velt's attempted "purges" of members of congress who had failed to jump when he cracked the whip. In spite of Roosevelt's great popularity, these attempts were uniformly unsuccessful.

The situation in Missouri is slightly different. Missouri is Truman's home state. Viewed technically, he is therefore not strictly "butting in."

It will be remembered, however, that Mr. Roosevelt, in his "purge" period, was never able to defeat even Representative Fish, from his own state of New York.

THE principle involved is rather important. It is this:

Shall ONE branch of our government be permitted to dominate the OTHER branches?

UNDER the constitution, our government has three branches—the legislative (congress), the executive (the President) and the judicial (the courts). These three branches of government were planned by the founding fathers to be EQUAL and to act as checks and balances upon each other.

In the best years of our history—the years in which the United States of America was growing up from a weak little nation to a great and powerful country universally respected because of its uniquely successful concept of FREEDOM OF THE INDIVIDUAL—these checks and balances WORKED.

The ideal of the founding fathers prevailed, and NO ONE branch of government was able to assert dominance over the other branches.

WE are now witnessing a STRUGGLE FOR POWER among ALL THREE of the branches of our federal government.

The President strives to make congress subservient to his will. Congress resists, and seeks to assert its power over the President. In recent years, the supreme court has sought to assert its power OVER BOTH of the others.

Especially over congress.

THE founding fathers—probably the ablest set of men who ever guided the destinies of a new nation—were intimately familiar with the abuses throughout all history of TOO MUCH POWER in one set of hands.

It was to PREVENT too much power from falling into one set of hands in America that they devised this set of checks and balances.

Their wisdom was great, and their purposes were pure. To the wisdom of their acts and the purity of their motives we owe this American way of life which no American in full possession of his senses would exchange for any other way of life on earth.

THIS writer knows personally neither Representative Slaughter, of Missouri, nor Candidate Axtell, who is running against him.

But if Representative Slaughter's only fault is that he has been persistently against what President Truman wants, this writer hopes the President's attempt to unseat him will fail.

This country will be a better country for our children to live in if congress isn't dominated by the President, if the President isn't dominated by congress and if neither the President nor congress is dominated by the supreme court.

Too much power in any one set of hands is DANGEROUS.

AN EXAMPLE OF HARMONY

By CHARLES V. STANTON

The sort of cooperation supporting Douglas County communities through the troublesome period of unprecedented growth and expansion was demonstrated Saturday at Drain. Sponsored by A. F. of L. members, crews of the several mills in that area donated a full day's labor to the community's "Living Memorial" fund, while the companies by which the workmen are employed, added their entire proceeds from the day's labor.

Conceived during the war as a memorial to its many men and women in military service, a park, playground, swimming pool and civic recreational center is under construction by residents of Drain and the surrounding area.

A large tract of land adjoining the high school has been procured and already has been substantially improved. The park is being used for community gatherings and recreation. Permanent installations are being made. A swimming pool is in prospect, together with tennis courts, play equipment, etc.

This Living Memorial is a big undertaking for a community the size of Drain. The project will involve a great deal of expense and much hard work; but the residents of the Drain area are not deterred by difficulties.

They turned out en masse to improve the grounds. They have reached into their pockets for money for construction. Now, laboring men, who ordinarily do not have money for donation purposes, voluntarily are giving their most valued possession, the work of their hands, sacrificing a full day's pay, as their measure of cooperation in the worthy enterprise. And well they should. Mill records will show it to be one of the most productive days in the community's industrial history.

And while laborers are devoting their most valued possession to community welfare, management, in hearty and willing cooperation, is donating all of its profits. Thus we have a harmonious devotion of labor and management in a most commendable enterprise, honoring the patriotic sacrifice of a segment of Douglas County's population. No more appropriate tribute could be paid by any community, we believe, than the type of living memorial projected at Drain.

But we are particularly intrigued by the cooperative gift of labor and management.

Drain is a small place, as we measure community life. But if it is possible for labor and management to combine efforts for human betterment in Drain, when patriotically motivated, it is equally possible, if the spiritual inspiration could be gained, to achieve equal harmony for the welfare of the country as a whole.

There can be neither selfishness nor greed in a project such as that in which Drain citizens are associated. If selfishness and greed could be eliminated, even temporarily, in our national situation, and a determination to achieve our aims of reconversion and economic security reached with equal sincerity by labor and management, our troubles would quickly end. We need to accomplish this purpose only the same patriotic spirit which guides participants in the Drain project. The fact that it can be done at Drain, for the sake of a tribute to its honored veterans, is indication that it could be accomplished nationally, given the necessary measure of inspiration.

The mill workers, mill owners and the Drain citizenry, in general, deserve commendation for the energy and cooperation devoted to their most worthy project.

Tokyo Duty Given Maj. W. Maddox

Major Woodson Maddox, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Maddox, Roseburg, is scheduled to leave a Pacific Coast port in mid-August to serve as quartermaster supply officer at occupation headquarters in Tokyo, according to word received by his parents.

He has been transferred from Fort Smith, Ark., where he spent the past four years, to an Army school at Carlisle, Pa., where he is to undergo four weeks of intensive training for occupational duty.

Prior to his departure from Fort Smith, he was decorated by the State of Arkansas with the "Arkansas Traveler," an award in recognition of special service to the state. Major Maddox gave valued assistance to the Arkansas National Guard during his tour of duty at Fort Smith.

Mrs. Maddox is en route to Roseburg, where she will remain with her husband's parents while he is overseas. They plan to make their home in the Roseburg area when he becomes eligible for retirement after two and one-half more years in the regular Army.

Seals, Oaks Tied At Top Rung of Coast League

(By the Associated Press)

It was still San Francisco at the top of the Pacific Coast League today no matter how confused baseball fans may have been for awhile yesterday.

While the Seals were dropping their first game, 5 to 4 to Hollywood, the Oakland Oaks were shutting out Los Angeles 1 to 0 to gain the league leadership. But the Oaks' tenure was short lived. They dropped the second game to the Angels, 7 to 3, and the Seals walloped Hollywood 9 to 3 to go back into their precarious half-game lead.

The two-hit pitching of Frank Shea for Oakland shaded a beautiful three-hit job by Red Lynn of the Angels and spelled the Acorns' victory in the first game. In the second, Los Angeles exploded against Pippen for seven runs in the fourth inning and won, 7 to 3.

The powerful bat of Unser, who smacked two home runs, gave Hollywood its victory over the Seals in the opener. Melton, backed by 11 hits, pitched the Seals back into the league lead in the ninth.

Sacros Win Twice: Sacramento alone managed to come unscathed through both ends of the Sunday double features. The Solons defeated San Diego 3 to 1 in the opener, although outlit 7 to 5. Staley was the winning pitcher. Behind the seven-hit hurling of Freitas, the Solons captured the nightcap, 4 to 3.

Seattle and Portland split. The Rainiers won the opening slugfest 11 to 9, pounding three Portland pitchers for 20 hits. The Beavers picked up a mere 14 off three Seattle pitchers.

Eight Fielder Reich's homer in the sixth inning gave Portland the nightcap win, 3 to 2, and the series, five games to two.

Oakland and San Francisco both won their Saturday games, the Oaks edging out Los Angeles 4 to 3 and the Seals stopping Hollywood 6 to 1. San Diego and Sacramento went 12 innings before the Padres won, 4 to 0. Portland defeated Seattle 3 to 1.

Williams' Batting Gives Sox Two Wins Over Browns

(By the Associated Press)

Thumping Teddy Williams is baseball's man of the hour—and most certain to be named most valuable player in the American League if the Boston Red Sox cop the big prize.

Adding 11 points to his batting average with one afternoon's effort on seven hits in nine times at bat, the sharp-eyed slugger is tops in batting at .365 and ranks first in runs scored, runs batted in, total hits and home runs. It's a good thing he never took up base stealing.

Williams hit for the cycle in yesterday's second game triumph over St. Louis 7-4, topping a single, double and triple with his 27th home run.

A double and a brace of singles by Williams drove in one of the runs Ferris needed to record his 15th victory of the season by a 5-0 score. Sharkey and Fanning were the Brownie losers who felt the full force of Williams' slugging afternoon.

Now 114 games out front with 64 games to play, the Sox appear a certain bet to earn the pennant if they can manage a .500 pace.

Yanks Blasted by Chisox

Just when the Yankees were beginning to make some menacing gestures with five straight victories, they collapsed under an eight-run lining engineered by the White Sox in the second game. Bevers had hurled and batted the home club to a 3-2 opening nod with his two-run homer off Lopat but Chicago's hitters climbed all over starter Gettel and Page and Wade for their biggest inning of the year and a 9-3 verdict.

Detroit blew a chance to pick up ground on New York by losing to the Philadelphia A's 4-3 in the first of two. Even Greenberg's 23rd homer with a man on couldn't save the issue. The second champs got even in the nightcap, slugging Harris and two successors for an 11-7 edge.

Washington edged out Cleveland twice, 2-1 and 7-5, although

Cards, Dodgers Tied

St. Louis and Brooklyn continued to run neck and neck in the National, winding up respective home stands and road trips all even with 53-34 records.

Pollett threw a four-hitter at the Boston Braves in the first game but needed Musial's two-run homer to defeat Niggeling, 2-1; Dusak's circuit clout with two on eased Brecheen's task in the 8-4 second tilt triumph.

Lombardi and Behrman recorded wins over Pittsburgh as the Dodgers continued to show encouraging signs of snapping out of their slump.

Lombardi blanked the Bucs with three hits, the best mound job of the day, 3-0, but Behrman required some bullpen help from Gregg and an inside-the-park homer by Furillo with a man on to sink the Pirates, 6-5.

Chicago could do no better than split with the Phillies. Borowy finally cast off his miseries and worked a complete game, the first since May 5, in the 3-0 opener. Rafensberger handed Passeau his fifth straight setback in the 4-2 second tilt.

After Blackwell had whitewashed New York with five hits, 5-0, in the curtain raiser, the Cincinnati Reds succumbed to the slants of Gee, making his first start after a year's retirement. Gee picked up a 2-1 triumph on homers by Marshall and Warren.

Golfers Vie In Best Ball Tourney

Fourteen two-man teams competed in a best-ball tournament at the Roseburg Country Club Sunday, July 21, with Charlie Kash and Ward Cummings turning in a two under par 70 for the low gross score of the day. The low net event ended in a dead heat between the three teams of Bill Courter and Clem Howard, Kenneth and George Quine, and Vern Martin and Jack Saling, all with net scores of 64.

Special prizes were won by Gene McElroy, long drive on No. 5, and close to the pin on No. 8; Charley Kash, long drive on No. 6, and Joe Perrault, close to the pin on No. 3.

Wednesday attractions for men golfers will include nine hole sweepstakes in the afternoon, food and drinks served in the evening by Bob Simmons, presentation of spring handicap trophies, and card games.

the FEED BAG

Vol. VIII, Published Weekly by the Douglas County Flour Mill, Mfgs. of Umpqua No. 26, and Sunrise Poultry and Dairy Feeds. July 22, 1946.

Comes the Dawn.

For the poultryman, the turkey grower and the dairyman the sun is rising again. There may be quite a few clouds for a time, and we may even have a quite heavy "high fog." But at least, it appears that the long night is over.

Stocks of feed grains as well as bread grains were at the lowest levels on July 1st for many, many years. But in spite of that, there was more new wheat in storage on July 1st than ever before. Just a promise of the bountiful harvest now being gathered, or to be gathered later this year. These bumper crops will fill the granaries of the country again, and once more prove that there is no country in the world like America.

Indications now are that the 1946 corn crop may make an all-time record, the present forecast being three and a third billion bushels. Wheat harvest will exceed a billion bushels, only slightly less than last year's record breaker. Other grain crops will also be near records. Canada exports 400 million bushels of wheat, also a record. In addition, foreign crops have improved immensely, so the need for exporting from America will likely be much less than earlier anticipated.

With much more feed in sight, there seems to be less in the way of poultry and livestock to eat the coming harvest. So that considering all points, it seems safe to predict that the tide has turned.

A Word of Warning.

As supply begins to improve, after such a long struggle to get enough feed, there will be a tendency to buy ahead, and store against possible recurring shortages. Grain prices, as well as other prices which have been controlled, have skyrocketed. Feed mixers have been hardest hit, and have paid whatever was asked to get ingredients. But they are buying only from hand to mouth, since it is almost a cinch that prices will drop.

In fact, prices have already dropped on many items. That is why we urge everyone to refrain from storing, or to use an ugly word, "hoarding" any feed right now. With prospects for more feed than we have seen since the war began, and with less animal units to eat it, a grower might easily find himself all stocked up with a lot of high priced feed, growing stale and losing value, while his neighbor will be buying fresh feed, better feed, and for a lot less money. So be good to yourself, be wise, and save money.

Gas and Liquor: A gallon of gas and a pint of gin. And, oh! what a mess we found them in! The car was a pile of twisted tin; Now the grass grows green above his chin.

Sanicoat.

A lot of people are finding how good this new product "SANICOAT" is. Used in dairy barns, poultry houses, it serves several purposes. It aids sanitation, prevents flies and other insects, and increases and saves fertilizer values. Goes five times as far as lime. Yes, we have it. And a big sprayer to put it on with.

Such Taking Ways.

"Mom, didn't you say Baby has your eyes and Daddy's nose?" "Yes, Hubert." "Well, he's done all right. He's got Gramaw's teeth now."

About Green Feed.

We do a deal of harping on green feed at the mill. Usually we are telling you to plant something your birds or animals can graze off. It saves you from buying a lot of our high priced feed, and the stuff still grows fine on it.

Right now, our feeds look greener than they ever did before. It seems to suit most folks, but we have had one or two complaints: "Too much alfalfa in Umpqua Feed this year." So here is the why of it.

The Douglas County Flour Mill has always made the very best feed it could with what we could get. We don't need to tell old timers that, and newcomers find it out quickly. We were one of the very first feed companies to use alfalfa greens in poultry or dairy feeds.

We used 5% at first, and we used it because alfalfa had already been proved an excellent ingredient in poultry feeds. We were cautioned in those days not to use more than 5% on account of coloring the yolks too highly. But for some turkey growers who didn't have such hot pastures in late summer, we doubled the dose of alfalfa. It worked swell.

We have been increasing the use of alfalfa right along. We do this because alfalfa has almost every known vitamin and nutrient factor required by poultry, as well as other animal organisms. It is also high in proteins, and one of the best sources of minerals. In other words, it is a wonderful feed ingredient.

Last year we used more than ever before, but had to drop back to less and sometimes omit it entirely, because it was not available. This year, alfalfa has been available, quality has been good, and we have used it at the rates we wanted to use it last year.

Of course the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Umpqua 1946 mashers have done a swell job, even in spite of our being forced to leave out some things we would have liked to use. Where grain has been available chick and turk have made exceptional growth. For instance, Mr. MacDonald of Melrose just told us of selling a bunch of 3 1/2 months old cockerens that weighed 4-lb. average. Yep, alfalfa is OK, and we will use lots of it in future.

Quick Thinking.

Cop: "Why didn't you stop back there when I yelled at you?" Driver (with great presence of mind): "I thought you said 'Hello, Senator'."

Cop: "Well, Senator, I was just going to warn you to look out for those dumb cops over in Smithboro."

Hints for Profits.

Sick, diseased or parasite infested poultry does not pay. At the Flour Mill we have many of the things necessary to keep your birds healthy and profitable. Iotem Mash, P. T. Z. Mash, Wormer & Salts Mash, Lee's Gizzard Pills, Miket worm pills, and other remedies. Not to mention sprays for lice, mites, flies and other pests. As to prices, the Mill has always given you the most value for your money.

Barber: "Do you know your hair will soon be gray if it keeps on?" Customer: "I don't mind the color, as long as it keeps on."

The average driver will risk anything to protect his right-of-way, even his life, if necessary. And gamblers often lose.
