it can be interpreted by the Russian GOVERNMENT as a sign of weakness. That would be dangerous.

ON the other side of the world, in Russian-dominated Yugoslavia, General Mihailovic dies before a firing squad less than 48 hours after his conviction on charges of treason and collaboration with the Germans—after a trial in which shot-down American aviators were not permitted to testify that he saved their lives.

It's done differently over there, you see.

ON the domestic front, Mayor Lapham of San Francisco wins decisively in a recall election initiated against him because he approved an increase from seven to ten cents in streetcar fares. (Fares were increased to keep the city's transpotration system solvent.)

Lapham is a business man who has GAINED THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PUBLIC.

IN Montana, newcomer Lief Erickson seems as this is written to be winning the Democratic nomination for senator from old-timer Wheeler, after a hot campaign.

Wheeler was backed by letters from Truman and John L. Lewis defending his labor record. Erickson was backed by Jimmy Roosevelt, CIO-PAC, and Montana's other senator, Murray. Wheeler is and has been as isolationist. Erickson is an internationalist.

THE purely political implication is plain.

STILL—

Erickson is apparently a GOOD, NEW man. Wheeler has been in the senate a long, long time.

New blood in congress MIGHT have been an issue in the voters' minds.

CIO'S United Auto Workers Union calls a MEAT STRIKE. It is to last seven days. UAW's president, Reuther, addressing a mass meeting in Detroit, says the purpose of the strike is to "restore reasonable prices and to terrorize profiteers."

UP in Portland, something less spectacular but even more significant seems to be happening.

H. E. Carlson, secretary of the Independent Grocers and Meat Dealers Association, says: "Housewives here seem to be sticking to their budgets, and although they are still buying meat and butter they are BUYING LESS at the higher prices.

THIS Portland experience is significant because discrimination in buying—that is to say, buying less when the price is too high—represents sound and normal working of the law of supply and demand.

Because it is sound and normal it will probably CONTINUE, and if it continues it will be effective in restoring a balance between supply and demand and so will in the course of time bring prices down.

THE tendency of a spectacular week-long "strike" on the buying of meat, etc., will be to do without for a week and then to feel that you've done your duty and go on a steak binge. GESTURES usually work out that way.

The Portland housewives have a much better method.

Russia scientists have reported experimental growths of cotton in natural rose, lemon, brown and green colors.

LUMBER DEMAND DROPPING

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Supply is overtaking demand in the lumber industry despite a slump in production, according to the current weekly report by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association. The bulletin shows production to be down 25 per cent from 1944 and approximately one-sixth below 1945. But shipments during the first six months of this year were ahead of orders, whereas, for the first six months of 1945 and the comparative period in 1944 demand was ahead of production and unfilled orders exceeded gross stocks on hand.

For the first six months of this year, orders totalled 2,989,006 board feet, while shipments amounted to 3,073,280. At the close of June, unfilled orders amounted to 559,227 feet, and stocks on hand totalled 378,664 feet.

It would be interesting to know just the extent the drop in orders, from 3,848,636 board feet in the first six months of 1945 to 2,989,006 board feet in the first half of 1946, is attributable to the restrictions placed on building materials last March 26, when the CPA took over the job of rationing supplies to "expedite" home construction, and to previous OPA price regulations.

Certainly, demand for building materials should not be dropping when millions are still homeless and industry and business have elaborate construction plans in mind as a part of reconversion programs. But, nevertheless, such condition is apparent in the report of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, covering the first six months of the year.

It is quite possible we are doing a great injustice to the OPA and CPA, both of which have a finger in lumber pricing and distribution, but our observation of government controls leads us to the skeptical opinion that every agency achieves the exact reverse of what it is organized to accomplish.

Just as the OPA "pointed with pride" to its record of "holding the line" on prices, while paying subsidies out of tax collections to offset increasing production costs, we read how housing is being "expedited" although orders for lumber are declining. Somehow it just doesn't make sense.

There are, of course, many other factors to be considered—factors which may be controlling. We may be harboring an entirely unjust and indefensible opinion in suspecting government controls as being responsible for the drop in orders. But it is quite evident, we believe, that there is a vast market for lumber in supplying the construction program needed in this country. Production of lumber has been hampered throughout the war period by wage inequities and unrealistic pricing. In the present situation, we have a pressing national demand for housing and industrial and business construction. Yet, despite a decline in production, supply is overtaking demand.

The lumber industry is striving to increase its production rate. Mills are not operating at capacity, due in part to inability to retain workers because of the housing shortage. It is expected the last half of 1946 will see production exceed demand, unless barriers to full-speed construction are removed.

To just what extent government controls and regulations constitute barriers and handicaps we are not able to declare with accuracy—but we have our suspicions!

'Canyon Passage' Ballyhoo Captures Portland Crowds

By BOB THOMAS

PORTLAND, Ore., July 18—(AP)—Never underestimate the power of Hollywood.

For instance, observe how Portland was captured completely by the movie forces, all for the sale of dear old publicity. The Rose City capitulated without a struggle.

Walter Wanger filmed a picture called "Canyon Passage" in Oregon. So, to provide ample press lincage, Universal sent a glittering caravan to Portland for a premiere. Among those that glittered were Lou Costello, Joan Bennett, Peggy Ryan, Yvonne De Carlo, Hoagy Carmichael, Jess Barker and Elsa Maxwell.

From the time the artists were greeted with a brass band and a pack of Indians until they signed the last autograph and departed, Portland was under control of the southern invaders. Even Mayor Riley and Governor Snell of Oregon pitched in on the ballyhoo.

Personally I cannot report much on the glamorous activities; one sees enough of stars in Hollywood. However, I did observe that the Oregon countryside is greener than a St. Patrick's Day parade; that the Portland zoo contains some talented bears, and that the Columbia is a mighty big river.

One premiere scene I did notice the crowd in front of the theater, several thousand strong, being induced to sing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" to Elsa Maxwell.

See—Hollywood can do anything.

Oh yes, the picture. It would be unfortunate to come this far to see a punk movie. Happily, "Canyon Passage" turned out to be a very nifty western. In fact, it ranks favorably with "Stagecoach," also produced by Wanger.

The fine Ernest Haycox story portrays frontier life in Oregon in the 1850's. What sets it apart from its many competitors is the sharpness of its characters and the punch of its action. The good cast is headed by Dana Andrews, who is excellent as always. So is Susan Hayward, although it is unconvincing that he could have passed her up until the final reel.

Swim School Schedules Second Half Courses

An elaborate swimming program has been scheduled for the second half of the local recreation department's swim school to begin Monday, July 22, at the Templin Street beach. Beginners' and intermediate classes will be continued and junior and senior life-saving classes will be added.

Miss Barian Gray, present instructor of the American Red Cross swimming classes, has been employed by the recreation office and will replace Ed Wyatt, former instructor. She is a certified Red Cross aquatic instructor and is qualified to pass judgment on and give life-saving tests for those desiring certificates.

The new schedule of classes to begin Monday are as follows: Intermediate swimmers from 10 to 12 years, 10 A. M.; beginners, age 6 to 10 years, 11 A. M.; junior life saving, 12 A. M.; senior life saving, 6 P. M.

Tariff Cutting Planned To Expand World Trade

WASHINGTON July 18.—(AP)—Tariff cutting took the top spot today on this country's program for expanding global trade.

As a quick followup to the $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain, some 30 or more inter-departmental committees are at work within the government drafting lists of thousands of commodities on which lower import duties will be considered.

Under authority of the 1934 trade agreements act renewed last year, the administration can slash present tariffs as much as 50 per cent, provided American industries are not jeopardized by the cuts.

These reductions, however, will be made applicable only to countries willing to offer comparable concessions.

Vets Get Preference in Exams for Postal Jobs

Civil service examinations have been authorized to fill existing vacancies and to create a reserve list for clerks and carriers in the postal service, Postmaster L. L. Wimberly, Roseburg, announced today. Closing date for filing of applications is July 29.

Applicants must be bondafide residents, Wimberly states.

A preferential rating of five points will be given veterans in examinations. An extra five points will be given disabled veterans.

Complete information and application forms are available from Millard Doyle, local secretary of the civil service board, at the Roseburg post office.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR
She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
