DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Have you sometimes longed for and wondered about the haven of rest, the Father's house of many mansions? When pressed by trials and weary with conflict have you just longed to lay your head upon the breast of Christ, that you might feel the touch of His hand and hear the gentle tones of His voice, bidding you to rest? Have you, when footsore with the journey, tried to imagine what it would have been like to have been with the disciples that evening when Jesus laid aside His outer garments and washed their feet? Of course you have, and sometimes when He seemed so far away, you wondered if He really knew, and like one of the older prophets have said, "Oh, that I knew where I might find Him, that I might find rest." Just a glimpse of His face and a word from His lips and all would be well. You would then feel like taking a fresh hold upon the trials, confident that you would come off more than conqueror. The presence of Christ is not a matter of time or place, but of triumphant faith in His glorious promise, "Lo, I am with you always." You have only to speak and He will respond. So live then today that our tomorrow may be brighter and better. Amen.

Fire Truck's Use Taught to Trainees of Forest Service

Forest Service Photo News-Review Engraving

Forest Service fire fighting crews are learning to use a recently-acquired fire truck (above) which is stationed at Layng Creek Ranger Station, M. M. Nelson, supervisor of the Umpqua National Forest, said.

Layng Creek is the center of a high fire hazard area in the Bohemia District, and the new truck may be used in any of several logging operations near there.

The truck, third pumper unit assigned to the forest, carries 500 gallons of water, fire tools, including shovels, axes, hazel hoes, and 2,000 feet of water hose.

The pump is a direct power take-off type capable of pumping up to five hose lines at one time. It will be manned by an operator and a small crew in the summer. Other units are at Tiller, Ore., in the South Umpqua district. Such units are often used to help suppress house and barn fires or sawmill fires in the rural areas.

Forest Service crews learned to use this type of equipment at the annual fire school at Wolf Creek Training Camp on Little River, this week.

The truck, tank and pump were secured by the Forest Service from the Army at Fort Lewis. The Forest Service rebuilt the units to be suitable for forest fires.

Ranger Rex Wakefield of the Bohemia District will be in charge of the new truck.

Practice to Be Held—Jobs Daughters will hold a practice meeting tonight, June 21, at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple.

Valid Excuse—CHICAGO, June 21.—(AP)—The influence of returned war veterans on university life is being reflected even in excuses for absence from classes, say Loyola University officials.

Apartment-hunting and baby-minding have taken their place alongside such old favorites as alarm clock failures, funerals and dental appointments, they said. One married vet's excuse was: "An eight-pound boy, wow!"

Spreading Out—PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—(AP)—The American Legion instituted its first all-woman post last night, but the ladies took the oath in civility. "We thought about wearing our uniforms," said Margaret M. Schafer, post chairman, "but for the sake of those who aren't the same size as they used to be, we decided on dresses."

Wins and Loses—LOS ANGELES, June 21.—(AP)—Luck wasn't all good yesterday for Jess A. Raburn, filling station owner. A charge of automobile theft against him was dismissed but his pocket was picked in court, he said, of $1400.

A freight carload of tile, about 36,000 pounds, is sufficient for the installations in 60 to 70 average size bathrooms.

Italian Colonies Decision Deferred At Big Four Meet

PARIS, June 21.—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers, after successfully hurdling a major obstacle by virtually reaching a compromise on Italian colonies, turned today to the controversial Trieste problem—key to the Italian peace treaty.

Along with Trieste, they must decide the entire Italian-Yugoslav frontier question and the matter of the Dodecanese islands. All four of the ministers agreed in principle that the islands should go to Greece, but Russian Foreign Minister Molotov has indicated in the past that his country is not yet ready to discuss final terms.

Other problems of the Italian treaty to be considered are the Austrian-Italian frontier and disposal of Italian naval units.

The question of Trieste, however, promises to be the most controversial. Russia has insisted that the important Adriatic port be ceded to Yugoslavia, and Britain, France and the United States have maintained that it must remain Italian. All four of the conferees concede that Trieste is ethnically Italian.

Their compromise yesterday, when the ministers expressed general approval of a U. S. proposal to delay decision on the colonies for a year and to refer the matter to the United Nations if the four powers could not agree by that time, gave rise to a new atmosphere of optimism.

Conference circles were visibly brightened by what a British source described as the "conciliatory" manner of yesterday's formal and informal sessions. Under the compromise, Italy would renounce sovereignty of her colonies, which would be under four-power control pending either agreement by the Big Four or reference to the United Nations.
