Son of Roseburg Man Offers Lung To Howard Hughes

In Los Angeles today, it was revealed that Capt. Byron F. Kennerly, son of Police Officer O. A. Kennerly, Sr., of Roseburg, was one of two persons who offered their lungs for transplantation to the body of Howard Hughes, noted flier who is fighting for his life as result of an air crash last week.

Capt. Kennerly told Dr. Vance R. Mason, Hughes' personal physician at the Good Samaritan Hospital, that he is "a great admirer of Hughes and wanted to help."

Mrs. Sharon Miller, a war widow, said, "I would be very happy to let Mr. Hughes have one of my lungs because he has so much and I have so little."

Dr. Mason said the two offers were declined because transplantation of the human lung is not practical.

Capt. Kennerly, his father said this morning, had long been an admirer of Hughes. The captain served in the RAF Eagle Squadron in England during the early days of the war. Shot down in the Battle of Coventry, he returned home to recuperate. Later he joined the U. S. Army Air forces and again went overseas.

During the interim between his tours of war flying, Capt. Kennerly served as technical director for the motion picture, "International Squadron," which dealt with the RAF.

Umpqua National Forest Given General Inspection

Completion of a general inspection made every three years of the Umpqua National Forest, was announced this week by M. M. Nelson, supervisor of the Umpqua National Forest.

Nelson, accompanied by Otto Lindh, assistant regional forester, and Walter Lund, in charge of timber sales for the Oregon-Washington region, spent three Weeks in visiting every district in the forest.

Every phase of the forest's activity—fire protection, timber sales, recreation, road and bridge building—was evaluated, Nelson said.

The inspection party took a three-day, horseback trip from Steamboat to Wolf Creek Guard Station, visiting the back-country lookouts. At Lake-in-the-Woods, the foresters slept in a cabin built there in 1907 by Forest Rangers Bonebrake, Oden, and Watson, who carved their names in its walls.

Mrs. Clark Opens Studio At Cottage Grove

Announcement of the opening of a new photographic studio at Cottage Grove, under the management of Wallace Robertson, of Roseburg, has been made by the owner, Mrs. C. W. Clark.

Mr. Robertson served as a lieutenant in the U. S. Army with the 41st Division in the South Pacific theater of operations for four years. After receiving his honorable discharge, he resumed his work at Clark's studio in Roseburg. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and daughter, Cora, plan to move to Cottage Grove permanently, after disposing of property interests in Roseburg.

apparently still had blocks of votes unreported.

Negroes Cast Votes
The primary—equivalent to the election in Georgia—was the first time that Negroes had voted in great numbers in the Deep South. About 135,000 of them registered, and most voted.

Yet Talmadge's election may mean the restoration of the traditional "white" Democratic primary in Georgia which the U. S. Supreme Court said must go.

Talmadge promised to bring back the white primary by putting it beyond state control, as South Carolina did two years ago. Opponents of such a change contend, however, that it would endanger the state's unique county unit system which permits small rural counties to dominate state affairs.

White persons outnumber Negroes in Georgia nearly two to one, although in some counties it is the other way around. Total registration during the vitriolic campaign exceeded a million—double the normal figure.

to the street in their night clothes early today when fire broke out in the basement.

Salary Increases for Postal Workers Sought

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(AP)—Rep. Neely (D-W. Va.) today introduced legislation to boost salaries of postoffice and federal workers $500 yearly "to meet the rising cost of living occasioned by the cessation of federal price controls."

Both groups of workers recently received a $400 yearly boost, although the nation's 450,000 postal employees are currently going without any pay at all as the result of a legislative jam.

The $1,600,000 Post Office-Treasury appropriation bill, carrying postal payroll funds, is snaggled in a Senate-House conference committee by a disagreement over the price to be fixed for sale of government-owned silver.

Here's ONE thing that doesn't cost more today...

a Greyhound ticket costs LESS!
Fares in Oregon now down to 1 1/4¢ per mile!
Yes, it is less, in these days of "sky-high" prices... but Pacific Greyhound fares in Oregon have actually been reduced, because the service is being increased!
As Oregon communities grow, as Pacific Greyhound adds more service, more and more people ride... and Greyhound's cost of operation per passenger goes down. And Greyhound passes this saving on to the people... in the form of the lowest fares in Oregon, and more frequent service than ever!
Actually, these fares have been reduced in advance... before increased patronage has yet developed. This is because Pacific Greyhound knows, intimately, the transportation needs of Oregon communities... and has faith in their future development and progress.

Shortages are holding him back
We in the Bell System were adding telephones at the rate of three million a year until shortages started getting worse. Now it's harder and harder for us to get materials for manufacturing and building.
We aren't complaining for we are in the same boat as every one else. But we thought you might like to know the supply situation on some of the biggest items in the telephone business.
LEAD—There is a world shortage of lead. Even when conditions here straighten out, it will be some time before adequate supplies are available.
COPPER—In great demand but we will probably have adequate supplies when the smelting, refining and fabricating plants get going.
TEXTILES—Serious shortage of cotton and synthetic yarns and fabrics, with demand greatly exceeding supply.
STEEL—Steel and coal strikes have affected supply in face of unprecedented demand.
RUBBER—Synthetics are in fair supply but natural rubber is on Government allocation.
LUMBER—Scarce supply due to unprecedented demand and dislocation of lumber trade.
BRASS MILL PRODUCTS—Used in Central Office switches and other telephone equipment. Supply will be short until disturbed conditions are settled in the copper industry, permitting brass mills to get back to full-scale production.
It's a tough situation, but we aren't giving up, any more than you have given up trying to get butter or sugar or shirts.
We're doing the best we can with what we've got and hoping these disturbed conditions will end, so we can really go full speed ahead.
