Elks Club Downs Oilers, Monarchs Defeat Rainbows

The Elks Club softballers moved into a second-place tie with the Sutherlin Pastime Tavern last night at the local park, trouncing the Associated Service team, 13 to 5. The Monarchs, in the nightcap, retained their season's no-loss record in seven innings of errorless ballover the fourth-place Rainbow Grill, 5 to 1.

The epidemic of bat-breaking continued last night from Wednesday evening with five bats cracked or split, making a total of eleven broken clout-sticks for the week in the City Softball League.

The Associated nine, buried in the league cellar, threatened the Elks with three runs to the latter's two in the first. The count was 4 to 4, through a triple by Associated's Catcher Huggins, but the Elks surged ahead in the next frame as the Elks batted around for six runs out of five hits, hitting Walton, Associated hurler, freely with doubles and singles.

Cummings, newcomer to the Associated, took over the mound from his first base position and the leading Elks failed to garner but one hit thereafter with Cummings downing opponents 1-2-3 in the fifth with a speed ball. Walks and overthrows, tallying five Associated errors, raised the Elks' lead to 13-4 in the sixth.

Lefthanded Cummings whammed to right field for a homer in the fourth for the Associated's first real threat but was nullified for not touching second base. He gave a repeat in the seventh with a valid Chinese homer to left field for the only run of the inning, ending the game 13-5.

Monarchs Click Perfectly

Playing errorless ball and sparked by a brilliant infield performance, through Third-Sacker Wiard's doubleplay in the fourth, the Monarchs, making their record seven wins in as many starts, put in a busy evening against the Rainbow club to win, 5 to 1.

Three hits for two runs in the second gave them a one point lead over the Rainbow nine, followed by two more plate trips in the third by singles by B. Scherner and Wiard. They scored their final tally in the fifth on the only error of the evening. Rainbow Hurler Sandstead was hit frequently throughout and he hit four Monarchs on wild pitches to walk them. Wimberly and Loomis made their first appearance of the season with the Rainbow Grillers, Wimberly playing right field and Loomis first base.

Trimmed OPA Extender Approved by Senate permit almost any sort of final compromise.

Senator O'Mahoney predicted that an entirely new bill would be evolved in the process.

It was obvious that Democratic Leader Barkley hoped to strike out in conference all of the exemptions voted from specific products, thus bringing back under controls the major food and other items on which the Senate said no ceilings should be placed.

If he succeeds in doing this and the House and Senate accepts the compromise version, Barkley and others appeared to believe that President Truman would find it satisfactory.

By rollcall vote of 42 to 36, the Senate yesterday decided to exempt all grains and all livestock and poultry feeds made from grain from price ceilings in the revival bill.

May Scored for His Evasion of Profits Quiz

Army officer witnesses as being persistent in helping the war contract business of a group of companies in which the Garsson brothers, Henry and Murray, were active.

The congressman indicated yesterday he was willing to testify publicly, if allowed to have his own counsel and granted the right to cross-examine and recall witnesses.

Instead of the conditions demanded by May, the committee informed him he would be given the "customary" treatment accorded witnesses who appear before his own House committee.

The letter to May was made public simultaneously with the disclosure of an unexplained non-appearance of a key witness in the Senate committee's inquiry into the wartime operation of 19 closely-linked Illinois munitions concerns, among them the Batavia and Erie Basin Metal Products companies.

One Subpoena Ignored

Committee Counsel George Meader reported that Louis Sarelas, described as a $10,000-a-year Washington office manager for Erie Basin and Batavia, had failed to appear before the executive session today although he had been notified to do so yesterday. He said that Sarelas was under a subpoena.

As the committee assembled behind closed doors to take a second look at May's stipulations and to draft a reply, Senator Ferguson still talked of subpoenaing the Kentuckian should he decline to appear voluntarily.

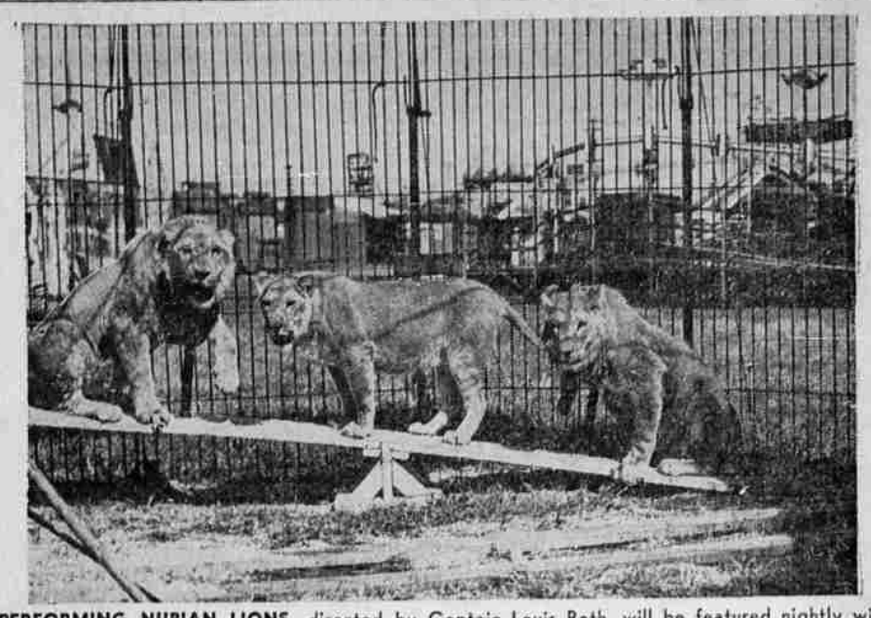
Two Refuse to Waive

Meanwhile, Benjamin F. Fields, Washington press agent who was excused from testifying yesterday when he declined to waive his constitutional rights, told reporters, "I demand to be heard by the Mead Committee."

Fields was accused by Senator Mitchell of offering him a $5,000 bribe to persuade the committee, of which Mitchell is a member, to "lay off" the inquiry.

Fields, who has denied the charge, called reporters to his office late yesterday and gave them a statement expressing belief that the committee "does not want me to testify, for some reason unknown to me."

Henry Garsson, described by Army officers as "the brain" behind the munitions combine, also was excused from the stand when he elected to stand on his constitutional rights to refuse to answer questions that might degrade or incriminate him.



PERFORMING NUBIAN LIONS, directed by Captain Louis Roth, will be featured nightly with the West Coast Circus and Carnival, coming to Roseburg the week of July 22 under American Legion sponsorship. The carnival will be set up on the Riverside school grounds.

City Manager Plans to Receive Careful Study

be retained by the city council, etc.

In addition to the policy committee it is proposed, Mayor Wharton said, to appoint an advisory committee composed of attorneys. This committee will work with City Attorney Ira B. Riddle in preparing charter changes, studying the legal aspects and translating the ideas of the policy committee into legal form.

Other Charters to be Eyed

The mayor also reports it is planned to have the city attorney visit cities which have recently changed to city manager form of government to study their charters and forms in order that the best possible system may be provided.

Attorney Riddle reports that the proposed charter amendment probably will not be submitted until the general election in November. The city's charter provides, he states, that a special election may not be held within a given period prior to a general election, and, as it would be difficult to complete a charter amendment in time for an election outside the prescribed period, the whole matter probably will be placed on the November ballot.

Complications Faced

The delay will result in complications, because it will be necessary to elect a ticket of city officers under current charter provisions, while, if the city manager plan is approved the offices of recorder and treasurer probably will become appointive rather than elective, and the office of police judge will doubtless be separated from that of recorder.

Another complication will be that of financing, as the change to city manager probably would be effective in January while additional revenue to support the office would not be forthcoming until the following November. It would be possible, however, to overcome this situation, it is pointed out, either by issuance of warrants, or through a short-term bond issue.

Whiskered Ball Players Attracting Big Crowds

The Israelite House of David traveling baseballers, dated to play the Umpqua Chiefs in Roseburg Sunday, July 28, are packing ball park bleachers with their diamond antics throughout their route to the West Coast, eastern Washington ball clubs report.

The Athletic Round Table team in Spokane was eked out 6 to 0 in a no-hitter last Tuesday at Bengal Field by whiskered Earl Crappe, youthful hurler, while a Walla Walla nine fell 5 to 4 to the Beards before 1200 fans on Wednesday evening. Hummell, burly catcher for the Davids, powered four hits in four trips, including a home run to drive in three of the Davids' scores in the latter game.

The usual fifth ining "pepper game," put on for the entertainment of fans and confusion of the opponents, was performed at both games by Doc Tally, George Anderson, George Reicheltz, and Rocky Kallis.

Fire Dept. Slates Drill On Water Rescue Work

The Roseburg Fire Department will put on a special drill and exhibition Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the Templin Street beach to test its entire water rescue equipment.

The purpose of this drill, Fire Chief Glen Taylor explained, is to give the rescue squads more training and experience and to test the various pieces of equipment .

To be used will be a life-saving boat, a periscope with lights for searching river bottoms, an automatic resuscitator, a pulmotor, which is a late replacement for artificial respiration, and an inhalator, an apparatus which gives the victim 93 per cent oxygen and 7 per cent carbon dioxide for reviving. The diving crew, complete with helmets and dragging equipment, will also get a tryout.

Swim Beach Facilities Being Used to Capacity

Added beach facilities and water equipment have raised the interest of swimmers almost beyond suitable acommodations, Miss Marion Gray, local swim instructor and American Red Cross aquatic representative, reported Friday.

Between 200 and 300 persons are daily lining the catwalks, diving board, and recently cleared beach. Two rest rooms and two dressing rooms have been completed and an additional life guard has been procured to do duty from the guard tower which overlooks the entire swimming area eight hours a day.

"The advancement of children enrolled in the ARC swim sclasses is almost unbelievable, considering their ages," Miss Gray said. "We'll have several junior life savers from these classes before the two-week program is completed."

British Loan Plan Faces Decisive Vote in House

loan begin immediately, rather than at the end of the first five years.

4. Provide that the interest rate be raised from two to four per cent.

Representative Clare Boothe Luce told the House Britain is "America's natural buffer state" against aggression and is the "oldest and most-to-be-trusted ally."

Russia's Grip Feared

The Democratic leader, Representative McCormack of Massachusetts, said the world is watching the House vote and if America adopts isolationism it will leave "practically all of the other nations of the world, against their will and desires, subject to the influence, gravity and the orbit of the Soviet Union."

Representative McDonough (R., Calif.), asked if Russia would not look upon the British agreement as 'an overt act." McCormack said not at all and argued the loan would promote peace by taking shackles off world trade.

Rayburn Voices Warning

As the House assembled to cast its crucial vote on the ratification legislation Rayburn arose and declared:

"World leadership is offered us today. Voices throughout the world are crying for American democracy to lead. Will we seize the leadership or will we allow somebody else to seize it?

"If that happens, God pity us, and God pity the people of other nations."
