If Vishinski had BLOWN UP, the method would have been jeopardized. So he SMILES, at the right time.

WE little people don't know what Russia is up to. It is probable that our top state department people do know—or at least have a shrewd idea. We didn't just go off at half-cock in Yugoslavia. That, too, was diplomacy.

Nor are we sending powerful warships to the Mediterranean just to give the crews a nice trip—or to give the Greeks, who "admired President Roosevelt," a grateful look at the big aircraft carrier that bears his name, as our navy explains with a straight face.

* * *

IT is a fair guess that Russia is probing us out to see how far it will be safe for her to go. It is an equally fair guess that we are beginning to say to Russia (using the language of diplomacy) that she can go just so far but no farther.

* * *

WHY?

Well, Hitler carried peaceful intimidation TOO FAR. (World expansion by means of peaceful intimidation is like the drug habit. It GROWS on its victim.) There are signs that Russia may be dosing herself with the same drug.

We are probably coming to the conclusion that it will be cheaper to stop her now.

* * *

THAT is guesswork, of course. But it seems to make sense in the light of events from day to day.

* * *

A WORD here from Herbert Hoover, who is wiser than narrow-minded people give him credit for. Back in San Marino after a revealing trip around the world, he says:

"Russia is obstructing all peace measures and all progress toward peace . . . She is strengthening her hold from the Baltic states through the Balkans . . . The Russians want time completely to consolidate communist control of people in those states east of the iron curtain and IN MANCHURIA.

"They are eliminating all dissident (opposing) elements. They are setting up concentration camps in each of those countries and are deporting many to Siberia."

* * *

THERE is another straw in the wind.

Father Frederick A. McGuire, head of the Franciscan mission in Shanghai, asserts in an interview that the Chinese communists have expelled all Catholic missionaries of his order from communist-held areas of Shansi province and have seized mission property.

Destroying religion is a part of the standard pattern of communism—or any other similar ism. Mussolini sought to undermine religion in fascist Italy. Hitler undertook to destroy it in nazi Germany. One of the first acts of the communists in Russia was to ban religion.

It is at least significant that the Chinese communists are following the same line.

A COMMITTEE PRECEDENT?

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Roseburg's Emergency Housing committee is causing to be printed in the News-Review a questionnaire concerned with prospective housing needs in Douglas County. We urge everyone who plans to build in the near future, if materials become available, to cooperate in the study now in progress by answering the few queries contained in the questionnaire and mailing to the given address.

It is not to be expected that the questionnaire will reach all prospective builders. Some persons will overlook it in the paper. A greater number will not go to the trouble of cutting it out, marking, and mailing to the committee, even though the work is being done for the public good. Too few people are willing to give even such small measure of cooperation, if it takes a little of their time and effort. Many persons, perhaps the greatest number of those directly affected, will not see the questionnaire, for they are newcomers who (for which we have deep regret), are not yet News-Review subscribers.

But every answer received will be of great aid to the committee in correctly estimating the number of homes, the percentage of veterans involved, average size of residences contemplated, amount of materials required, etc.

We are still of open mind regarding the effectiveness of this committee. It has been our observation that federal agencies glory in setting up local committees and then blithely ignoring every recommendation and suggestion, converting the committee as rapidly as possible into a propaganda agency, while conducting its administration of controls in its own merry way.

We have had assurance that this time it is to be different. The men engaged in setting up the local committee are most sincere. There is good reason to believe that for once a local committee is to be given more than token recognition. If this is true the emergency housing committee can be of great importance in bringing about realization of the building needs, both commercial and residential, in Douglas County. We should not neglect any opportunity to cooperate with a committee which might possibly establish a precedent in the bureaucratic control system.

There is every evidence of a determined crackdown on building activities. Housing Expediter Wyatt sounded off a little too freely when he took office, and so far has been able to get under construction only about one-half the number of houses he had promised for this year. As a result, a great deal of commercial construction, some of it of essential nature, is being denied priorities so that Wyatt can get more homes under way and thus fulfill his predictions.

Yet, in an area growing as rapidly as Douglas County, a considerable amount of commercial building is as essential as home construction. A local committee can judge local needs far better than a bureaucratic official sitting in a swivel chair at Portland, Seattle, San Francisco or Washington.

Two federal inspectors who have been operating in Roseburg for several days have secured stop orders on a number of local buildings—residential, commercial and public. Some of these buildings were started before the housing control was instituted. Others were begun without authorization or priority. One building affected is the combined band and shop being built by the Roseburg School District, adjoining the senior high school, now almost completed, and needed when school starts only about two weks hence. Interference with this project, started before priorities were required, will impose a severe handicap upon our school system, unless the stop order is immediately withdrawn or ignored, for the use of this building for shop and band activities will release at least two badly needed classrooms.

We need a local committee to steer bureaucratic efforts in the right direction. If such a committee is given recognition by the bureau with which it cooperates, its recommendations given proper consideration, it can be of great community value.

A cooperative test certainly is in order, and we urge participation by all affected persons in the study now in progress.

Pause a moment before you join in the wholesale condemnation of juvenile radio shows. A special citation to Mutual Don Lee's "Superman" series was presented on yesterday's broadcast, for its current campaign against intolerance and bigotry. The Tom Mix program is going all out on a Safety Program for school children, which has enlisted the whole-hearted support of parents, teachers and various civic groups. Maybe we don't like to admit it, but the youngsters listen to their air-wave idols when our many "do this" and "don't do that" admonitions are so much water on a duck's back.

Pastor Accused in Crash That Killed Four Men

PAMPA, Tex., Aug. 29.—(AP)—The Rev. Antonio Marino, Baptist minister of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has been charged with negligent homicide in the death of four persons in a two-car collision near Alanreed, Tex., Tuesday night, according to Gray County Attorney Bruce Parker.

He has been placed under technical arrest in a Shamrock, Tex., hospital where he was taken after the accident. He was driver of one of the two cars in the collision which killed his brother and three Catholic priests.

The priests were Father General Peter Thomas Siolo, 56, Rome, Italy, head of the International Carmelite Brotherhood of the Catholic Church; Father Joseph V. Canavella, of Oklahoma City, and Father John Baptista, Rome, Italy, Father Siolo's secretary.

Cono Marino, 43, New York, brother of the minister, was killed.

The Catholics were traveling west to inspect monasteries and convents of the Carmelite order. They were en route at the time to Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Gino Marino was in a car traveling east, driven by his brother. The Rev. Marino, his wife, 36, and a three-year-old son were injured.

Oregon Polio Cases Upped By Twelve During Week

PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Twelve new cases of infantile paralysis were listed in Oregon the week ending August 24, the same number as the week previous, the state health bulletin reported today.

Five cases were in Portland, three in Multnomah County outside the city, and one each in Clackamas, Josephine and Yamhill counties.

The 34th case stricken in the city this year was reported yesterday, a 3-year-old girl living in a southeast suburb.

William Gilbert, Queen Elizabeth's physician, coined the word electric.

Wyatt Would Set Aside All Hardwood For Home Builders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The entire national output of hardwood flooring and millwork will be earmarked for home builders, if Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt has his way, a subordinate disclosed yesterday.

This proposal and other suggested controls on labor were up for discussion at a meeting between housing officials and aides of John D. Small, the civilian production administrator.

Lumber, the most important building material, was not covered in a sweeping series of new government construction controls announced Tuesday night — including a 27 per cent cut in factory, store, school and other nonresidential building.

Wyatt predicted the new actions will "transfer the materials shortage squeeze" from housing to other construction and will help builders complete thousands of partly finished homes" before winter sets in."

Small joined Wyatt in announcing the actions. They had disagreed on the program until Reconversion Chief John Steelman stepped in as arbiter. Apparently Steelman's peacemaking failed to cover lumber.

A housing official said Wyatt has been plugging for an order which would reserve for home builders 100 per cent of hardwood flooring — beech, oak, hard maple, pecan and birch — and all regular door frames, window frames and other millwork.

Some of the new controls already announced are almost that drastic. Ninety-five per cent of all bathtubs, 90 per cent of water closets and lavatories, 85 per cent of gypsum board and lath, and 75 per cent of more than 40 other materials must be set aside by manufacturers and dealers for sale only to holders of veterans' housing priorities.

This is effective September 1, Wyatt said, along with a big increase in the list of building materials subject to priority control.

Turkey Crop to Be Under Record of Last Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The agriculture department reported yesterday that this year's turkey crop is expected to be nine per cent smaller than last year's record crop.

The department said that a preliminary survey indicates 41,013,000 head will be raised, compared with 44,991,000 last year. However, this year's prospective crop is 27 per cent larger than the 1938-42 average.

The decline from last year was said to reflect an uncertainty of feed supplies at spring hatching time, higher feed costs, and an uncertain fall market outlook.

The department said that with a 28 per cent decrease in California and only a five per cent decrease in Texas, California was replaced by Texas as the leading turkey producing state. Minnesota two per cent decrease, took second place with California third.

Boys Win Top Cooking Honors at 4-H Contest

COQUILLE, Ore., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Coos County 4-H Club members don't give a hoot who wears the apron so long as what's cooking turns out okay.

Two boys, Dean and Darwin Vanleuven, Parkersburg, whipped up a tasty batch of cheese biscuits to win the home economics contest and take a trip to the State Fair.

Meanwhile, a pair of girls teamed with one boy to take places on the championship livestock judging team. Louise Southmayd and Alice May Miller will enter the State Fair competition as teammates of Paul Davis.

And the agricultural demonstration team is made up of two girls, Karen Peterson and Darlene Sherbondy, Hayes Inlet, who won with a demonstration of how to clean a milking machine.

New York is planning a $202,000,000 highway across the state: toll-free, no traffic lights, no intersections, six traffic lanes and a view of at least 1,000 feet ahead all along the route.
