Romance Born in Deaf School Will Lead to Wedding

TACOMA, June 5. —(P)—The Vancouver, Wash., school of the deaf brought them together, taught them to converse and Dan Cupid did the rest.

Now, Louise Amanda Peterson and Don A. Redford, both 21, are planning to be married in a ceremony of the deaf here on June 28 which will combine both the spoken word and sign language.

Redford was born deaf but his fiancée lost her hearing through an illness when she was three years old. Both subsequently were sent to the Vancouver school where they were taught to speak orally as well as with their fingers.

Miss Peterson kept an address book of her playmates at the institution and while home on summer vacation about six years ago noted that she and Redford were near neighbors.

Family calls resulted and a friendship based on mutual understanding through mutual difficulty blossomed into romance as the youngsters grew older.

The wedding plans call for singing, audibly and in the sign language, with the same procedure being followed in the ceremony to be conducted by the Rev. Arnold Jonas of Seattle.

Miss Peterson now is attending a Tacoma business school and Redford is working at a tidewater factory.

Speed on Extension Of War Acts Urged

WASHINGTON, June 5. —(P)—President Truman asked congressional leaders of both parties yesterday to speed action on his requests for extension of certain war powers due to expire June 30.

Mr. Truman called on them to hurry enactment of bills, now pending to:

1. Extend the maritime commission's authority to charter oil tankers. Speaker Martin said the president asked this especially to avoid a possible oil shortage in eastern states this winter. The commission now operates more than 200 tankers.

2. Extend for one year the export-control act. This would apply to certain articles still in short supply. Extension legislation has been approved by the House Armed Services committee and also is before the Senate judiciary committee.

3. Extend certain allocation and priority controls under the second war powers act. This applies to foods, fertilizers and other scarce commodities. Bills are before the judiciary committees of both houses. The House committee has scheduled hearings for Friday and the Senate group next Wednesday.
