DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

"Suffer little children to come unto me." Strange, isn't it, how Jesus was always making use of the things that others overlooked? This time it was children. The disciples thought that the children would annoy Jesus, and they tried to keep them away. How like the world today. Who wants to be bothered with children? They ask questions we cannot answer. They are always wanting us to play with them. We just cannot take the time for children. All to begin the community says this and also the church, and saddest of all the home. But not Jesus. He knew the hope of the world was in the children. Yes, children are sometimes a world of trouble and they often hamper us in what we want to do, but those who love children and work with them know the beauty and simplicity of their faith, their trust, and their love; they know what Jesus meant when he said: "Whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein." Charles Dickens said, "I love these little people; and it is not a slight thing when they, who are so fresh from God, love us."

"Little children, who love their redeemer, Are His jewels, precious jewels, His loved and His own." Amen.
