An archway of greenery, white roses and snowballs with satin ribbon and bows was arranged over the large windows in the living room of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Pargeter for the wedding of Miss Virginia Gilmore, youngest daughter of Mrs. Edith Gilmore of this city and a niece of the Pargeters, Saturday evening, May 11, when she became the bride of Ensign Bruce Palmer Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Burns, Lakewood, New York. The archway was flanked by tall white candles, which were lighted by Miss D'Ann Shoemaker and Miss Mary Roland, gowned in pastel formal. Baskets of white dogwood were arranged about the rooms, while the entire garden surrounding the home was flooded with the occasion. Dr. Charles A. Edwards performed the impressive ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening in the presence of one hundred and twenty-five relatives and friends of the couple.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Jack Josse very charmingly sang, "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning," accompanied by G. William Wharton, who played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin for the bride party to advance to the improvised altar.

THE 24th ANNUAL CONVENTION OF PYTHIAN SISTERS, DISTRICT 3 HELD

The 24th annual convention of Pythian Sisters of District No. 3 was held in Roseburg Saturday with District deputy grand chief, Ethel Hecathorn, presiding over the afternoon and evening sessions.

Grand officers attending were Mildred Harwood, grand chief; Ella Roper, Jr., supreme representative; Mable Roberts, past supreme representative; and Edith Adams, P. G. chief of Washington, who attended the evening session.

The address of welcome was given by Bette Leach, most excellent chief of Roseburg Temple with Austria Bawe, of Talsman Temple No. 40, giving the response. Talsman Temple of Medford, through Sister Ruth Walden, extended an invitation for the district convention to meet there in 1947. Sister Edna Bryant was recommended for district deputy grand chief for 1947. Ethel Hecathorn suggested that District No. 3 take as a project one or more rooms to be redecorated and this was unanimously accepted and the temples will share the expense evenly.

Preceding the evening meeting, a banquet was held at the Methodist Church, after which the group went to the temple where Ethel Hecathorn introduced a comic dance, "The Old Grey Mare" by Roland Barrows and Sunny Gray, which was greatly enjoyed. Parts of the work were given by the various temples with degree staff from Thermopylae Temple No. 37, Grants Pass, assisting. A music number was presented by Sister Winston, after which Talsman Temple presented an impressive patriotic drill by the degree staff.

Winnifred Dunstead presented Inga High with a plaque from her husband, E. G. High, to be placed on a myrtle wood pedestal, which he had made for Mrs. High in honor of her two years of service in Roseburg temple. Sister Marion Boisinger read a poem in honor of Mother's Day, after which Grand Chief Mildred Harwood gave her address stressing, "Tomorrow is only a vision, look well therefore to this day," as her theme.
