Marry in Seattle, July 14

Mr. and Mrs. Varney Claude Baker.

In the presence of one hundred guests, Miss Louise Ethel Eggers became the bride of Varney Claude Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Claude Baker of Roseburg, at eight o'clock the evening of July 14 at St. Johns Episcopal Church in Seattle with Rev. E. C. Schmeiser officiating. The church was candlelighted and decorated with cream and pink gladioli. Preceding the double ring ceremony, Charles Draper, soloist, sang, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "Always," accompanied by Mrs. Martin Olsen, organist, who played the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Jess Eggers, was beautiful in a princess style gown of nylon marquisette fashioned with a full train edged in lace. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Dale K. Eggers was matron of honor and wore blue net with a closely fitted bodice, bouffant skirt and headdress of blue net and pink flowers. Her bouquet was of pink gladioli.

Miss Betty Baker, Roseburg, sister of the bridegroom, in peach net and Miss Betty Rau of Pittsburgh, Pa., in orchid net, with matching coronet headdress of flowers, were bridesmaids. They carried bouquets of gladioli in matching colors. Beverly Ann Begg of Port Angeles, Wash., was flower girl and wore yellow net with a matching headdress and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and blue flowers. William Turner, Roseburg, was best man and Mack Brown of Glde, Ore., and Ted Knudson were ushers.

A reception followed at the parish house. Mrs. Ross Crawford and Mrs. Louis Pruess poured. Mrs. Don Whitstone cut the Maltese cross wedding cake and Mrs. George Turbaugh and Mrs. A. R. Stewart assisted. Mrs. Lucy Jewett presided at the punch bowl.

For traveling the bride chose a suit of deep rose with brown accessories and a white hat. Her corsage was an orchid. Upon their return from their honeymoon, July 22, they went to Renton, Wash., to make their home.

The bride is a sophomore at University of Washington from which the bridegroom was graduated in June 1946. He received his commission as an ensign in the U. S. Navy on June 5.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. C. M. Rau and Miss Kathryn Alfiero of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Los Angeles; Captain and Mrs. Henry Anderson and daughter, Miss Bonnie, of Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. Chet Davis of Wenatchee, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. T. Claude Baker and daughter, Miss Betty; William Turner and Mack Brown of Roseburg.

MRS. NORMAN CRITES HONORED AT BRIDAL SHOWER THURSDAY

A very enjoyable bridal shower party was given at the Claude Baker home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Norman Crites, nee Maxine Howard. Gladioli bouquets were used about the rooms and formed the attractive low arrangement for the lace-covered serving table. A beautiful antique punch bowl graced one end of the table.

Lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Crites from: Mrs. C. R. Fream, Mrs. Earl Wiley, Mrs. Irvin Brunn, Mrs. Ellis Bar, Mrs. Scott Phillips, Mrs. Theo Bond, Mrs. J. H. Lienhard, Mrs. W. F. Amiot, Mrs. W. L. Blaker, Mrs. Edgar Sumner, Mrs. John Macdonald, Mrs. M. E. Ritter.

Mrs. Vera McClintock Jones, Mrs. E. A. Post, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. J. Ross Hutchinson, Mrs. R. D. Williams, Mrs. Jack Wharton, Mrs. Malinda Miller, Mrs. Leslie C. Cummings, Mrs. George Leeper, Mrs. E. R. Kenny, Miss Barbara Settem, Miss Patricia Mayo, Miss Helen Falbe, Miss Barbara Fream, Miss Leslie Jones, Miss Grace Chapel, Miss Frances Moore, Miss Bess Wharton, Miss Agnes Pitchford, Miss Dorothy Smith and Mrs. Claude Baker.

Visiting was enjoyed and lovely refreshments were served.

Mrs. Crites served two years with the WAVES and later resumed her work with the Douglas Welfare Commission. She resigned last week to move with her husband to Portland.

Marry at Episcopal Church, August 21st

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kennerly, Jr.

Graceful arrangements of white gladioli, numerous candelabra holding tall tapers and aisles marked with satin ribbons and bows formed an all-white setting for the impressive wedding ceremony Wednesday, August 21, when Miss Joanne Christine Hume, only daughter of Mrs. James Compton Hume and the late Mr. Hume, became the bride of Oris Alden Kennerly, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kennerly, Sr., of Roseburg. Father William Blaker performed the nuptials at four o'clock in the afternoon at St. George's Episcopal Church in Roseburg in the presence of one hundred and seventy-five relatives and close friends of the couple.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. Robert Kelly played softly on the organ. She accompanied Mrs. Vera McClintock Jones, who sang "O Perfect Love" and played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her late father's brother, Robert J. Hume of Roseville, Calif., was very beautiful in a floor-length princess style gown fashioned with a satin bodice with yoke of marquisette outlined in seed pearls; marquisette skirt with a full train and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was edged in lace and held in place with a Juliet cap of seed pearls and crystals. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white prayer book topped by a white orchid.

Mrs. Eugene Powell, matron of honor, wore a peach-colored jersey gown and carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli with peach-colored throat arranged with loops and streamers of maline. Miss Mary Margaret Ellsworth and Miss Anita Young, bridesmaids, wore blue lace and marquisette gowns and carried shower bouquets of pink gladioli. All three attendants wore matching headbands fashioned with double ruffle bands of maline with side-roses of gladioli blossoms.

The bride's mother wore a gown of soft-blue jersey with embroidered bodice and silver belt. She wore a matching feather hat, long white gloves and her corsage was a large purple orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink and black print crepe dress with black accessories and her corsage was a large purple orchid. The church was decorated by Mrs. M. E. Ritter, Mrs. Velle Broadway and Mrs. George Wharton.

A reception followed at the attractive home of the bride's mother on Blakeley street. Huge bouquets of pink gladioli were arranged about the rooms. The lace-covered bride's table was decorated in white, silver and crystal and the tiered wedding cake, topped by a rose, was cut by the bridegroom and served by Mrs. Will H. Gerretsen. Pink and white gladioli and tall white tapers graced the table. Mrs. Fred Hamilton and Mrs. A. A. Wilder presided at the punch bowls and Mrs. John H. Robinson and Mrs. Harris Ellsworth assisted in serving. Miss Jane Ellsworth, Miss Fredricka Hamilton and Miss D'Ann Shoemaker assisted about the room. Suzanne Lee had charge of the guest book. The many beautiful wedding gifts were arranged in one large room. Mrs. G. V. Wimberly had charge of the table decorations.

During the reception, Mrs. Vera McClintock Jones sang "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Robert Kelly on the piano.

For traveling the bride chose a red wool suit embroidered in black with black blouse, matching accessories and a top coat of black with white gloves. She wore a white orchid corsage. Following a honeymoon to Crater and Diamond Lakes, Mr. and Mrs. Kennerly returned to Roseburg and at present are residing at the Church apartments at 205 S. Kane street and Mr. Kennerly has resumed his duties at the Associated Company stall at the corner of Stephens and Brockway streets.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hume of Roseville, Calif.; Mrs. J. C. MacInnes, Mrs. William B. Buffum (sister of the late Mr. Hume) and her son, William H. Buffum; Mrs. Marguerite Nicholson, niece of the late Mr. Hume) and her son, James Nicholson, all of Portland; Mrs. J. A. Slusser, sister of the bridegroom, and Frank Weber and J. L. Richey, all of Klamath Falls.

The bride was graduated from

Roseburg Senior High School and attended University of Oregon, where she was pledged to Alpha Delta Pi sorority. The bridegroom attended grade and high school at Klamath Falls and was graduated from Roseburg Senior High School. He attended American University of Washington, D. C.
