Spring Footwear Styles Present Sandals, Patents

Sandals are the style this spring in feminine shoe fashions. Sandals and patents and color combinations. And higher heels are in vogue, too, according to a survey of Roseburg shoe stores.

In sandals, women are wearing patent leather, doeskin, or color combinations of two tones. The Johansen style with platform soles are popular, with genuine reptile trim over a doeskin vamp.

Always popular, black patents are coming into their own this season. Style trends are away from plastics and back to patent leather, most serviceable and stylish for women's shoes.

Patents come in black or brown. In brown, the shades are russet, town brown, or army russet. Black is the color for shoes in materials.

Red is another popular color for sandals this spring.

The dressiest shoes, say local dealers, have spike heels. Other heels come in boulevard, Cuban or walking heel patterns.

Also popular are novelty, casual and sports styles. In women's sports shoes, the all-white saddle is a favorite. Another is the all-white moccasin oxford. Also the brown-and-white saddle and the all-brown oxford.

In children's shoes, the black patent saddle and the white elk-skin saddle are popular for girls this year.

For men, come the lighter weight brown and Scotchgrain oxfords.

Ralston Bridges won the long drive prize on number five, and Weber won close to the pin on number eight with a three-iron shot 14 inches from the pin.
