

TWO KILLED IN DAYS CREEK-OWNED AUTO

Man, Woman Fire Victims In Arizona

Vehicle Registered to Melville Hanna; Names Of Dead Not Yet Learned

A man and woman burned to death at Salome, Ariz., early today in an automobile believed to be owned by Melville S. Hanna, Days Creek, Ore., rancher, after its crash into a cattle truck.

Efforts to identify the victims through its 1946 Oregon license plate were made by the Arizona highway patrol. The license number, given as 2-235, had been issued to Hanna, Salem authorities said this morning.

It was not known, however, whether Hanna or members of his family were traveling in the car at the time of the accident. The collision occurred, State Highway Patrolman Joe Mulcaire said at Salome, when the passenger car attempted to pass a lumber truck and smashed head-on into the cattle truck. The truck driver was not injured.

Hanna is the manager of Mrs. Natalie Baum's ranch at Days Creek.

Rumored Attempt to Kill Pope Pius Flatly Denied

ROME, Oct. 21. — (AP) — An informant at Italian police headquarters said today that "vague reports" were received there some days ago of an impending attempt on the life of Pope Pius XII.

The informant said these reports—which an intensive investigation had failed so far to substantiate—said the plot had been fomented by Yugoslav elements in the Vatican's action in excommunicating Yugoslav Catholic officials held responsible for the collaboration trial of Archbishop Stepanac Stepanac, head of the Catholic church in Yugoslavia, was convicted and sentenced to 16 years imprisonment.

Italian police issued last night a flat denial of rumors which spread here and abroad yesterday, that an attempt actually had been made to assassinate the pope.

Coast Assn. to Bid for Greater Tourist Trade

GEARHART, Ore., Oct. 21. — (AP) — The Oregon Coast Association was meeting here today to mull ways of bringing still more tourists to the state's beaches next year.

Sports fishing, advertising, taxation and highway development are on the convention's four-day agenda.

A few newcomers to the coast, who "taxi" tourists' and consequently harm the standing of other coastal businessmen, were criticized by Archie B. Sanders, association secretary, in his annual report. He reported the association's membership doubled within the last year, and the advertising budget reached a new high.

Reedsport Council Votes For City-Owned Utility

REEDSPORT, Ore., Oct. 21. — (AP) — The Reedsport city council has voted to establish a municipal light and power system.

Mayor John Skaalunen issued orders for the purchase of a diesel power plant and for negotiations to open with the Central Lincoln People's Utility District for purchase of distribution lines in Reedsport, Gardiner and Winchester bay.

Council members said the decision stemmed from a recent break in the PUD line at Coos bay, which left this area without PUD service for five days.

Astoria Distributors Defer Milk Price Hike

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 21. — (AP) — Astoria milk prices, which usually follow Portland trends, clung to the established 16 1/2 cents a quart price today.

Local distributors said they would not duplicate the 18-cent price which went into effect in Portland, at least until after an Oct. 25 milk board hearing here.

Bread, Flour Controls Due For Discard

Ouster Order Expected This Week; Auto Price Tops Likely to Stand

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — (AP) — Both OPA and Agriculture Department officials indicated today that price controls will drop from flour, bread and other baked goods this week, possibly today or tomorrow.

An OPA spokesman pointed out that controls had been removed from all fats and oils, including shortening, which are a big share of bakers' costs.

Today was the deadline for action by the Agriculture Department upon a decontrol petition from the baked goods industry.

Agriculture previously had denied a decontrol request by millers but the industry renewed its petition and a public hearing was conducted last week.

Freeing of flour, bread and other goods from "rice ceilings" would reduce OPA controls to a small share of the average family's food. Cereals make up about 13 per cent of the average family budget and about 30 per cent of the food budget had been freed from price lids previously.

Auto Price Up to Limit

On the automobile front, where four industry-wide increases in the last year have boosted ceilings roughly 22 per cent above 1942 prices, the OPA official told a reporter:

"Most of the major manufacturers agree with us that automobile prices have gone about as high under ceilings as they should."

The official declined to comment on the day's news.

"The administration is pushing ahead with plans to take federal curbs (both wage controls and price controls) OFF the nation's economy."

The dispatch adds that November 1 is pegged as the tentative deadline for removal of most price ceilings.

WHAT that means POLITICAL-Why is that the administration has decided that more votes can be obtained by taking off the controls than by leaving them on—which is a cynical way of saying that in the opinion of the political experts price control is no longer popular in this country.

WHAT will it mean in the way of higher prices and spreading inflation?

If you are wise you will watch and wait and make no wild predictions. With artificial controls off, prices will ultimately be determined by supply and demand.

Supply and demand will be affected by WHAT PEOPLE ARE WILLING TO PAY.

THERE are some interesting straws in the supply and demand winds.

Immediately after removal of meat controls, prime steers (the kind from which the big, thick steaks come) sold on the bid-and-

U. S.-Occupied Area Target of Nazi Bombs

STUTTGART, Germany, Oct. 21. — (AP) — A ranking, unnamed American Army official said today he expected more bombing like the weekend blasts in the Stuttgart area, as "protests against the denazification program."

U. S. military and German criminal police worked with counter intelligence agents in efforts to crack the bombing of two denazification board headquarters and the U. S. military jail, which some investigators thought to be connected to the approaching German trial of Hjalmar Schacht, truculent old banker who was acquitted at Nuernberg. No one was hurt.

Schacht, under arrest in a German prison some distance from the one which was bombed, shouted to a reporter from his cell that the bombings were "obviously a democratic protest against the Hitlerite measures of the Germans who want to try me again."

Other Bombings Reported

The city of Stuttgart offered a $2,500 reward for information. American authorities disclosed that an American motor pool was destroyed in an explosion in the Mannheim area early this month and that a week before the Stuttgart bombings, an American Army officer's car was demolished south of here by a infernal machine. The investigators thought both incidents "possibly may have some connection."

The woman, whose wealthy rancher-husband, W. D. Broadhurst, 51, was found slugged and shot on a desolate road between his Caldwell dairy farm and his Jordan Valley, Ore., cattle ranch, conferred in jail here with her attorney.

At Vale, District Attorney E. Otis Smith said Williams admitted the slaying in the presence of several officers but the prosecutor refused to speculate on the motive of the crime.

Broadhurst's body was found last Thursday, four days after he was reported missing.

The couple, who were married five months ago at Reno, Nev., first met 20 years ago while attending Albion, Idaho, normal school.

Both Williams and Mrs. Broadhurst will be tried in January, Smith said.

Strike of 1,400 Commercial Pilots for Wage Hikes Halts Flights in U. S., and Overseas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — (AP) — A strike by pilots—first of its kind in commercial aviation—halted all flights today by Trans World Airlines planes in the United States and across the Atlantic.

The surprise walkout capped a months-long controversy over higher wages for the company's 1,400 pilots and co-pilots who have been earning from $7,600 to $9,100 a year, including base pay and other allowances.

Shortly after the strike began, the company canceled more than 90 scheduled flights for a 24-hour period and announced the cancellation would be extended each day unless the strike ends.

The company estimated that 3,000 passengers booked on grounded planes were stranded or shunted to trains and other airlines. Approximately 25 tons of mail likewise were shifted to other transportation.

TWA, the nation's fourth largest air carrier, was the only airline hit by the strike which David L. Behncke, head of the AFL Airline Pilots Association, described as a "last recourse" in the prolonged wage dispute.

The union rejected last month a government fact-finding board's recommendations for settlement of the controversy. Both sides disputed the effect of the board's findings.

Pittsburgh Strike Ends

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21. — (AP) — Industrial life in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area swung back towards normal today upon the end of a 27-day power strike—longest and costliest in the nation's history.

Hundreds of industrial plants resumed work at full speed to make up for lost production. Street car transportation was normal again and bus line operations almost normal.

With 3,200 unionized Duquesne Light Company employees back at work the Sun-Telegraph estimated the strike cost the steel capital "at least $300,000,000" in business and wages.

Conciliation sessions to end a 21-day-old hotel strike, also costing the city considerable business, resume today. The eight largest hotels here have been virtually closed, resulting in cancellation of a number of conventions.

The power strike ended when the light company employees voted to submit their demands for a 20 per cent wage increase and other issues to arbitration.

NO PROOF—Lt. Col. W. F. Heimlich, American intelligence officer in Berlin, believes that Hitler is still alive. "There is no evidence that Hitler killed himself," Heimlich said, adding that investigation failed to produce any proof whatever of the Fuehrer's death.

Slides, Accidents Rain's Aftermath

(By the Associated Press)

Heavy rain pelted Western Oregon over the weekend and the weatherman's forecast of continued showers brought warnings today of earth slides on some steep highways.

Highway accidents piled up through the state in Portland, the safety department reported more than 50 accidents Saturday night and Sunday morning, a record. More than half resulted in arrests and a score of pedestrians and motorists went to hospitals for treatment.

Highway crews were called out to clear slides from the Evergreen Highway at Cape Horn and near Stella on the Ocean Beach Highway below Longview, Wash., where 1.52 inches of rain fell in 24 hours.

A downpour of .78 of an inch flooded many Seattle streets as overtaxed drains were unable to handle the runoff.

ONLY ONE IN OREGON THIS YEAR

Northwestern Turkey Show, In Roseburg Dec. 9-12, Bids For Fullest Participation

Poultrymen throughout the Northwest are being invited this month through agricultural extension services and direct solicitation, to participate in the 16th annual Northwestern Turkey Show in Roseburg, December 9 to 12, George M. Routledge, show manager, said.

The Northwestern show is the only turkey show in Oregon this year. Two shows in California and one in Washington are making "strong bids" for Oregon entries, but it will be "up to Oregon turkey breeders to support the Roseburg show," Routledge commented.

Space limitations will govern the number of entries from each producer. The Roseburg Armory, where the show will be held this year as last, is limited to approximately 400 birds. Exhibitors may cage two hens of the same breed together, but must cage toms separately. Bronze breeders will be limited to 10 entries.

Next year, Routledge said, it is the hope of the Northwestern Turkey show to have its own permanent exhibit building at the county fairgrounds, where the show may attain the proportions of the old Oakland show, which some years had as many as 1,200 entries.
