net fishermen off the river and not urge that sports fishermen be barred as well.

Our personal opinion is that closure of the river to angling would deprive a great many people of an enjoyable sport without proving of any material benefit in the way of conservation. In our discussion with sportsmen we find a general willingness to go along with any constructive conservation program, even though sports fishing be curtailed.

We believe the current check on fish population will corroborate the contention that not one in 100 migrating Chinook salmon of the spring run will strike a spinner. The theory behind use of a spinner in salmon fishing is that the fish, due to the spawning instinct, which causes him to chase all species of fish away from his spawning bed, is lured into striking at the fisherman's hardware.

The small number of salmon taken on hook and line, in proportion to those escaping, does not justify, in our opinion, complete closure to angling. Catch records now being compiled, however, will shed more light upon the proportion of fish caught to total migration.

But regardless of what regulations may result, it is good to know that the plight of the Umpqua River at last has been recognized and that steps for correction are being taken.

Bobby Feller May Post New Record For Strikeouts

(By The Associated Press) At the rate blazing Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians has been setting the American League batters down on strikes this season, he should better the modern major league record of 343 strikeouts in one season, with plenty to spare.

It was back in 1904 that eccentric Rube Waddell set the standard while pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics and it has defied the mighty arms of big Ed Walsh, Walter Johnson, Smokey Joe Wood, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Lefty Grove, Dizzy Vance, Dizzy Dean and other renowned strikeout artists for more than 40 years.

The Van Meter, Iowa, speedster fanned 14 Nats yesterday in pitching the Indians to a 3-0 victory in the opener of a double-header with Washington, to raise his eight-game total to 85 in 11 innings.

With 127 games remaining on the Tribe's schedule, Feller, taking his regular turn every fourth day, should appear in 32 more contests. Should Bob continue at his current gait of 10 1/2 strikeouts per game, he will rack up the amazing total of 431, far exceeding the record.

In registering his fifth triumph and his third via the shutout route Feller gained an even split for the Indians. The Nats pounded Krakauskas for nine hits to win the second game, halted by darkness at the end of eight innings, 9-4.

Los Angeles Gains Coast League Lead By Trimming Seals

(By The Associated Press) Los Angeles, surpassing the San Francisco Seals, won fourth place in the National League yesterday by trimming the Pacific Coast League pinnacles and roosting on top with a half-game edge today.

Heavy was the fall of the pitcher-proud Seals, whose mound staff grabbed the lead 49 games ago in the March 29 opener and clung to it until a Los Angeles rookie last night threw them too much of their own kind of stuff.

San Francisco's mound department had no excuses, for it was represented by its top man, eight-game winner Cliff Chambers, who was nicked for 10 hits and his second loss of the season.

The defeat reduced the Seals to a second-place deadlock with the rapidly-rising Acorns of Oakland, who administered their fourth successive dunking, 4 to 1, to the Hollywood Stars.

Bunched with Hollywood far behind the three clubs battling for the league lead were the San Diego Padres, who downed Sacramento, 3 to 1, to even their series at two games apiece, and the Seattle Rainiers, who beat Portland, 4 to 2, for their third win in four games of the series.

Seattle shoved across five runs in a weird seventh inning after Portland had established a one-score margin.

Brooklyn Regains Lead in National

(By The Associated Press) Brooklyn's Dodgers yesterday regained first place in the National League for the third time when they clubbed the Pittsburgh Pirates to their fifth straight defeat, 16-6. The St. Louis Cardinals fell to second place by losing to Boston's Braves.

With 37 players taking part in the most ragged game played at Ebbets' Field in years, the Brooks took advantage of eight walks by six Buc hurlers and six Pirate errors in addition to pounding out 16 safeties and stealing five bases to earn the one-sided decision. A seven-run inning clinched matters for the Dodgers.

Pitcher Johnny Sain and right fielder Jimmy Holmes collaborated to whip St. Louis 4-1, and knock the Red Birds out of the league lead. Sain chalked up his fourth victory, holding the Cards at bay in all but the fourth inning and limiting them to seven hits. Holmes rapped out two doubles and a single and drove in a pair of runs. The triumph elevated the Braves into third place.

A two-run homer by Keller, his sixth of the season, and brilliant relief pitching by Gunport enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 4-2, and gain a half game on the American League-leading Boston Red Sox who were rained out of their scheduled night affair with the St. Louis Browns.

An error by Second Baseman Phil Masi in the eighth inning set up a two-run eighth and enabled the Detroit Tigers to edge out the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-1.

Philadelphia's Phils dropped Cincinnati into the second division by upsetting the Reds, 4-2. Rain prevented the New York Giants from meeting the Chicago Cubs.

Mauriello Knocks Out Woodcock in 5th Round

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—The latest invading British heavyweight champion Bruce Woodcock, wounding his debut in the amateur boxing ring, which is somewhat horizontal. He headed back home today after his fifth round knockout at the hands of Tami Mauriello in Madison Square Garden last night.

A fast, sudden right cross late in the fifth head did the trick for the only knockdown of the fight.

Husband Stands By His Leprosied Wife

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—(AP)—An Army major whose wife developed leprosy during the Japanese imprisonment they endured together has refused to leave her side and has petitioned to share her fate at the leper colony in Carville, La., the Call-Bulletin said today in a copy-righted article.

"I'm 65 and I've had my fling at life," said Maj. Hans George Hornbostel, former magazine executive in Manila. "I want just one thing in the world—to be with my wife."

Mrs. Hornbostel is making no protests, the paper says, because she understands the way he feels about it. Both know she would feel the same if positions were reversed.

To a lesser degree, the positions were reversed at war's outbreak when Mrs. Hornbostel rejected a chance to remain free of prison under sponsorship of a German brother but she chose without hesitation as an American wife to go to the Japanese internment camp at Cabanatuan and later to Santa Tomas, Manila, with her husband.
