they will sell to the best advantage. The timing of vegetable crops is immensely important. If they are to bring prices that will yield a profit, they must reach their markets at the precise moment when competition from other districts is least harassing.

They have learned how to do that down here. The know-how has been gained in the hard school of experience. Lessons learned in that school are seldom forgotten.

THIS Salinas agriculture is what the politicians refer to with contempt and loathing as COR-RUPTION farming. That is to say, it is done on a rather large scale with HIRED HELP.

The farmer, whether a soulless corporation or an individual, does little guiding of the plow with his own calloused hands. Where he gets his callouses is on the convolutions of his brain. He does the thinking and the planning. He hires others to do the strong back part.

Isn't popular to say so, but that is one reason why this Salinas agriculture, which is carried on in an atmosphere of unremitting and at times cut-throat competition, is so uniformly successful. Success in farming, as in other fields of human endeavor, is largely proportionate to the quality of the brain-work that goes into it.

INCIDENTALLY, farming in tiny, industrial England is bitterly competitive. The farmer there has to compete not only with his neighbors but with the farmers of practically every agricultural nation on earth—for British lives by the production of manufactured articles which she exchanges in the world markets for raw materials and FOOD. She has to import food from EVERY-WHERE. She has to import a lot of it. To get even into their home markets, British farmers have to be good.

Most of us think of the English farmer as a homely, weathered man of his own soil, whether rented or owned. Oddly enough, he isn't.
The English FARMER is a business man who works in an office in his house, often with three or four telephones on his desk, and does the planning and the managing. Instead of overalls, he wears suit clothes.

He earns his living by the sweat of his brain—as do these Salinas valley corporation farmers and managers.

FOR purposes of emphasis, let us repeat that vegetable farming on a mass production basis for BIG markets is dog-eatdog business, so far as competition is concerned. Your quality has to be right, and your costs have to be right. Otherwise, you can't get into the markets. If you can't get into the markets you lost your shirt—and FAST!

It is at least worthy of note that where the competition is keenest the greater is the tendency for agriculture to evolve into some form of MANAGER farming.

You can see that with half an eye when driving through the Salinas valley.

SUTHERLIN LIONS' PROGRAM

By CHARLES V. STANTON

The Lions Club at Sutherlin has appointed standing committees to meet regularly with the city council and the school board to report back to Lions the problems and activities of the governing bodies. We hope the club will follow up this program industriously and not permit it to lapse.

We need better public understanding of the problems of local government. We are in the midst of most trying times.
Our city councils, our school boards, our county court, and various other administrative groups are being pressed to provide needed services for rapidly growing populations while having inadequate income to cover even the cost of expanded administration.

If the public understood these problems, we would have a cooperative spirit instead of bickering, division and complaint, or such a serious and expensive project as the current attempt on the part of a dissatisfied group to bring about recall of two members of our county court.

Our governing bodies may make mistakes, they may adopt policies which are neither sound nor equitable. But usually they have good reason for the measures they advance, some of them desperately drastic because of emergency conditions. If the general public understood the issues and made a genuine and tolerant effort to assist in a solution, rather than sniping and griping, we could be making real progress.

A most important meeting was held recently in Roseburg when heads of the county, city and school administrations were brought together with directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting. Each group recited its problems. As a result of that meeting there developed a plan of guidance which promises greater harmony and coordinated planning.

The Roseburg Elks Club sponsored a public meeting of men Sunday to set up an organization to aid in civic affairs.
It will be a booster club having the particular purpose of encouraging recreation and athletic sports for elementary and high school students, but organized to participate in any worthwhile civic endeavor.

Thus it may be seen that we are rapidly developing greater public interest in civic affairs. More minds and more hands are participating in governmental planning and work. This is a good omen.

Our school boards have almost reached the point of despair. Unparalleled growth of our communities has made our school facilities obsolete. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are needed to build new schoolhouses or to enlarge existing structures. At the same time teachers are demanding wage increases, which any fair-minded person, we believe, will admit are due them. Yet, how are we to raise the money? Will taxpayers vote operational budgets approximately double those of last year, while, at the same time, approving bond issues for new facilities? If the people fail to give approval, how will we maintain adequate schools?

And, if taxpayers are willing to add to their load to provide for their schools, what is to be done, at the same time, about municipal problems, such as sewage disposal, water systems, power distribution, etc., all of which must be enlarged and made more efficient?

If we can all gain an understanding of these problems, realizing what has been done, what is to be done, and what plans are being made, we will be in a better position to cooperate.

We do not feel public officials are being fairly treated when they are delegated authority of administration, are left to their own devices to work out plans for seemingly impossible situations, then subjected to constant criticism from persons who make no effort to become fully informed nor who attempt constructive participation in planning.

We need more of the type of activity in which the Suth-erlin Lions, the Roseburg Elks, the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce and numerous other civic-minded bodies are engaged—activities directed into efforts of understanding and help.

Presidency Term
Slash Favored

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—

With six Democrats dissenting, the House Judiciary committee today approved a constitutional amendment limiting the tenure of any president to two terms.

Fifteen Republicans and five Democrats supported it.

The amendment probably will come before the House for a vote Thursday.

It restricts the tenure of the presidency to two terms, whether they be full four-year terms or only parts of a term, such as President Truman now is serving.

An amendment offered by Rep.
Walter (D Pa.) to limit the tenure to a single term of six years was rejected at the closed committee session by a vote reported as 19 to 7.

The six Democrats who voted against the two-term proposal were Kefauver of Tennessee, Celler of New York, Chet of Kentucky, Bryson of South Carolina, Cravens of Arkansas and Lane of Massachusetts.
