Britain's annual bill for her navy from three-quarters of a billion dollars to a little better than ONE quarter of a billion.

Who will police the oceans from here on? You know who. It will be the old gentleman with the chin whisker and the funny hat. He HAS to.

Why does he have to? The answer to that one is simple, also. The kind of world we want to live in can't operate without a policeman.

Other than Britain, there is no policeman he is willing to trust. PRESIDENT TRUMAN is in Mexico. He is frankly tired on a goodwill tour.

As a result, we have got a bad name through all the Western Hemisphere, especially that part of it lying south of the Rio Grande—where we are known as the Colossus of the North and rather generally suspected of carrying a shot-loaded pacifier up our sleeve.

For a couple of decades, we've been promoting what we call the Good Neighbor policy, but Latin America, remembering the past, has kept her fingers crossed.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Rep. Samath (D-Ill.) asked the house today to order its Agriculture Committee to "find out what has made the price of cost of living items jump more than fifty per cent in six months."

That is why President Truman is in Mexico on a goodwill tour. This time WE mean business. Just like Britain and France.

THE world is changing. It is up to us to keep up with the changes. Otherwise, like Britain, we will begin to fade out of the leadership picture.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

By CHARLES V. STANTON

The American Red Cross is engaged in its annual Roll Call. It is appealing to the American people for a total budget of $60,000,000. That sum—$60 million—seems a tremendous amount of money, but it is a mere sack of peanuts compared to the $2 billion we spend annually for tobacco, $3 billion for movies, $7 billion for alcoholic beverages, and $10 billion for jewelry, furs and luxuries.

During the war years the Red Cross performed heroic service in theaters of combat and at home. Its mobile units accompanied our troops into the battle zones. The Red Cross formed a link between the service man and his home. It provided entertainment. In a thousand ways it carried comfort, cheer and good, solid help to the men of our armed forces.

Its war work has not ended. It still serves our troops at home and abroad. It ministers to the thousands upon thousands in our hospitals. It extends its assistance to returned G.I.'s seeking to realize the benefits to which they are entitled.

In addition it is proposing to enlarge its home service work—to pick up the threads of the program interrupted by the war period.

Our Douglas County chapter, for instance, is particularly interested in broadening its program of accident prevention and water safety.

The Oregon State Accident Commission reports an alarming increase in the rate of industrial accidents. One explanation lies in the large number of inexperienced and untrained workers employed in rapidly expanding factories, plants and mills. Men inexperienced in the use of power machinery are naturally more susceptible to accident than are skilled workmen.

Here in Douglas County mill and woods employment is limited only by shortages of housing and machinery. Our existing mills would greatly increase the number of their employees if they could obtain machinery and find housing facilities for workers. Logging and sawmill work rate high as hazardous occupations. The proportion of serious accidents is alarming. Yet few mills or logging crews have trained accident prevention squads, first aid groups, etc.

It is the hope of the Douglas County Red Cross chapter that it can organize and train first aid crews in every industrial operation. But before that task can be attempted, it will be necessary to provide qualified instructors, as few persons in the County are at present certified to serve as teachers. Thus the program must be directed first into organization and training of instructors who then will be able to form and prepare classes in the field.

The county chapter also desires to enlarge its water safety program. It is giving encouragement to Roseburg's swimming pool project as swimming classes in Roseburg are badly handicapped without pool facilities.

Douglas County residents are asked to contribute to a budget proposed in the sum of $10,152. Of this amount $7,266 will remain in the county to finance local activities, while $2,886 will be sent to national headquarters.

We haven't any statistics upon which to base our opinion, but we imagine it would not take very many busy days at our state liquor store in Roseburg to show expenditures amounting to $10,000 for liquor purchases. Certainly the work being done by the American Red Cross is worth to any individual as much or more than the cost of a couple of bottles of good whiskey.

If we will accept as a measurement of our donations to the Red Cross our expenditures for indulgence and luxuries, realizing that our money goes to save lives, ease pain and suffering, and insure us relief in time of disaster, there should be little difficulty in quickly oversubscribing the modest budget set for our county's part in the Red Cross Roll Call.

Solon Demands Probe of Costs-of-Living Boost

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Rep. Samath (D-Ill.) asked the house today to order its Agriculture Committee to "find out what has made the price of cost of living items jump more than fifty per cent in six months."

In a statement accompanying a resolution requesting the investigation, the dean of the house said "prices are still rising" and "a new propaganda war is under way, against consumers, to kill the last remaining controls on rents, sugar and rice."

"This Republican congress is filled with pity for the poor little rich boys with their hands in the consumers' pockets," he said. "Crocodile tears wash away campaign promises."
