Revolution Plotted Against U. S. Charge

who are attached to the United Nations have been attending meetings sponsored by the Communist fronts in the United States and addressing the audiences upon matters affecting the United Nations.

"However, in every instance, these United Nations representatives are presenting one-sided opinions directed in favor of the Russian foreign policy and the nation's which they themselves represent."

Adamson recommended that the State Department formally protest against such activities. Red "Conspiracy Seen" Excerpts from the report include these observations by the attorney-investigator for the committee:

1. Many persons accepted for employment in the reorganized legislative reference department of the Library of Congress "have had extensive associations with agencies or societies who have shown inclination to change the economy, if not the constitution, of the United States."

2. "The committee feels that a careful examination of the facts justifies the assertion that the Communist party of the United States is a foreign-inspired conspiracy masked as a political party. . . . The Communists realize that the Communist plan of creating unemployment in the United States is the only medium through which they can possibly gain control of the United States through a victory at the ballot box."

3. Other methods that may be used include "a general strike in the United States through Communist-controlled labor unions which will ultimately result in a revolution" or "industrial sabotage in the form of strikes . . . during a period of war between the United States and Soviet Russia."

Purge Asked of Unions

"It appears," Adamson commented, "that the time has come for all labor unions to enquire fully into the aims of those who pose as friends, but actually have no other interest than a fervent and sometimes violent desire to be instrumental in the establishment of a virtual dictatorship in the United States."

Adamson's report came to light as Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) told reporters that one of the chief chores of the un-American activities committee in the new Congress will be to inquire into purported subversive influences in some of this country's leading educational institutions.

The main objective, Rankin said, will be to drive out "those pink professors who are now being subsidized from questionable sources."
