In the Day's News

ecless it was the more it appeared to certain types. War does that to people.

THE wild 20's, when so many were ready to try anything once, no matter how screwball it seemed, settled down into the depression-ridden 30's, when most of us were scared of our own shadows.

The pendulum has been swinging backward and forward for as many years as there has been a record of men's doings. It will swing again. About all we can hope is that it doesn't swing too far.

RUSSIAN roulette is normally a ONE-MAN game. Back East, where coal is king—providing heat, power and raw materials of all sorts, including raw materials for the synthetics hat are changing all industry—ohn L. Lewis is staging a demonstration of it on a mass scale.

With winter coming on, with only 37 days' supply on hand, with the inflation spiral climbing and the stock market (a practically infallible diagnostician of the state of business) going into dips and sinking spells after very temporary buying rallies, he has put a cartridge into the gun and is twirling the cylinder.

He is scheduled to pull the trigger on Wednesday, the 20th.

UT here in the West, we have a little coal. We substitute for power derived from water than sun downhill.

Lewis' gun isn't pointed at OUR head. Whatever happens to coal, we will have power, because we have rivers that run down hill, fed by the rains and the snow in the mountains. Having oil, we will have heat. Having oil, we have the basic hydrocarbon molecule that provides the raw materials for synthetics, laving wood, we have abundant supplies of cellulose, another prolific source of brave new world industrial miracles.

We aren't directly concerned. We are aware that whatever RAISES THE PRICE OF COAL is of competitive benefit to us. We speed with which our heavy industry develops will depend upon our ability to compete with astern costs.

UT we are Americans. Being still not too far out of the pioneering stage, we retain a fair measure of common sense. We know that whatever injures our country as a whole will do us no permanent good.

So, looking on at Lewis' game (Russian roulette, we hope the one doesn't go off.

LOT of us are coming to believe that John L. Lewis, like so many despots before him, as held too much power too long.

Lumber Co. Pays City of Sutherlin for Reservoir Tap

Case of the Sutherlin municipality against the L. and H. Lumber Company of that city for the unlawful diversion of more than 100,000 gallons of water from the city reservoir was declared closed at last Monday night's city council session, upon the presentation of a check for $700 which the council decided to bill the firm.

Other business of the meeting included the issuing of six new city water permits, the adding of night watchman and engineer to city employees, and the swearing into office by Mayor Henry Cook of the six newly-elected councilmen.

New councilmen taking office last Monday were: O. L. Torrey, Harvey Brown, Bruce Taylor, and

SWIMMING POOL PROPOSAL

By CHARLES V. STANTON

The City of Roseburg is holding $2,500 recently paid into the treasury by the Boxing Commission. The money represents the city's 6 per cent "take," over and above expenses, from wrestling shows conducted weekly at the Armory.

According to state law, receipts of the Boxing Commission automatically go into a civic emergency fund to be used only for charitable purposes, but with the restrictive proviso that 60 per cent "shall be distributed among nationally recognized veterans organizations in proportion to their membership in good standing." Thus the city will be required to apportion $1500 between the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, while retaining $1,000 for such other charitable purpose or purposes as the City Council may designate.

In making its report, the Boxing Commission made a suggestion that the entire sum of $2,500 be placed in the city's swimming pool fund. It was contended that the swimming pool would come under the classification of a "charitable purpose" and would be of the "greatest benefit to the greatest number" of the city's population.

Some resentment was heard from veterans who, while not objecting to the proposal made by the Boxing Commission, contended that it was not within the province of the commission to direct how the money should be expended or used.

Officers of the commission immediately gave assurance that there was no intent to withhold money from veterans groups, but that it believed the sum could be used for greatest public good if the veterans groups would, as they receive their allotment, as provided by law, donate back to the city the respective amounts to be added to the swimming pool fund.

It remains for the membership of each of the organizations to determine whether boxing receipts are to be used for the swimming pool fund or are to be used for their own organizational purposes. The issue may be rather hotly disputed in post meetings, as none of the groups has any large amount of money in its treasury and has ample use for any funds it may receive.

We would not attempt to recommend to the veterans groups that they should or should not follow the suggestion made by the Boxing Commission. The membership of the several posts know their financial needs and whether they could sacrifice the amount of the city's donation, or put it to better use in their own affairs.

The Boxing Commission, however, is to be commended, we believe, for bringing this project to the attention of the city government and the several beneficiaries of the fund. Certainly the swimming pool project is one of the most important matters in the field of civic improvement and needs all the support it can obtain.

The day is not far off, we hope, when building restrictions will be lifted and labor and material shortages relieved sufficiently to permit construction of a municipal pool. In anticipation of that day we should be raising finances with which to pay construction expense. It will be a costly project and we do not have even one-half the necessary amount on hand. If we are to undertake construction in the near future we must begin to keep the project in mind and be accumulating funds with more speed than in the past.

The City of Drain has furnished an outstanding example of how community cooperation can achieve such a project. In addition to numerous donations by individual citizens, mill crews contributed a day's labor at their respective jobs, and mill companies gave all profits from the day of free labor. Mill, logging and construction companies have furnished machinery and equipment for grading and excavating. A tag day was held in which citizens bought tags equivalent in value to one or more sacks of cement. Many donations of lumber and other materials have been received, and now Drain is well on the way toward a municipal pool.

There is no reason why Roseburg cannot accomplish like results with a similar show of cooperation.

Account Books For Farmers Received At Agent's Office

A new supply of the Oregon Farm Account Book has been received at the county extension office, reports County Agent J. Roland Parker. The record book, prepared by the Farm Management department at Oregon State College, is designed to simplify the job of keeping an accurate account of all farm business. It permits making out income tax returns on the accrual basis and also supplies information that makes it possible to study strong and weak points of the farm business.

The book includes inventory forms, production records, farm receipts, farm expenses, and space for additional records if the operator wishes to keep them. Also available at the county agent's office is the Oregon Cash Farm Record book. It contains only records required for computing income tax returns on the cash basis and does not provide complete inventory forms.

A small charge is made for the books to cover the cost of printing. Present income tax laws, both state and federal, require most farmers to file returns, the county agent commented. An accurate set of farm records is necessary as the basis for an accurate tax return, he added, now is the time to get the right start on next year's records with a good account book.

Retirement is 'Must'

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Employees under the state retirement law must retire when they reach retirement age, Attorney General Neuner ruled today for the Public Employees Retirement Board.

New Wrestler From Southland To Battle Here

Douglas county wrestling fans are being promised the first glimpse of a young matman who promises to boom into the top class of Pacific Northwest mat circles, when Matchmaker Don Owen presents a six-man "Battle Royal" at the Roseburg Armory Thursday night. The matman referred to is Billy Goetz, a newcomer from Tennessee.

Goetz is a scientific matman of the Jack Kiser type and he comes to the Northwest highly touted and rated as one of the leading young contenders for the world championship. He will be competing in a fast field Thursday night—men who have already proven their ability at both scientific wrestling and the rough and tumble style.

Sammy Cohen, popular New Yorker who recently attacked the Pacific coast light heavyweight championship, and Karl Gray, the former world titleholder from the Mid-West, will be on the clean side of the tree-for-all.

The villainous personnel of the program will also be formidable. The toughest of the hate-minded trio will be Indian Ike, Cazell, who is one of the best brawlers of the bar-room variety. Another will be Tony Ross, the Toledo Terror who was once a professional boxer. The other will be Billy McEuin, the kidney-punching Texan.

With $250 offered the winner, and little else above expenses, Owen has assured fans of a Donnybrook. All six wrestlers and Referee Elton Owen will enter the roped arena simultaneously and the skirmish continues without a let-up until all but two men have been pinned to the mat or have been knocked galley-west. First two eliminated will retire for the evening—with only "coffee and donut" money to show for their efforts. The next two downed will return for the first of two additional 30-minute bouts, the winner collecting $25 above expenses.

The finale will be another 30-minute engagement, with the loser collecting $50 and the winner $250 above expenses. This week's program has been shifted to Thursday because of conflicting events on the usual Saturday date.

Roseburg Chiefs Schedule Game Against Longview

Two games remain on the schedule of the newly formed commercial football club, the Roseburg Chiefs, traveling this weekend to Kelso, Wash., to meet city squad from Longview, Wash. Friday night, and a return contest with that team on Finlay Field Thanksgiving Day.

Both teams, the Longview eleven and Roseburg, have two losses on their records, the Chiefs losing Armistice Day to Willamette University Junior-varsity 13-6, and 32-6 to Ashland collegians; while Longview dropped close contests to Warrenton and Mount Vernon College of Washington.

Standouts at recent night workouts at the local grounds have been the two Hatfield tackles, Howard and Harold; Bill Lange, recently shifted to linebacker from center; and Cal Brown, left half. Coach Steve Fowler held today. On the injured list are Bill Tubbs, guard, and John Patton, backfielder.

Nightly practice sessions will be held this week, Fowler stated, with the squad of 22 players leaving for Kelso early Friday morning.

Nomination of Officers Stated at Labor Council

Nomination of officers of the Roseburg Central Labor Council for 1947 will be in order at the December 2 meeting at the local A. F. of L. headquarters, Miss Virginia Ashley of that office announced today.

Also to be discussed at the next meeting will be the proposed per capita tax to be levied against the newly formed local musicians' union, should it decide to join the Central Labor Council.

Present officers of the Labor Council, whose terms end Dec. 31, this year are: President, Les Williams; vice-president, John Walker; secretary-treasurer, Roy Hayden; trustees, James L. Roberts, Adam Flurry, and Frank Ashley.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers. Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking more and more alkalizers. The true cause of your trouble is constipation. In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all, but in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when the lower part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.
