In the Day's News

In the senate for 24 years. Republican voters in Minnesota may have come to the conclusion that it's high time to get some new blood into Congress.

STASSEN (who may be, and probably is, a pretty good man) is being promoted as the plumed knight of internationalism.

So what happened in Minnesota yesterday is being chalked up as a victory for internationalism. Those who are doing the chalking ignore the fact that in Nebraska a few days ago an internationalist backed by Stassen was badly licked by an "isolationist."

THIS writer has a notion that anyone who is trying to shape up a political campaign around the issue of internationalism vs. isolationism is wasting a lot of time that might better be devoted to more constructive purposes.

In these days, we are all internationalists because we HAVE TO BE. There just isn't any other way out for us in the world as at present constituted—what with atom bombs, etc.

But in our hearts we know we'd RATHER go back to the good old days when the United States of America looked after its own affairs and let the rest of the world go hang.

We just know that is no longer possible.

ON the price front, milk goes up a cent and a half a quart Tuesday in the area extending from Vancouver, Washington, to Salem, Oregon. The manager of the Dairy Co-operative Association, which handles roughly three quarters of the milk produced in the area, says:

"This increase will compensate dairymen for loss of the government SUBSIDY payments allowed under OPA."

WHATEVER happens to OPA, we must keep this subsidy business clear in our minds. If prices rise only enough to make up for subsidies that had been paid, it is obvious that it isn't a REAL rise.

We can't go on paying subsidies forever. Sooner or later, if we are going to stand on our own feet, they would have had to be done away with.

WE'VE been paying subsidies of one sort and another right and left. Hardly a day passes without some new scheme for fantastic spending of government money.

In this connection, a statement made the other day at Olympia, Washington, by Dow V. Walker, National Disabled American Veterans commander, is interesting. He said:

"Only five per cent of all service-disabled veterans receive more than $115 a month in pensions... About 80 per cent of ALL service compensated and pensioned veterans of World Wars I and II receive less than $80 a month. About 45 per cent of them receive less than $40 a month."

MARCH OF PROGRESS GOES ON

By CHARLES V. STANTON

We have been receiving many inquiries into our reason for discontinuing the "March of Progress" feature published daily on the first page of the News-Review for approximately three months.

This feature was planned originally to extend over a period of about two weeks, as a means of displaying pictorially the community's development and expansion. By the end of two weeks, however, our photographer-reporter, Paul Jenkins, had merely scratched the surface. He tried to make a dent in the big job by taking scenes in wholesale lots—picturing whole areas and projects—but Roseburg's "March of Progress" outstripped reconversion by film manufacturers and he exhausted supplies.

It was a hopeless race at best. New projects developed at a more rapid rate than they could be portrayed in the limited space available. It would take a whole flock of photographers, an abundance of photographic equipment, and a paper the size of a metropolitan daily to give a true picture of the expansion and development scene in and around Roseburg. If we spread out to our neighboring communities, we would find a proportionate job in each locality.

Anyone who has the idea Douglas County's industrial progress has reached its peak is due for a real surprise. Scores of small enterprises and at least a half-dozen major industrial plants are in prospect just as soon as some relief is obtained in the building supply line.

The shortages of nails, plumbing, materials, hardware and machinery are the only things now standing in the way of new industrial activities fully equal to what we now have. We hope the film and newspaper shortages will also be relieved by the time this new construction boom hits, so that we may resume our pictorial "March of Progress" on a more ambitious scale.

Portland papers report that 165 OPA employees are "manning the battle stations" at the district office, piddling away their time with issuance of sugar ration tickets to returning veterans and other minor tasks which could be handled by a half-dozen good clerks. But the American taxpayer is expected to foot the bill for this group of loafers, while OPA propagandists try to persuade Congress to furnish them with life-long jobs, "improving" our way of life.

As long as they haven't anything else to do, we recommend the OPA idlers man their battle stations along the third base line at Vaughn Street park and use their powers of propaganda to get the hapless Beavers out of the cellar division.

"Millions who say we might as well give the country back to the Indians are in for a surprise—the Indians don't want it." Such a report comes, of all places, from the Oregon Advertising Club. Chief Nipo Strongheart, authority and lecturer on Oregon Redmen, who is to be in attendance at the premiere of Ernest Haycox's western saga, "Canyon Passage," in Portland, told club representatives that "the only Buffalo left is a city in New York, the only wolves that live whistle on street corners; the squaws make monkeyshines instead of moccasins."

The Tommy Dorsey audition was quite a success, with Pat Gadow and Annalora Ward getting the nod from the judges. KRNR is making audition discs and will treat them to glamour gal portraits to send along with the platters. We'll air the final audition cuts before they're packed up and on their way.

Here's a reminder sent toward all ex-service men and women in this locality. Veteran's Information Guide takes to the air at 7:00 P. M. Friday night... the first of a weekly series to provide correct answers to your questions. The program will be explained more fully in tonight's initial airing, so tune in.

Saturday A. M. brings you Starlet Revue and Vie Rice to play your request and Uncle Jim and his Westeners are a bright spot in the afternoon. Opera at 6:00... Leave it to the Girls at 8:00 and Wrestling Matches at 9:30. Ten Thirty Club with sweet swing follows immediately after the matches.

Three new spots to watch for on Sunday... Roger Allen, Criminal Lawyer, replaces music at 1:00; Cecil Brown newscasts for five minutes at 4:25; and Mystery is My Hobby takes over the 7:00 o'clock spot in the evening. Sunday's a field day for the who-dun-its... who said they didn't like them?

National Guard Units for Oregon Total 10,925 Men

SALEM, July 12.—(AP)—The Oregon military department has accepted from the National Guard Bureau the assignment of National Guard units to the state, totaling 10,925 men.

The units include parts of the 41st division, which will include troops from Oregon, Washington and Idaho; and coast artillery, anti-aircraft, radar and other special units. The strength of Oregon's National Guard will be about double the pre-war strength.

Adjutant General Raymond F. Olson said that headquarters of the 41st division will be located in about a week, with Portland likely to get it. Salem was headquarters before the war.

He said the location of each unit in the National Guard will be known in a week. The 41st division commander will not be announced for a few weeks.

Among assignments to Oregon are the 162nd Infantry with a total of 2,998 men. This includes a unit at Roseburg, with its respective strength to be fixed later.

The week of July 21-27 has been designated as National Farm Safety Week by President Harry S. Truman. During the week all 4-H Club members and others connected in any way with agriculture are being urged to observe this week and to remove or correct any accident hazards. Four-H safety clubs throughout the country are especially asked to give particular attention to accident hazards and remove as many as possible.

Dust Stabilizer Used on Diamond Lake Area Roads

A new type of dust stabilizer is being applied on roads near Diamond Lake by Wilton Roberts of the Portland regional office of the Forest Service, it was stated by Ray B. Hampton of the Umpqua National Forest, today. The material is an emulsified asphalt mixed with water, and sprayed on the roads in the same manner as oil, Hampton explained.

Lockers Installed at Remodeled Tiller Store

Chet Hamn, postmaster and general store proprietor at Tiller, has completed installation of 125 walk-in rental lockers at his recently remodeled store. Population growth at Tiller, he reports, is extremely rapid, as the mill industry in that area expands. The Southern Oregon Sugar Pine Company, he reports, plans to add a second shift in the near future, as it is unable to keep up with demand under the present schedule.
