Mr. and Mrs. James E. Decker.

Miss Patricia Stearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Stearns of Oakland, became the bride of James E. Decker, of Roseburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Decker of Vancouver, Wash., at three o'clock the afternoon of December 29, at St. George's Episcopal Church in Roseburg. Father W. L. Baker performed the nuptials in the presence of one hundred and fifty relatives and friends.

Tall white candles and poinsettias decorated the altar while candles were placed in the windows and the pews were marked with white chrysanthemums and white ribbons.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Robert Kelly played softly on the organ and accompanied Stanley M. Hogan of Portland, who sang "Holy Matrimony."

With the opening strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bridal party advanced to the altar.

The bride, on the arm of her father, was very beautiful in a floor-length gown of heavy ivory slipper satin, fashioned on princess lines with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves coming to a point at the wrists and a full train. Her veil was full-length and outlined in lace with ivory satin edging forming two ruffles at the end of the veil. The veil was held in place with a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with two green orchids tied with ivory satin ribbons.

Mrs. Robert L. Sullivan, matron of honor, wore a gown of pale blue, fashioned with a broad ruffled bodice and net skirt. She wore a matching headband and carried a bouquet of yellow, pink and white carnations. Robert L. Sullivan acted as best man and ushers were Ernest H. Carr and Eugene Krawson.

The bride's mother wore a dress of aqua crepe trimmed with silver sequins. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale green crepe suit with a corsage of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Oakland, Ore. The table was decorated with white chrysanthemums, ivory tapers and a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a large silver wedding bell. The cake was cut by the bride couple and was served by Mrs. Ernest Carr of San Francisco, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Edward Carlson, sister of the bridegroom, poured and Mrs. Donald Cummings and Mrs. K. D. Lytle, Jr., served the ice. Mrs. Ralph Stearns and Mrs. Eugene Krawson assisted with the serving.

For traveling the bride chose a cocoa brown suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was two green orchids. Following a honeymoon trip to Carmel by the Sea, Calif., and a stopover in San Francisco, the couple returned to Roseburg and are making their home at 1235 W. First street.

The bride was graduated from Oakland High School in 1943, after which she attended business college in San Francisco. For the last year, she has been employed at Martin Brothers Box Company in Oakland, where she served as timekeeper. The bridegroom was graduated from Baker High School in 1941. He entered the Coast Guard December, 1942, and served in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters of operations. He received his discharge in September 1945 and is now manager of the Safeway Meat Market.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Carr, Miss Faye Jordan, Miss Claudine Smedley, all of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cummings, Ocean Park, Calif.; C. L. Carr, Walla Walla, Wn.; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Nelson, Anacortes, Wn.; Kay Ritchie, Mrs. A. W. Turnblad of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Decker, Mrs. Edward Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stearns, Vancouver, Wn.; Stanley M. Hogan, Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Sy Rodakowski, of Springfield, Ore.
