we can understand more easily why getting treaties with the nations with which we were at war is the first and most important step toward a WORKING peace.

SENATOR VANDENBERG, bidding Marshall Godspeed on his trip, says to him: "I feel that I speak for the nation and for congress when I tell you, sir, that our hearts, our hopes, our prayers are with you."

That is a rather fine statement of a fundamental fact. The right to live honorably in a world of FREE MEN is all the American people really do want.

SENATOR PEPPER is greatly worried over our latest move in Greece (which is a move to help the British). He is afraid Russia will interpret it as an "imperialistic policy."

When Russia calls us "imperialistic," it is merely a case of the pot calling the kettle black.

WHILE we are at it, we might as well keep this explosive situation in Palestine clear in our minds.

The Jews there are fighting for a place to live—having been pretty thoroughly uprooted in Europe. The British are fighting to protect what little is left of their empire, without which the little island of Britain can't exist.

So, you see, what is happening in Palestine approaches the status of an irrepressible conflict.

Mrs. J. P. Martin Passes

Mrs. J. P. Martin, 76, died at Grants Pass Wednesday, March 5, following a long illness. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Barker, pioneer residents of the North Umpqua.

Funeral services will be held at Grants Pass Saturday at 2 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Singleton of Roseburg and Mrs. W. E. Chapman of Glide will go to Grants Pass for the funeral.

Cardinal Griffin, Roman Catholic archbishop of Westminster, estimates that only five percent of the people of London attend church regularly.

BUILD FOR THE FUTURE

By CHARLES V. STANTON

One of the most controversial measures before the Oregon State Legislature is the "throughways" bill, a measure which would authorize construction by the State of Oregon of highways to which access would be limited.

The measure is meeting much opposition from owners of motor courts, road stands, filling stations, etc., who are dependent upon trade from the highways, and who claim they will be legislated out of existence should the measure be passed.

Proponents, on the other hand, point out that encroachment of small business upon highways is a detriment to the flow of traffic, increases danger of accidents, promotes uneconomic and unsightly conditions, etc.

In rebuttal, opponents charge that fatalities per accident increase in proportion to speed, and that the presence of small business along the highway is evidence that such business is desired by the traveler, as otherwise it could not exist.

The State of Oregon has wasted millions of dollars because its roads have been built only for immediate traffic needs.

It does not take a long memory to recall some of the early-day highway construction. We built narrow winding roads, following the routes of old wagon roads.

But as better automobiles were built and more and more cars came into use, we had to reconstruct our highways.

Are we going to make the same mistake again—designing for today's speeds and volume of traffic, or will we look ahead to traffic possibilities a decade in the future, when the Pacific Coast possibly will have 50 million more population than at present driving atomic-powered vehicles?

Obviously, it is foolish to follow the old pattern of spending millions of dollars to build roads which become obsolete by the time they are opened to travel.

We do not pretend to say that the answer lies in throughways or limited access highways, or in turnpikes or express roads. These are matters to be determined by people who have more technical knowledge of the problems involved.

But we do believe that our planning should take into consideration the probable mechanical and scientific developments in transportation facilities, insofar as they can be foreseen; population increases, anticipated volume of traffic and all other factors which can be reasonably predicted by our engineers.

We should build for the future and not for today alone.

Record Turn-Out For Athletic Bill Expected at RHS

By ROYAL S. DENTON

The largest sports turn-out in Roseburg High School's history is expected next week, as the Indians open their spring athletic program which includes baseball, track and tennis.

Although Junior High takes no part in interscholastic athletic competition, intramural and physical education classes are beginning their outdoor playground program of softball, calisthenics and touch football.

Due to the large increase in enrollment the past school year, Indian coaches predict considerable strength over previous spring athletic teams and boast returning lettermen in all three major sports.

Coach Jack Newby, serving his first year in Roseburg, takes over the track team formerly headed by Mel Ingram. He has returners in Ed Harvey, sprinter; John Ulrich, distance; George Bachlin, distance; and Zeke Walton, hurdler.

Meets already scheduled include the Hayward relays at Eugene, a dual meet with Cottage Grove, Tri-County meet, and the District 6 matches.

Homer Gros, veteran Roseburg High tennis mentor, has returning lettermen in Boyer, Berry and McFarland, as well as a host of strong potentials. Net matches will include competition with Marshfield, Eugene, Corvallis, Salem and Grants Pass.

The diamond nine of Mel Ingram's should prove up to last year's undefeated strength, as seven regulars stud the list of aspirants in Phil Teleford, Bill Marsters, Bill Benson, Jerry Coen, Ty Evans, Duane Pope and Dick Nichols. Competition thus far scheduled includes Oakland, Myrtle Creek, Medford, Eugene, University High and Springfield.

Heavy workouts for the baseballers will not begin before next week, Ingram reports, due to the present conditioning and seeding of the field now being done by five school's FFA classes. Also a water pump for regular irrigation is being installed.

Tavern and Grill Basketeers Win Tourney Opener

TONIGHT'S SEMI-FINALS 7:45—Sutherland vs. Riddle. 8:45—Rainbow Grill vs. Myrtle Creek.

By ROYAL S. DENTON Half of the eight commercial clubs entered in Oakland's Invitational Hoop tourney played tonight's semi-finals as the other four teams were eliminated before an overflowing crowd last night at Oakland High School gymnasium.

Tournament favorites, Pastime Tavern of Sutherland and Rainbow Grill continued their winning ways of the past season by downing Yoncalla and J. V. Sports, but without hot battles.

Myrtle Creek and Riddle bounced up with impressive wins over Veterans of Foreign Wars and Oakland to become heavy consolationists.

Yoncalla, which replaced Umpqua Valley Hardware, which was withdrawn from tournament action for failing to show up on time, gave the Sutherland Taverners an unexpected scrap, coming up from their fourth quarter trailing score of 37-17 to lose, 48-31, to the highest-scoring five of the past season.

Substitutions: Sutherland—Barge 4, Allen 6, Roundtree 2; Yoncalla—Dodd 1, Rice, Collins 4. Also Rainbows Win Torrid Tilt

By far the most interesting contest of the evening was Rainbow's 32-28 win over J. V. Sports. Goods with ball-handling continuously at its best on the part of both clubs, Rainbow jumped from a halftime knotted 13-13 score to 29-28 at the end of the third stanza, but was given considerable trouble in the final period as all five Sporters connected and tightened an effective zone defense on the Grill's fleeting fast break.

Negro Flash Poses Major Threat To OSC Basketeers

By MATT R. KRAMER

CORVALLIS, Ore., March 6.—(AP)—Oregon State and UCLA will meet here tomorrow night in the opening game of the Pacific Coast's annual basketball classic—the winner to go on to the western NCAA finals at Kansas City.

Statistics are that the teams are evenly matched. They have not met before and they haven't even played common opponents. Oregon State won the title in the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference—for the fifth time since "Slats" Gill became coach 18 years ago—and UCLA won the Southern Division—for the first time in the school's history.

Negro Wizard Feared Oregon State has perhaps a slight edge on paper, but Beaver fans are scared silly of what Big Don Barksdale, UCLA center, may do to their team.

Barksdale, a rugged Negro backboard worker at 215 pounds and 6 feet 6 inches, has averaged 16.5 points a game. Occasionally he runs up to 30 points in a contest.

UCLA Coach Wilbur Johns credits him with an unstoppable play. "He jumps and throws the ball down through the hoop," Johns says.

Oregon State has its own scoring expert, Ephraim "Red" Rocha, who stands 6 feet 8 inches, but whose 180 pounds can't match Barksdale's weight, an important factor under the backboards.

Rocha has managed, however, to average 13.5 points a game against fairly rugged opponents in the Northern Division. Like Barksdale, he is capable of a terrific single-game performance. One night against Idaho, he ran up 38 points, a division record.

Other team members match evenly on height and scoring ability. If Oregon State has an edge in remaining statistics—633 points a game to UCLA's 58 while allowing opponents an average 40.7 to UCLA's 48—the California fans can point to their team's late season rush in which it won the southern title, averaging 68 points in each of the last eight games.

UCLA is scheduled to arrive today in time to work out before the game tomorrow. A second contest will be played Saturday night and a third, if necessary, next Monday.

Keene Succeeds Lacey as OSC Athletics Director CORVALLIS, Ore., March 6.—(AP)—Roy S. Keene, former Willamette University athletic head for 15 years, has been named director of athletics at Oregon State College.

Keene, an Oregon State graduate, baseball star and OSC coach, was named head coach of all major Willamette sports in 1926. He directed the Navy's physical fitness program at St. Mary's during World War II and on returning resigned the Willamette position to open a sporting goods store.

He succeeds Percy P. Lacey, who resigned at OSC, and takes over March 15.

Secret Heart, K-Falls Win at Hoop Tourney (By The Associated Press) Sacred Heart of Salem downed Silverton by one point in an overtime period last night to win the right to meet the Salem Vikings for the District 11 berth in the state basketball tourney.

Sacred Heart overcame Silverton, 37-36, after playing to a 32-32 tie in the regular period. The victory will be matched against Salem Friday night for a tourney berth.

Klamath Falls, which snagged the District 4 tourney spot by defeating Medford Monday night, overwhelmed the Black Tornado a second time last night, 50-37. Medford would have needed both games to take the title.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh A Definition of Our Town Somebody defined our town just the other day as "A place where the people talk about you behind your back, and come to wait on you when you're sick." I've got to admit there's something to it. A lot of our folks are inclined to be pretty outspoken and quick to criticize... even about little things, like a woman's hat, or a man's preference for a glass of beer, or the color of Cy Hartman's new barn. But when anyone's in trouble, those differences and points of criticism are forgotten... and folks become neighborly and helpful, like they really are. From where I sit, criticism never did much harm to anybody, so long as folks don't let it guide their actions... so long as they respect our individual preferences, whether they apply to hats or beer. That's the way it is in our town, anyway, and I hope that it's the same in yours. Joe Marsh Copyright, 1947, United States Brewers Foundation
