In the Day's News

Spending is always popular. Economy is never popular. Economy is practiced only as a last resort to get out of the trouble that follows too much spending.

That is the way we do it as individuals. So our government, which rests on individuals, can hardly be expected to do it otherwise.

ONE might add a word here to the Republican majority in congress:

"You can still economize, gentlemen, if you are so minded. You can SPEND LESS in the months to come. The less you spend, the more money there will be to PAY OFF DEBT."

In that way, it will all finally come out in the wash.

REPRESENTATIVE HORAN of Washington offers some interesting information as to government spending and how it is done. He tells a reporter that testimony taken by the subcommittee of the house handling appropriations for government corporations and independent offices shows that "almost nowhere in the government is there any semblance of cost accounting; that billions of dollars have been spent that can never be accounted for."

He adds: "In the case of the maritime commission alone, whose book-keeping procedures were so bad the committee had to hire a private firm to audit its budget, more than $8,000,000,000 (eight billion dollars) were disposed of in the past ten years for which there is no explanation. The committee reports on all the agencies contain so many revelations of unsound practices and outright squandering of federal funds as to be almost unbelievable."

SUCH is the free spending policy WITH OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY. When you spend your own, caution tugs at your coat-tails, whispering in your ear that when your wad is gone you'll be OUT.

The government's wad is never gone. When the cash box begins to run low, government merely reaches into the pockets of the people.

AS illustrating the screwball thinking that creeps into the minds of spenders of other people's money, one of the theoretical political reasons for NOT reducing taxation is that higher taxes take the money out of the people's pockets and so they can't spend it to increase inflation.

Instead, the GOVERNMENT SPENDS IT in the careless, what's-the-difference manner described by Representative Horan.

So we get inflation just the same.

BUT let's get back to the meal of the coconut.

President Truman vetoed the tax bill because he thought it would be popular. The house of representatives failed to pass the tax cutting bill over his veto because its members have a sneaking notion that the people LIKE spending.

Until the time comes when spenders regularly meet defeat at the next election, government spending will continue to be free and easy.

FIRM FILES APPEAL

An appeal was filed today with the Oregon Construction Review Committee at Portland, by the Miller Mercantile Co., to do $5,190 of alterations at the Roseburg store.

DON'T MISS THE RODEO

By CHARLES V. STANTON

Saturday and Sunday will be Rodeo days in Roseburg. Weather permitting, spectators are assured the best show to date in connection with the annual event which has come to mean so much to the people of the community.

Going behind the scenes of the two-day entertainment, one finds an exceptional example of civic enterprise and cooperation on the part of the sponsoring organization, the Douglas County Sheriff's Posse.

Formed during the early days of the war as a civilian protection and defense unit, the posse is composed of men experienced with horses. The group, during the war period, was trained in scouting, evacuation, courier service, disaster relief, guard duty and other forms of semi-military work.

As progress of the war indicated the unit probably would not be needed for civilian defense, plans were revised to maintain a permanent peacetime company. Association was established with similarly created riding groups in other parts of the state, resulting in a state-wide organization.

The Douglas County posse, with units at Roseburg and Reedsport, assumed sponsorship of rodeos for their respective communities. The Roseburg posse includes in its long range planning the restoration of the county fair.

Proceeds from rodeos have been used to erect the present stands, fences, chutes, corrals, bandstand, fence, etc. Immediately following this rodeo, if net profits permit, it is planned to build a race track. As rapidly as money can be accumulated, further improvements will include construction of pavilions, stock pens, and other accessories required for a county fair.

Neither the posse nor any of its members receive any financial return from the annual rodeo. All receipts over and above actual expenses are returned into permanent improvements to the county-owned property, administered by the County Fair Board.

The annual rodeo requires many months of exhaustive planning and preparation. Posse members, in addition to perfecting their horsemanship, drills and maneuvers, devote a great deal of time and effort to work on the grounds, planning show events, preparing details of parades, ticket sales, operation of concessions, traffic control, parking and a hundred and one other items and activities connected with an event of such magnitude.

The posse has able assistance from its companion organization, the Reserve Police, a similarly trained body of civilians, all commissioned as deputy sheriffs, uniformed and experienced in various phases of law enforcement and control. The Reserve Police also were organized as an agency of civilian defense, but have carried over as a peacetime adjunct to the sheriff's office.

These two war-born organizations have made important contributions to civic welfare. They deserve appreciation and gratitude from every citizen. This gratitude can be best expressed by 100 per cent attendance and cooperation at the rodeo.

Blackwell Blanks Boston Braves on O-Hit Hurling Job

By JACK HAND

Blackwell Blanks, no-hitter against the Boston Braves last night has established the lanky Cincinnati side arm artist as the No. 1 pitcher in the National League.

Half way to his announced goal of 20 wins in his second major league season, the righthander from San Dimas, Calif., has etched his name on the honor roll along with the other pitching greats.

Most of the righthanded hitters in the league would name "Blacky" as their toughest problem because his sinking side-wheel delivery is on top of them before they know what is coming.

Yet, last night, Boston's Billy Southworth threw a heavily left-handed battering order against him and the results were the same.

Of Blackwell's 10 wins, the last eight have been racked up in succession. He is the only pitcher in the majors to have defeated every other club in the league at least once.

The loss dropped Boston out of the National League lead, permitting the New York Giants to squeeze out front by a margin of six percentage points on their afternoon, 12-5 romp over Pittsburgh.

struggle before they subdued the St. Louis Browns, 6-5, their eighth straight victory. Pesky's fifth single with two out, drove home pinch runner Pellagrini with the winning score at approximately 1:15 A. M.

The Browns broke a 1-1 tie with a score in the eighth only to have Boston match it. St. Louis collected one in the 13th on Hitchcock's homer but the Sox tied again and they each tallied twice in the 14th.

The 15th was the last inning possible under the American League deadline of 12:50 A. M. after which another inning cannot be started.

Rain washed out the Philadelphia-Detroit and New York-Chicago day games but Cleveland clubbed Hudson and Hafner for 14 hits and a 9-3 lopsided edge over Washington.

Umpqua Chief's Manager Jerry Huggins announced today that the Roseburg-Medford game Sunday on Finlay Field will start at 11 A. M. in order that fans may attend the Sheriff's Posse Rodeo in the afternoon.

Southern Oregon League baseball, held up two Sundays in a row by rain, goes into its third round of play Sunday.

League officials recently reported that the rained-out games slated for June 1 will be played July 6. June 8 tilts will be played at the discretion of the teams involved but must be out of the way by August 3.

Grants Pass, leading the pack with three straight earned victories last week, slugged Medford's Rogues, 7-2. The Merchants previously won over Crescent City, 10-7, and edged out Roseburg's Chiefs, 10-9, Sunday.

The Umpqua Chiefs, boasting a powerhouse of new pitchers, meet Medford at Finlay Field Sunday morning and will attempt to regain their previous hitting prowess. They got off to a bad start in conference play but made a strong comeback last week against Ashland, winning 5-3.

Tri-City, also eyeing the circuit's pennant, goes to Central Point Sunday. Tri-City has also lost only one decision in three games while the Pointers have one win in three starts.

Three Teams In Virtual Tie For Coast League Lead

(By the Associated Press)

The top rung on the Pacific Coast League ladder was a little crowded today. Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles were all roosting there, separated by only three percentage points.

Portland took away Oakland's full-game lead, 15-2, last night. The Beavers got 18 hits off four Oakland pitchers and moved themselves into the first division, a half game ahead of Sacramento.

San Francisco's pitcher, Chesnes, had a big night as the Seals thumped Sacramento, 8-1. He boomed out two home runs, something that hasn't been done by one man in one game at Sacramento in more than 20 years.

Los Angeles got off to a five-run lead in a second inning by way of Schuster's homer with the bases jammed and had a pleasant evening the rest of the way to beat San Diego, 9-2. Red Lynn pitched his seventh victory.

The Hollywood Stars blasted Seattle, 8-5, the loudest explosions being set off by First Baseman Lupien with two doubles, a triple and a homer.

Golf Prizes Garnered by Colliers, Father and Son

The Collier family took over in the men's regular Wednesday golf tournament, with son Bob Collier turning in a total of 38 to win the low gross prize.

LETTERS to the Editor

In Mercy Hospital in Roseburg during the first week of this month was born to freinds of mine a baby boy—just a tiny babe. I made him just a tiny garment. Is there any thing wonderful about this babe? Yes? No?

He, with every other boy babe, has the natural and legal right to be the president of this free country of ours if through freedom of education and free enterprise he establishes a reputation for leadership great enough to be the choice of the people to be their leader.

What is Communism? The dictionary gives a definition but in no way is it clear. In Communism there is no private ownership, no choice of work, no individual families for the babes are raised by the state; no freedom of speech, no freedom of travel.

The state (or government) owns everything even to the individual citizen. Therefore what is talked about as "Communism" by name or inference is "State Capitalism."

Now I suppose it is time for those who think the world is ripe for such a government to jump in the "band wagon" and even do the playing.

There is an article in April issue of "Readers Digest" which every true American citizen should read. Those who think Communism is worth trying should read and reread it till they understand what it all indicates and would mean to a people of a now free country.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Can't Break His Good Habits! Bert Childers was saying, it's funny how so many of our wartime habits stick with us. Bert likes plenty of butter on his bread, but even now he can't get over spreading it like it was scarce as hen's teeth. And as a war-worker, Bert used to stick to a temperate glass of beer on time off; and he still holds fast to beer and moderation. Same way with Bert's wife. She not only has no trouble saving used fats, and waste paper. She's learned from wartime necessity to save every single thing that might possibly be used again. From where I sit, it's mighty good that so many of these common-sense habits like thrift and moderation have stayed with us. Because they belong in America—along with tolerance, and mutual respect for one another's rights. They're habits that have helped to make this country strong and neighborly and free.
