ment warehouses bulging with surplus war goods that can't be sold because of legislation so complicated and unworkable that it can't be unraveled enough to permit sales.

We're developing an unfortunate talent in America for laws that won't work.

FROM Asuncion, the little-known capital of not at all well known Paraguay, comes a dispatch telling of a pre-dawn barracks revolt in which five Paraguayan soldiers were killed after rifle and artillery fire had rattled around the town for four hours or more before the revolt was quelled.

The uprising seems to have been headed by a Colonel Victoriano Vera, who was peevish because of his removal as commander of a Paraguayan cavalry division.

THAT'S what happens when everybody who can command a FOLLOWING can take his peevish out on the government.

Such situations can be accurately described as LIBERTY gone to seed.

THE news from China is mixed. A 15-day truce between the rival factions has been arranged, with General Marshall's help, but the dispatches are full of charges of violations of the truce. It will be little less than a miracle if the nationalists and the communists in China get together without a civil war.

It is an extremely safe guess that peace and tranquility are what the common, ordinary masses of China want more than anything else in the world, but their hopes and desires are being frustrated by ambition for personal power on the part of China's factional leaders.

History tells us that this situation has been prevalent in more or less aggravated form ever since what we loosely term "civilization" began.

WE'VE made a lot of progress in some directions, but nowhere near enough progress in the direction of intelligent and workable human relationships.

ITALLY formally becomes a republic.

That sounds like NEWS. Maybe it is.

It all depends.

ROME, dominant in ancient Italy as a city-state, STARTED as a republic. The republic decayed because the citizens left scheming politicians pull the wool over their eyes.

Rome then became an oligarchy, ruled by a patrician senate—which decayed in time because everybody who amounted to anything became so absorbed in grabbing personal wealth and personal power that no time was left for governing the country decently.

There followed then ONE MAN despotism, with power held by all kinds of despots—from efficient, even statesmanlike, Julius and Augustus down to insane Caligula.

SO don't pay too much attention to the GESTURE by which Italy has again become a republic. Gestures mean so little.

Democracy THAT WORKS goes so deep and means so much.

TREATMENT FOR "GIMMES"

Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan diagnoses our national illness as a case of "give-me." Speaking to Missouri postmasters, he credits the "gimmes" with being responsible for inflation.

Whenever we seek hand-outs we must accept paternalism, and let no one say our Nudal administration has ever failed to be paternalistic when opportunity offered.

It might be well, for the sake of clarity, to review Webster's definition of paternalism:

The principles or practices of a government that undertakes to supply needs or regulate conduct of the governed in matters affecting them as individuals as well as in their relations to the state and to each other, on the assumption that it can best secure their highest welfare.

For many years we have been holding out greedy hands to Washington. We sought WPA projects, leaf-raking doles, pork barrel appropriations, war plants, RFC loans, veterans hospitals. We beg Washington to build our highways, our airports, our schools and hospitals. We offer to sacrifice our scenic and recreational resources—our great natural playground—for the sake of a few high dams. We run crying to Washington with every business problem, with every labor dispute.

We have permitted Washington's paternalism to sap our self-dependence until today we wriggle like spent trout in the grip of federal economic and socialistic planners.

This course, if followed to the end, can lead only to nationalization of industry and business, public ownership of utilities, regimentation of the people.

The effect today is inflation, labor unrest, public uncertainty and fear. Subversive leadership has seized upon the opportunity to add organized chaos for the direct purpose of destroying our system of free enterprise and fundamental forms of government. These conditions are but mileposts on the road we travel.

If we seek favors, we must accept the inevitable paternalism which accompanies the granting of them. Paternalism means power. Power begets power. If labor seeks government intervention and aid, gaining favors without the difficulties encountered in prolonged negotiations with management, the inevitable result will be to make government the overseer of labor. When the government has power over the workingman, it must, to render service, have power as well over the employer. In like manner, if government is to control industry and business, it must also regiment the workers.

If in our delirium of "gimmes" we surrender our right of self-determination to a willingly paternalistic government, we exchange personal liberty for voluntary servitude. Such is the eventual aftermath of the disease with which we are afflicted. Our present ailments—inflation, unrest, chaos—are only symptoms. We have heard the diagnosis. It is ours to decide whether we will accept the only known treatment for "gimmes"—cut it out.

Monarchs, Pastime Take Ball Games

The Monarchs took over undisputed possession of first place in the city softball league Tuesday night as the result of a 9 to 0 victory over the less experienced Associated Service Station players.

In the second of Tuesday night's contests, a strong Pastime Tavern nine from Sutherland, beat the Rainbow Grill 7 to 4.

Playing smooth ball in the field, the Monarchs gave excellent support to their pitcher, Kenny Laurance, who turned in seven strike-outs as a part of his third consecutive victory.

The Monarchs tallied four runs in the first inning, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth, as Bill and Fred Scherner, Hill, Ward, Virgil Sanders and Rice, pounded the ball freely, frequently for extra bases.

The second game, won by Sutherland, was an exciting contest. Sutherland took an early lead, but the Grillers fought back to a 5 to 4 score, in Sutherland's favor, in the sixth. The Pastimers, however, blasted in two runs in their half of the sixth to win 7 to 4.

A home run by Owens, with a mate aboard, figured in Sutherland's victory, while a double by Sansted, a double by Baughman, and a three-bagger by Solomon aided the Grillers in scoring four runs on as many hits.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was designated as the U. S. national anthem in 1931.

York, Higgins Bat Bosox to Victory Over Cleveland

(By the Associated Press.) Pinky Higgins and Rudy York, a couple of Detroit has-beens, are two big reasons why the Boston Red Sox are 10 games out front in the American League and a shoo-in if they can play .500 ball the rest of the way.

Higgins and York were in murderous batting moods yesterday and by 1905 they had taken the lead to trounce Cleveland, 10-5. It was their 12th win in a 13-game streak that also includes a 12-inning tie. Higgins knocked in six runs with a homer, triple and two singles and York had a perfect 4-for-4 afternoon, including two doubles and a home run.

With 104 games to go, the Sox can win only half of them and still total 93 victories, five more than Detroit needed last year.

Tigers Down Yanks Newhouse joined the 10-win circle by hitting three home runs to an 8-3 decision over the New York Yankees. A 12-hit barrage that included round trippers by Greenberg and Wakefield ruined Manager Dickey's plans of revitalizing the Yanks with a new lineup.

Doubles by Judnich and Berardino helped Shirlev and the St. Louis Browns down Washington, 6-2, beating Hudson. Edgar Smith outdueled Christopher as Chicago blanked the Athletics, 1-0, in a game marked by a White Sox triple play. Applin's double followed by an outfield fly and Platt's single provided the only run in the seventh.

Brooklyn's National League lead shrunk to one game when the Dodgers fell before St. Louis, 9-8. The largest night crowd of the year at Sportsman's Park, watched the Red Birds humble the Brooks for the fourth straight time.

Vander Meer went the route for the first time this season, scattering eight hits to give the Cincinnati Reds a 3-2 edge over New York. Junior Thompson, a former teammate who hooked on with the Giants after his early-season release, was the loser.

Those amazing Phillies reeled off their 10th victory in their last 14 starts, drubbing the Chicago Cubs, 4-1. Five straight first-inning hits scored all the runs, leaving the Phils only one game behind the seventh-place Giants. Mulcahy, who couldn't last the full nine innings, took the decision over Walter who failed to finish the first game.

Catcher Camelli's triple with the bases loaded enabled Pittsburgh to top Boston, 5-3, in another night game. Sowell, although nicked for 11 safeties, registered his fourth victory at Cooper's expense.

Beavers Defeated By Seals on First Inning Tally, 1 to 0

(By the Associated Press.) Veteran Dick Barrett, who had had as many runs and downs as any pitcher in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, threw in the law of averages today as an explanation of his latest misfortunes from the bats of the San Francisco Seals, who last night defeated the Oakland A's, 1-0.

The hard-luck hurler held the Seals to three hits last night while his teammates were collecting six but took a beating on an unearned run. The Seals' victory moved them within a game of the leading Oakland A's, beaten in 10 innings, 6 to 3, by the Sacramento Solons.

Barrett, who had the 1940 top pitching average of the league, with 24 wins and five losses and won 27 for the most games in 1942, was trying last night for his sixth victory but it turned out to be his ninth defeat.

San Francisco tallied in the first inning on Brown's error and singles by Jennings and Fain. Barrett yielded only one more hit the rest of the way, but the Beavers' six bingles off Seward failed to pay off.

"It's the law of averages," said Barrett. "For every bad break there will be a good one."

Proposed New Road in Drain District Surveyed

Three miles of road were surveyed near Drain this week by County Roadmaster F. C. Frear. He used an "ex-GI crew," he said, including Don Frear, former Pfc. and Don Hall, once a second lieutenant, on the chain, and Cpl. Bob Larson as instrument man.

A fourth member of the crew, Jack Grimes, and Frear himself were not veterans. The survey was made at the request of residents near Elk creek who now lack a suitable road to their property. The route which Frear's party surveyed utilizes approximately two miles of existing county and private road.

Fire School Slated at Wolf Creek Next Week

Approximately 80 guards, look-outs and smoke-chasers on the Umpqua National Forest will attend a fire school to be held at Wolf Creek, east of Glide, next week. Ray B. Hampton, fire assistant, said yesterday.

The men will be trained in the methods of locating, fighting and putting out forest fires, Hampton said. Courses in camp administration will also be offered. Instructors at the school will be district rangers, staff overhead, and district guards.

Achlu, Katonen to Renew Judo Feud Here Saturday

The second largest crowd in local wrestling history turned out last Saturday night to watch a colorful Judo grappling exhibition between Chinese Walter Achlu and Finnish Paavo Katonen.

Cash customers collected their money's worth, but Achlu and Katonen gained no satisfaction in their grudge battle which started some weeks ago when Referee Achlu disqualified Katonen during a local engagement. Tugged in Judo jackets, the two opponents gave Douglas county sports followers their first taste of the rough-and-tumble Oriental sport—and they liked it. Achlu won the first fall and was apparently well on his way to a straight-fall victory when the local commission stopped the bout and ordered a re-match.

Achlu was strangling Katonen, local in Judo wrestling, and the Finnish veteran twice escaped by ramming his head through the ropes. Achlu wasn't going to allow him to turn the trick a third time, but Katonen managed to flip Walt over the top ring rope and the Judo artist cracked his head on the boards—ending the match.

The entire main event purse was held up, which is okay with local fans who are anxious to see the skirmish continued at the Roseburg Armory next Saturday night. The grapplers will start from scratch again, however.

Matchmaker Don Owen was forced to change his matches in other parts of the state to allow the return engagement. Katonen was slated to meet World Champion Ernie Piluso in Eugene, but has been ordered to return here.

An attractive supporting match has been arranged by Owen—Joe Lynnam against Bob Kenaston, the Gold Hill villain.
