B. P. W. C. MEETING HELD AT POTLUCK SUPPER MONDAY NIGHT

The B. P. W. C. held one of their largest and gayest dinner meetings last Monday night at the charming home of one of its members, Mrs. Jean Whittenburg, on 135 Blakely. A planned potluck supper was served buffet-style from a charmingly appointed table in coral pink gladiolus and tapers.

Evalu Russell, talented vocalist of the club entertained with two numbers, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Pale Moon."

The chairman of the dramatics section, Hazel Dixon, came forth with a most delightful and entertaining skit entitled "Gilted Tink." The lines were written in the vernacular of honest, hardy, big-hearted country folk of several decades ago; the costumes were authentic dress of fifty or more years ago. Mrs. Dixon, taking the part of the bossy "ma," was attired in an especially lovely old dress fashioned with intricate detail. Elmer Sher, in the person of "pa," wore a complete dress suit, with celluloid collar. Alvia Wetherell and Florence Snedaker were the helpful farmer lassies, and Ina Farnsworth the business-minded photographer.

Mary Lobek, an old friend of many of the older members, has just returned to Roseburg, after having spent several years in her native Denmark during the war. Miss Lobek gave a most interesting talk on her stay in Denmark, and told of some of the harrowing experiences of encountering the Gestapo of the German occupation. She also told of her work interviewing prisoners and prisoners, having the decided advantage of being able to speak both the Danish language and the American. It was most touching to hear Miss Lobek relate her happiness to return to her home in the United States and her family.

Al Flegel gave the main speech of the evening, choosing for his topic the theme of the B. P. W. C. for National Business Women's Week, "Let's Work Together for Better Communities." Mr. Flegel enumerated the many social, civic activities in which the members might engage in order to help to develop public utilities and recreational facilities to fit the needs of a fast growing city. He especially recommended that members volunteer for leadership for young people's organizations such as Girl Scout troops, Camp Fire groups, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and various other valuable young people's activities.

A short business meeting was held, at which time an invitation was read from the Eugene B. P. W. C. club to attend one of their special evening observance of Business Women's Week, on the following Thursday evening.

The committee in charge of this meeting was Katherine Kenny chairman, Jean Whittenburg, Joyce Wampler and Freida Child, who was out of town.

Members and guests present were: Gladys Foley, Helen Emery, Purl Meredith, Golda Nickell, Hazel Dixon, Dolma Grobe, Edyth Gilmour, Elmer Sher, Florence Snedaker, Martha Perry, Ruth Catlin, Mary Moore, Mattie Gosnell, Laura Iles, Josephine Smith, Emily Judd, Edna Turner, Alene Inlow, Esther Brown, Ina Farnsworth, Minnie Clark, Verna Carothers, Katherine Kenny, Vivian Logs.

don, Mary Chapman, Alta Simonson, Mary Lobek, Alvia Wetherell, Clara Berg, Elizabeth Rice, Mildred Herman, Edna Mae Hayward, Edna Helgeson, Etna Davis, Mary Peterson, Glenda Richardson, Floramae Clark, and the hostess, Jean Whittenburg. It was announced that the next meeting would be held October 28, this being the pre-arranged Homecoming meeting in charge of past presidents, Ruth Roberts, chairman.
