ING BACK to $22.25 under a FLOOD OF RECEIPTS.

Hog prices at Chicago broke all records since 1919 by advancing from $14.85 a hundredweight a week ago to $18.50.

THAT is to say, the law of supply and demand began to work. Under the stimulus of higher prices cattle and hogs poured into the market and BROKE the price rise.

ONE point we MUST keep clear in mind, if we are to form accurate judgments, is that SUBSIDIES died with OPA. Here is an example of the way that works:

During the first OPA-less week, butter in the Chicago wholesale market rose from the OPA ceiling price of 56c to an OPEN price of 70 3/4c per pound.

The butter subsidy paid under OPA was 15c per pound. Add 15c to 56c and you get 71c. In other words, wholesale butter prices in the FREE market at Chicago rose a trifle LESS than the amount of the subsidy.

REMEMBER that subsidies are paid out of the U. S. treasury with money taken from taxpayers. Under the subsidy system, even if you do without butter yourself you help pay for what the other fellow eats.)

THE Canadian government (canny, like all British governments) moves to HEAD OFF inflation coming from the United States.

It artificially brings the Canadian dollar to PAR with the U. S. dollar. (Hitherto your dollar would buy about 10c MORE in Canada than in this country.)

The obvious purpose is to head off TOO MUCH buying from the U. S. Too much buying from this side of the line would promote inflation in Canada.

At the same time Canada retains and adds to her price control system.

PRICE control will probably work out in Canada. When British countries pass a law they put TEETH in it and the teeth are expected to BITE.

LET'S close today on the note of the atom bomb test at Bikini—which has been overshadowed by the death of OPA.

Howard Blakeslee, AP science writer (a thoroughly competent reporter), gives us this to chew on:

"An invisible form of DEATH filled the air for many miles around and far outside of the great mushroom cloud which arose from the Bikini atom bomb.

"What happened is still a mystery. One of the planes circling the cloud at long distance got the first warning of the invisible death when its instrument which registers the presence of X-rays and other rays unexpectedly began to record a dangerous amount of radiation.

"The pilot, thinking he had run into a current of invisible radioactive particles that had eddied far outside the mushroom, turned the plane in an escape direction. But the warning counter continued to show rays which ever way he turned and whether he went up or down."

MANY people are complaining bitterly about the cost of the Bikini tests (meanwhile remain-

RETAIL MILK PRICES

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Retail milk prices in the Roseburg district, as generally throughout the state, have been advanced to a base of two cents per quart. In some areas the price increase was greater than in the Roseburg milkshed.

Producers are seeking a butterfat price of $1.25 per pound, the goal at which they have aimed for many months. Roseburg dairymen have offered, and are paying $1.15 per pound. It still remains to be seen whether they can secure adequate supplies of milk at the offered price, which they justify on the grounds that it compensates for the AVERAGE subsidy paid during the past year.

Urging discretion on the part of the dairy industry, E. L. Peterson, director of the State Department of Agriculture, declared that "because Uncle Sam has stopped paying part of the milk bill the public will now have to pay its own. The difference is that consumers have been deceived into thinking that prices were being held down. Now they will know exactly what the price is."

Commenting on the production problem, Peterson said: "Producers are gone. Farm wages, judging from a recent action of the farm wage stabilization board setting wages at $210 a month, with board, in a dairy area, have increased over prewar about 150 per cent. Feed prices, judging from recent quotations, have increased from 100 to 140 per cent over prewar while quality has dropped 30 to 40 per cent, and other operating costs also are up.

In the face of these circumstances and today's value of manufactured dairy products, it is my belief that the producer price for Grade A milk should be not less than $1.25 a pound butterfat. This means milk at 17 cents a quart in Portland. In some of the state's markets even a higher price is indicated.

But in supporting higher prices to compensate for loss of subsidies, Peterson adds commendable words of caution and advice, pointing out the industry's responsibility and opportunity. Speaking of the industry, he said:

It has an opportunity to correct the inequities fostered and supported by the late OPA. It has an opportunity to return rapidly to a quality production basis. It also has responsibility. While price increases are justified, the industry has a responsibility to do its part to control inflation by charging only fair prices. While immediate price increases are necessary, the industry cannot in justice to itself and its customers tolerate a condition of charging all the traffic will bear. It has done a fine job under difficult conditions up to now. Consumers should realize this and should be willing to pay fair prices. It is unfortunate they have been so deceived by the late OPA and the subsidy program.

These words of the state director of agriculture make sense. Neither producers nor distributors will benefit from attempts to scrounge unjustified prices from public pockets. Minor sacrifices in public interest during the reconversion period will save much embarrassment when prices begin to decline as they are certain to do in the face of growing public demand.

Ted Williams' Bat Work Top Feature Of 12-to-0 Triumph

BOSTON, July 10.—(AP)—The National League could be thankful today that it won't have to face both Ted Williams and Hal Newhouse in the 1946 baseball world series.

That was the only consolation the senior circuiters got out of the annual inter-league all-star game yesterday when American League's superior pitching and overwhelmingly more powerful hitting crushed the National Leaguers under a 12-to-0 score.

Both sides used 21 players in the so-called dream game—a nightmare, for the Nationals—yet the performances of Detroit's great pitcher, Newhouse, and the Boston Red Sox's mighty batter, Williams, stood out in the most top-sided victory and gave the Americans a 3-4 lead in games in the 13 years of the series.

New Records Set

Williams easily was the more outstanding of the two. In five trips to the plate against the best but hopeless efforts of four National pitchers, Ted collected four hits—two homers and a brace of singles—and a walk. He scored four runs and batted in five.

That spectacular demonstration produced the following All-Star individual records for the Hub City slugger: 1. Most runs scored in one game; 2. most runs batted in one game; 3. nine runs batted in in total games; and 4. most

The secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Defense League for Animals cabled to Admiral Blandy (in charge of the tests): "I hope you share the same fate as the ANIMALS aboard your target ships."

THERE is so much shallow thinking in this world that one sometimes wonders how we manage to get along as well as we do.

Hager, Achiu Will Team up Against Jackson, McEuin

A couple of last week's performers will team up here Saturday night at the Roseburg Armory to meet a pair of the greatest wrestling villains in the nation in a tag-team match, featuring attraction of Matchmaker Don Owen's weekly mat show.

The former are Tex Hager and Walter Achiu; the villains Bulldog Jackson and Billy McEuin. An added feature will be two one-half preliminary bouts in which Hager will meet McEuin and Achiu will tangle with Jackson.

Both Achiu and Hager were impressive here last week, the Chinese ju-jitsu artist defeating Bruno Angelo and Hager battling to a draw with Jack Kiser. McEuin, the tough Texan who holds the Southwestern light-heavy weight championship, has been circulating the northwest circuit for the past few weeks, but for Jackson it will mark his first appearance in many, many months.

Jackson, despite his ripe "ald age" of 41 some odd years (old for pro grappling), remains one of the most colorful wrestlers in the business. The former mat-master from the Yukon is considered the greatest showman in the game.

Although Jackson is past his prime, his long years of mat experience still makes him a formidable foe against the best in the business. "Yukon Jake" always adds humor to his matches with intermission antics from the ring, but behind his funmaking is one of the best-founded wrestling techniques seen in the modern sport.

Achiu, who has met Jackson many times in past years, cannot afford to take the meanie lightly. By defeating Angelo last week, the Chinese grappler won for himself an early title match against George Dusette, Pacific Coast junior heavyweight champion.

Jaco Poppenheimer, Dutchman, is scheduled to referee all matches next Saturday.

Oaks' Battery Wins Tilt After Catcher Lets in Two Runs

(By the Associated Press)

When a wildly throwing catcher blows a pitcher's lead twice in a tight baseball game, it's enough to cause a mound explosion.

That's what catcher Raimondi did to Fireballer Shea of the Oakland Aces Tuesday night, but they're good friends today, having teamed up at the plate in the eighth inning to beat the Seattle Rainiers 3-2.

Oakland, pacing the Pacific Coast League with a one-game lead, put Shea, on option from the New York Yankees, on the mound to try for his seventh win in nine starts.

Holder singled and Scarsella scored him on his 23rd double of the season, giving Shea a first-inning lead. Raimondi's first wild throw handed a run to the Rainiers in the third.

Martin doubled and Hamrick singled to gain a 2-1 edge for Oakland in the fourth, but Raimondi donated another unearned Seattle run in the next frame.

Shea held his temper and bore down on the Rainiers, and the usually reliable Oakland catcher bided his time. In the eighth stanza Raimondi binged his redeemer over the second sack, stole second base and then Shea took matters into his own hands, smothering a game-winning double.

Other Results: The San Francisco Seals remained a game behind the Oaklanders on their 10-3 pounding of the San Diego Padres, stretching their string of victories to seven straight.

The Sacramento Solons shaded the Portland Beavers 4-2 in a four-hit pitching victory for Southpaw Al Smith over Helsler, who yielded the winners nine safeties. Helsler had wild streaks, walking eight Solons. Tiding a two-run lead in the second frame, Sacramento was never headed.

Hollywood and Los Angeles, idle last night, open a series with a doubleheader today.

Roseburg Views 'Sky-Writer' Job

Roseburg citizens who craned their necks upwards yesterday will have another opportunity to see the Pepsi-Cola "sky-writer" today or tomorrow, spelling out his message 12,000 feet above the city, it was announced by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Roseburg.

The plane will be piloted by Thomas J. Campbell, former pilot in the Army air forces, who has joined the "sky-writing" corps since the end of the war.

The letters, which are formed by the plane's exhaust, measure a mile high and 10 or 12 miles long, visible within a radius of 30 miles. The specially equipped planes give off smoke compounded of a secret formula of oil, chemicals and gas, heavy enough to keep the letters in the sky intact for 30 minutes unless there is a strong wind.

Sky-writing is generally done with the aid of exact diagrams laid out according to the message to be written, but some of the pilots observe that they have written "Pepsi-Cola" so many times they could write it with their eyes shut.
