Yugoslavia Gets Tough With U. S.; Perhaps Jitters

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the strange developments of these days of phenomena is the hostility which Yugoslavia has been displaying recently toward America, as witness current events.

The United States has sent two blistering notes to the Yugoslav government, charging, among other things, that on July 12 Yugoslav troops illegally entered the allied zone around Trieste and fired without provocation upon American forces investigating their presence. Washington also emphatically rejects the Yugoslav claim that the United States was responsible for the incident.

Simultaneously with the disclosure about these notes, news came from Trieste that an American transport plane was missing after reporting that it was under tracer bullet and anti-aircraft fire somewhere near the Yugoslav frontier. Only two days earlier an American C-47 transport was forced down over Yugoslav territory by fighter planes which machine-gunned it.

Yugoslavia—whom we aided and for whom we fought in the war—now suddenly subjects us to the all-too-familiar direct-action tactics which have been cropping up in various parts of the world.

Jitters Blamed
We can, of course, dismiss as peppy-cock any idea that Yugoslav sovereignty has been impinged on. However, the Yugoslavs—like most of their Balkan brethren—are tight as they are mighty suspicious, as I have discovered in touring those regions. Therefore we must make allowance for the possibility that Marshall Tito's government, being suspicious, is suffering from the Balkan jitters.

Naturally, too, we can't overlook that strong language and stronger blows could have been exchanged between Yugoslavia and Italy over the Trieste zone. Could it be that Yugoslavia has secrets which she wishes to conceal from prying eyes? The only answer to this is that it obviously is possible, though there is no concrete evidence that Belgrade has anything to hide.

In Russia's Pocket
One of the most impressive aspects of this situation lies in the fact that Yugoslavia is very much in Russia's pocket. All indications long have been that Marshall Tito constantly seeks Moscow's guidance and would as soon cut off his right arm as go contrary to Soviet wishes. Thus it is interesting to note that Belgrade obviously wasn't in a hurry to rebuke from Russia either for attacking our troops in the allied zone at Trieste, or for making "a wicked, inexcusable and deliberate attack on a friendly nation's airplane." It remains to be seen whether Tito will receive a caution.

It strikes me as a fair assumption that at least one reason for Tito's hostility is to impress on the United States and the other western allies that outside interference isn't welcomed in the great Slavic bloc of which Yugoslavia is an important unit.

International Teachers Association Planned
ENDICOTT, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Delegates to the world conference of the teaching profession began work today on a proposed new International Teachers' Association.

Organization of the new world group is scheduled for tomorrow. A tentative charter says its purpose "shall be to promote the cause of education and the welfare of educators throughout the world; to discover the truth and foster dissemination of information in all forms; to promote the interests of world-wide peace and international good will; to secure international cooperation in educational enterprises and to support the United Nations and UNSECO (the official educational agency of the U. N.)."

Buffalo Bill's 'Pard' in Founding of Cody Dies

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Bronson Rumsey, one of the founders of Cody, Wyo., died yesterday at his summer home at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

Rumsey was born in Buffalo more than 90 years ago. He attended Buffalo schools before matriculating at Oxford university, England.

Upon his return to this country, he was associated with his father in the leather and real estate businesses. In the 1870's, he went west and, with William (Buffalo Bill) Cody, founded the city of Cody, where he had a ranch.
