The lace-covered tea table was centered with an arrangement of regal lilies.

GEORGIA HORTON AND ROBERT J. DAW MARRY IN ROSEBURG, JUNE 13

Miss Georgia Horton, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Horton of Roseburg, became the bride of Robert J. Daw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Daw of Medford, at an impressive ceremony Friday evening, June 13, at the First Presbyterian Church in this city. Dr. Morris H. Rouse performed the nuptials in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

Miss Marilyn Horton acted as maid of honor for her sister and Louis Sulter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a charming wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, after which the couple left for points in Southern Oregon and California on their honeymoon. Upon their return, they plan to make their home in Roseburg, where they are both well-known and have many friends.

HENRY FAMILY HONORED AT CHARMING DINNER PARTY TUESDAY EVENING

Mrs. J. F. Barker and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Josse, and her daughter, Mrs. Velle Broadway, entertained at a charming dinner party at the beautiful Barker home Tuesday on East Lane. Magnolias and Majilla poppies formed a very pretty decorative motif for the occasion. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Henry and their two sons, Bob and Jack both of whom are students at Stanford University; Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bellows, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Josse, Miss Helen Casey, Miss Naomi Scott and the host and three hostesses.

Visiting was enjoyed during the pleasant evening hours.

Marry at Impressive Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Low.

Miss Cleo Pearl Noyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noyer of Roseburg, became the bride of Charles Wesley Low, son of Mrs. Annie May Mode and Royal Judd Low of Roseburg, at an impressive double ring ceremony June 2 at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Rev. W. A. Sylvester performed the nuptials in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

Baskets of white delphinium, pink snapdragons, pink roses and regal lilies, flanked by candelabra holding tall white tapers decorated the altar. The pews for the families were marked with white satin ribbons, while ivy decorated candles lighted the church windows.

Mrs. L. Wilson, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music and as the guests assembled, she played "To a Wild Rose" and "O Perfect Love." She accompanied Miss Gloria Gaston, who sang, "Because." Miss Gaston wore a gown of pink net. The traditional wedding march, the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding Reformation were played by Mrs. Wilson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white gown fashioned with a lace bodice and white-satin skirt with a full train. She wore her maternal grandmother's (Mrs. William C. Goetz) wedding veil, worn by Mrs. Goetz at her wedding 35 years ago. The full-length illusion veil was held in place by a coronet of stephanotis. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of pink baby gladioli encircled by white sweetpeas, stephanotis and fern tied with satin ribbons knotted with stephanotis.

Miss Muriel McFall, maid of honor, wore a gold-colored taffeta gown and carried a colonial bouquet centered with a pink rose and encircled with orchid-colored sweetpeas and a lace veil. Judy Lee Hebard, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a gown of aqua taffeta trimmed with white eyelet embroidery. Clarence Noyer, U. S. Navy, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of rose pink cut chiton with black and white accessories. Her corsage was white rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a street-length dress of pastel green crepe with black
