Nations defense of Greece "if Greece's security is endangered by the acts of an AGGRESSOR nation."

(If Greece's security is endangered, it will be by RUSSIAN-BACKED Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.)

* * *

THE Paris peace conference votes 15 to 6 (more than the necessary two-thirds) for opening of the Danube to free navigation.

(Russia, who controls the Black Sea mouth of the Danube, which is the world's most important inland waterway, has been demanding control of Danube navigation by the nations bordering on the great river. The nations bordering the Danube are Russian-dominated nations.)

* * *

WHAT does it all mean? Well, apparently, it means just this:

Our side (led by the United States and Britain) is forcing the issue on Russian demands for expansion.

* * *

WE'RE saying NO to Russia's contention that she and little Turkey should control the Dardanelles exclusively.

We're warning that we will join in the defense of Greece if little Greece's security is threatened.

We win in the peace conference our contention that the Danube should be a free artery of commerce, open to all the nations of the world, instead of a Russian-dominated canal.

* * *

WHAT will Russia do about it? Well, time will tell. It appears at the very least that our side is determined to FIND OUT. What we're doing looks very much like forcing Russia's hand.

ALASKA is voting about two-to-one for statehood—which will cost more but will be worth more.

Among the STATES, too much government has already been moved to Washington. Among the territories, practically ALL government is in Washington.

Alaska obviously wants at least SOME of her government at home.

IN Washington, the American Forest Congress is gathered comfortably to discuss the protection of the forests from fire. Into this pleasant party, W. R. Schofield, secretary-manager of the California Forest Protective association, tosses a bombshell. He says:

"All the forest fire protection in the world will do no good if insects and disease are allowed to spread. The West Coast may lose its entire timber resources unless more is done to control insects and disease."

There's always something, you see.

Wrecked Truck Destroyed by Fire

REEDSPORT — A tank truck and trailer belonging to the Ashhur Transportation Company of Portland and driven by Lee Linbaugh left Highway 38, one mile east of Reedsport, Monday, and overturned between the highway and the river. The driver was uninjured, although somewhat shaken.

Wednesday a wrecker pulled the tank and trailer to the roadway and after it was righted, an attempt was made to start the motor. Considerable amount of diesel oil in the load tanks had spilled, however, and gotten into the motor.

When the motor was started, the diesel oil was ignited and the truck was destroyed by fire. The Reedsport fire department vainly attempted to extinguish the blaze, but did protect the roadway.

THE BALLOT MEASURES

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Nine state measures and a special proposal by Douglas County will be on the ballot at the forthcoming general election Nov. 5, while residents of the City of Roseburg will, in addition, vote on a charter amendment creating the office of city manager.

Of the nine state measures, five are fairly simple of understanding and require but little study as the points involved are not complicated. On the other hand, four are complex and involve basic and fundamental principles which deserve most thorough consideration prior to election day.

The two local issues are clearly defined.

The county court, upon petition, is submitting a special measure to levy a tax of one-mill annually against all taxable property for a period of three years, the money so raised to be used in construction of buildings and facilities at the county fair grounds recently acquired in Umpqua Park, to make possible resumption of the annual county fair.

The Roseburg issue, that of a city manager, would result in changing the form of government in that the city council, which would retain all present powers of government, would be authorized to appoint a manager to superintend the city's business. The manager would have the power of appointment of department heads, subject to approval by the council. The proposed charter amendment gives the council the right to remove the manager "without cause" as a safeguard against any loss of authority.

We propose, prior to election day, to discuss the state and local measures in more detail. We do not ask readers to accept our opinions. We simply urge that every voter familiarize himself with the provisions and purposes of these measures so that he may vote intelligently when the time comes to mark his ballot.

Our comments in this column in discussing the various measures will, in some instances, be most definitely opinionated. We have no quarrel with differing opinions and do not seek acceptance of our views. We urge only that every voter give conscientious study in order that his vote may be intelligently cast.

The nine state measures are as follows:

1. A constitutional amendment providing for succession to office of governor, placing the president of the senate, speaker of the house, secretary of state or the state treasurer, in the order named, in succession for the office of governor, upon removal of the governor from office or upon his death, resignation, absence from the state, or other inability to discharge his duties.

2. A bill authorizing a tax of 45/100 of a mill annually for a period of 10 years to acquire sites, construct and equip armories, as funds become available in the following order: Baker, Bend, Portland, La Grande, Oregon City, Pendleton, Ontario, Newberg, The Dalles, Hillsboro, Corvallis, Grants Pass, Forest Grove, Hood River, St. Helens, Lebanon, Lakeview, Gresham, Prineville, Hermiston, Newport, Seaside, and such other cities as military requirements dictate.

3. A bill establishing rural school districts and school boards. This measure would set up a county school board to oversee all districts except those of first class, equalizing the tax for the county as a whole. It is a complicated measure which will be discussed in more detail at a later date.

4. A bill authorizing Chinamen to hold real estate and mining claims; a bill clarifying the state constitution to bring it into conformity with provisions of the U. S. Constitution, treaties and laws.

5. An amendment permitting legislative bills to be read by title. Actually, this is an anti-filibuster measure which would speed the work of the state legislature.

6. A constitutional amendment increasing the number of senators to 31.

7. A bill regulating fishing in coastal stream and inland waters. This is the bill with affirmative ballot title No. 312, previously discussed in this column and about which more will be said later.

8. An initiative bill to create state old-age and disability pension fund. Known as the Little Townsend bill, this measure would provide a 3 per cent gross income tax. It is almost identical to the bill defeated at the 1944 election by a very narrow margin, the main difference being that this is a legislative bill and not a constitutional amendment.

9. A bill to create a basic school fund by annual tax levy. This measure would authorize a tax levy, outside the 6 per cent limitation, sufficient to produce $50 per capita for each child in the state between the ages of 4 and 20 years, according to the latest school census. The levy would be in addition to all other state taxes, except the two-mill tax now levied for the state elementary school fund and the state school support fund.

Hood River, Grant Grid Teams Still Lead Prep Parade

(By the Associated Press)

Hood River and Grant of Portland, carrying on as if they didn't know anyone had turned the calendar, continue to dominate high school football as the state's two major undefeated, untied and unscored-on elevens.

The two 1945 football finalists took a step closer to this year's playoffs last night as Hood River walloped previously unbeaten Gresham, 48-0, and Grant gained undisputed lead of the Portland league by downing Roosevelt, 21-0. It was Hood River's fourth win, Grant's third.

McMinnville, not generally rated with the two leaders, nevertheless maintained its undefeated, untied and unscored-on standing, by bouncing Hillsboro, 26-0 from unbeaten ranks to take the lead in the Tualatin-Yamhill valley league.

Three other teams in the state kept pace: Parkrose nosed out Hill Military, 6-0; Molalla trimmed Estacada, 21-0, and Dallas rebuffed Mt. Angel, 24-0.

Roseburg, which has been scored on, but otherwise is flawless, added its fourth straight win, defeating Springfield, 13-7.

In eastern Oregon, Ontario, unbeaten in district play, appeared as a power in downing La Grande, one of the Blue Mountain conference leaders, 20-6.

Bend retained its Big Six leadership by outpowering Salem, 26-19. Pendleton showed power in measuring The Dalles, 37-13. In southern Oregon, Ashland defeated Yreka, Calif., 26-7. Other scores follow:

Junction City 6, Chemawa 6.
Oregon City 6, Corvallis 0.
Cottage Grove 19, University Hi 0.
Myrtle Point 19, Marshfield 13.

Deaths Reported From Communicable Diseases

Two cases of communicable diseases were reported in Douglas County during the week ending October 5 by the Oregon State Board of Health. There was one case of mumps in the county, and one case of syphilis.

Three deaths were reported from communicable diseases—one from pneumonia or influenza, two from syphilis. The county also suffered one infant death during August, and 10 infant deaths from January through August.

Seventh Game Will Decide World Series

Brecheen's Mound Work Leads Cardinals to 4-1 Victory in Sixth Battle

By JACK HAND

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14. — (AP) — Sam Breadon is selling tickets today for a seventh World Series game at Sportsman's park because his St. Louis Cardinals have as many lives as a cat — Harry "the cat" Brechcen.

If it weren't for the little left-hander, the Boston Red Sox would have been measured for series rings long ago and the Red Birds would be scattered to the four winds instead of planning strategy for tomorrow's finale.

In the cold light of dawn there is room for a solid suspicion that "the cat" and the Cards spent their last life in a 4-1 win yesterday. The Sox have Dave Ferriss, their 25-game winner, primed for a second straight shutout bid and there is no reason to believe he won't be just as effective as he was in Boston.

Murry Dickson has received the nod to hurl for the Cardinals.

An extra day of rest will benefit the Cards more than the Sox for the American League champs had done little more than wait since Sept. 13 when they clinched the pennant. Their problem has been to regain the fine edge they held in mid-season and they haven't done it yet.

In yesterday's game the Cardinals jumped on Mickey Harris for five hits in the third inning and Tex Hughson was rushed to the mound. Hughson turned back St. Louis with two hits before he went out for a pinch-hitter. Lefty Earl Johnson succeeded him and yielded the final Redbird run in the eighth.

Precedent is all on the side of the Cardinals in the seventh game for the National league has taken six of the nine previous "classics" that went the seven-game limit. Three times the Cardinals have won in seven, in 1926, 1931 and 1934.

However last year it went all the way and Detroit came out on top.

U. C. L. A. Looms as Ultimate Winner of Coast Grid Crown

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. — (AP) — Out in the clear and setting the pace as a real championship team, the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins today are a lap nearer the goal that all concerned are now convinced will be achieved — a visit to the Rose Bowl.

When the southern Bruins bowled over Stanford's previously undefeated eleven Saturday the last vestige of doubt was removed. U. C. L. A. may run head-on into unexpected trouble, and undoubtedly will have to go all out to overcome the California Bears at Berkeley this Saturday, but everything considered, U. C. L. A. figures to ramble from here on in.

In running up a 26-6 count on Stanford, the Bruins outscored what now shapes up as the second best team in the coast conference. The U. C. L. A. outfit had whipped Oregon State 50-7 and Washington 39-13, a worthy feat in either instance.

The victories are the more impressive in view of the fact that Oregon State has beaten Southern California 6-0, and Washington bounced back for a 21-7 decision over Washington State. Southern California, the pre-season championship favorite, struggled to beat Washington State 13-7 in the schedule opener.

The UCLA-California meeting at Berkeley rates as the west coast's "game of the week." California showed improved power to win from St. Mary's Gaels, 20-13 last week.

Oregon, 34-0 victor over Montana and undefeated in the conference but less impressive in its victories than UCLA, will take on the visiting Washington State team at Eugene, the latter a two-time league loser.

Trophy Play Scheduled On Country Club Greens

Medal play for the Harry Williams course record trophy will be continued at the Country Club Sunday, October 13, with an 18-hole medal play sweepstakes scheduled.

Handicap events for the less experienced players will also be held, and several special prizes will also be held, and several special prizes will be given.

The course record in official medal play tournaments for the year is now 37 for nine holes, being held jointly by Ward Cummings, Sr., Chas. Kash, Maurice Hallmark and Rolstyn Bridges.

All players are urged to participate in the Sunday events.

Morgan, Cummings Tie In Sweepstakes Golf

"Skinny" Morgan and Ward Cummings tied for low score in the Sweepstakes held Sunday, October 13 at the Roseburg Country Club, with totals of 78 for the eighteen holes. Morgan's net score of 78-7-71 was good for the handicap prize. Charlie Kash won close to the pin, Morgan won long drive, and Weston Crow won blind bogey.

KRNR DIAL-LOG

In a four-network toss-up to determine which web would cover the historic war crimes executions on October 16th, Mutual won, with Arthur Gaeth chosen as reporting newsman. As one of the two American correspondents who will witness hanging of the eleven German war criminals convicted by the International Military Tribunal, Gaeth will be one of eight newsmen representing the collective Allied nations.

Mutual's astute Sleuth, "Nick Carter," was one of the two original "Master Detectives," the other being "Sherlock Holmes." "Nick" nabbed his first criminal on the pages of Street and Smith's New York Weekly back in 1886. Since that time "Nick Carter" stories have sold more than 400 million copies, thus antidating "Sherlock Holmes," who was first introduced in 1887, in the story "A Study in Scarlet."

Boy Gives No Reason For Killing His Mother

KNOXVILLE, Ia., Oct. 14. —(AP) — A Marion county farm boy, quoted by sheriff's deputies as saying "I just had an urge to shoot something," was charged with first degree murder here in the killing of his mother.

The youth, who first gave his name as Maynard Griebbien, told officers it was Maynard Huffenbarger and added "I never saw my father."

Mrs. May Griebbien, 55, who was found Thursday shot in the hip at her nearby farm home, died that night in a hospital.

Her son signed a statement, Deputy Sheriff Loren Jarman said, admitting fatally wounding his mother. Jarman said the youth told him "I don't know why I shot her."

Mrs. Mary Moore to Open Grocery in Roseburg

Mrs. Mary Moore, resident of Roseburg for the last 11 years, has resigned her position at Marshall-Wells store, where she has been employed for four and a half years, to open a neighborhood grocery at 102 North Parrott street. The store will formally open Wednesday, October 16.

Mrs. Moore stated that she had chosen Roseburg to make her home because of it being a "homey" type of town and a good place for her to bring up her children.
