Ickes Preferred to Wallace by F. D. R., Farley Reveals

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—The Late President Roosevelt preferred Harold Ickes to Henry Wallace as presidential timber in 1938, James A. Farley reported yesterday.

"Henry would like to run for president," Farley quoted Roosevelt. "However, I'd rather have a fellow like Ickes who, at least, is a fighter.

"Ickes will go through with whatever he has in mind. But you never knew what Henry will do. He's in favor of one thing today and something entirely different tomorrow."

The former Democratic National chairman, in the second of a series of articles in Collier's on "why I broke with Roosevelt," also said Mr. Roosevelt wanted Farley to run for governor of New York in 1938 to "get the proper background for 1940."

As it turned out, Mr. Roosevelt himself ran in 1940 and was elected to a third term with Wallace as his running mate. Ickes remained as secretary of the interior and Farley broke with "the boss." He finally quit in August of that year as postmaster general and party chairman.

Farley said the discussion of Ickes and Wallace, who is now threatening a third party in 1948, came up at a dinner April 12, 1938.

On another occasion, Farley related, Mr. Roosevelt spoke differently of Ickes, blaming him for "many of the stories that leak out of cabinet meetings." Ickes now is a syndicated columnist.

Farley said the president wanted him to run for governor or senator in New York, but he declined. He said he told this to Vice President Garner later and the Texan commented "it looked as though Roosevelt were trying to get me out of the war in 1940."

Morse's Dissents Good Thing, GOP Head Says

PORTLAND, June 20.—(AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse's occasional disagreements with Republican party leaders is "a healthy thing," National Committee Chairman Carroll Reece said here yesterday.

"The senator is a man of convictions which do not always agree with those of the party leaders, but there is room in the party for people with different views," he said in an interview.

He declined to comment on speculation that a Vandenberg-Morse Presidential ticket might be in the making for 1948.

Gold Hill Fete Honors Editor Ben Hur Lampman

GOLD HILL, Ore., June 21.—(AP)—State and prominent public officials flocked into this small Southern Oregon town today to honor Ben Hur Lampman, associate editor of the Oregonian and publisher from 1912 to 1916 of the weekly Gold Hill News.

It was here that Lampman wrote the first of the editorials and fishing articles that were to carry him to national fame.

Mayor Ralph E. Bell officially proclaimsd it Ben Hur Lampman day. On the schedule were a salmon bake, potato races, sack races, a country dance and a tobacco-spitting contest.

Papal Cross May Be Link With Early Exploration

VICTORIA, B. C., June 20—(AP)—A papal cross carved on a tree at Albert Head on Esquimalt Bay, four miles southeast of here, may prove an important link with the Spanish explorations in Juan de Fuca Strait 157 years ago.

A party of historians has examined the cross and provincial Archivist Willard E. Ireland said it appeared to tally with one described by the Spanish explorer Manual Quimper in a diary on explorations in 1790.

Cecil French of Victoria made the discovery following directions given in Quimper's charts.

QUEEN TO WED VET

PORTLAND, June 21—(AP)—The queen of this year's Rose Festival, Georgene Ormston, 18, will be married here July 20 to Raymond Petterson, Navy veteran whom she has known since grade school days.

Miss Ormston said both plan to attend the University of Oregon next fall.

The first archeological evidences of the wheel date back to Mesopotamian city cultures.
