Marry at Impressive Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Jon Thomas Wilson.

At eight o'clock the evening of July 13 at the Dillard Methodist Church, Mabel Ann Boyer, daughter of Arthur Boyer of Brockway, became the bride of Jon Thomas Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Reston. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Gene Elliott, assisted by Rev. Walter Appleby, in the presence of more than a hundred friends and relatives.

An arrangement of ferns, flanked by candelabra holding tall white tapers, and large baskets of white gladioli, regalia and greenery, formed the background for the service. The brides were from the beautiful garden of the bride's aunt, Mrs. D. C. Ingram, of Portland. Baskets of pastel-colored sweetpeas and gladioli were arranged about the church and white ribbons marked the pews for the relatives. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Church of Roseburg had charge of the decorations.

Preceding the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Sharon Hercher, who wore a floor-length dress of aqua and a wristlet of pastel flowers. Miss Eileen Enos, accomplished pianist, and former roommate of the bride at Cascade College, played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin for the bride party to take its place at the altar and at the close of the ceremony, she played Mendelssohn's Wedding recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a floor-length gown of white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and deep net yoke edged with a ruffle of wide lace. Tiny satin covered buttons from the neck to the waistline trimmed the back of the gown and wide lace edged the three-quarter length sleeves. The front of the dress had a panel of wide lace ruffles and hooped skirt and a full-length train. Her fingertip veil, edged with lace, was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, centered with a spray of rosebuds. The rosebuds were taken from a bush which was started from roses from her mother's wedding bouquet. White satin ribbons and streamers completed the bouquet.

Miss Maybelle Knaggs, of Roseburg, was maid of honor and wore a floor-length gown of pastel blue marquisette. Miss Ann Fichtner of Portland and Miss Louise Church of Ashland were bridesmaids and wore identical dresses of blue and pink marquisette. The attendants wore corsages of pale yellow rosebuds.

Little Sandra Joanne Heister, cousin of the bride, and Ellen Rose McMaster, cousin of the bridegroom, were junior bridesmaids and wore gowns of pale blue and carried nosegays of pastel-colored sweetpeas. Marian Lang and Shirley McMahers, dressed in pink floor-length gowns, were flower girls, and Delwin McMaster, small cousin of the bridegroom, was dressed in a white suit and acted as ring bearer.

Paul Backlund was best man and Archie Croucher and Richard Dunning were ushers.

The bride's aunt, Miss Gladys Johnson, wore a floor-length gown of aqua-colored crepe with long white gloves and a corsage of yellow rosebuds and gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a black velvet floor-length gown with a corsage of roses and gardenias.

A reception followed at the home of the bride in Brockway. Pastel-colored sweetpeas, gladioli and roses were used in the decorations. The bride's table was covered with a lovely handmade lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped by a wedding bell. The cake was cut by the bride couple and served by Mrs. Walter Appleby, Mrs. L. A. Hercher, Mrs. Willard Lawrence, Mrs. D. C. Ingram, Mrs. C. A. Heater, Mrs. R. C. Heater, Mrs. Edna Knaggs and Mrs. George Smith. Louise Church had charge of the guest book and Maybelle Knaggs and Anne Fichtner had charge of the gifts and assisted about the rooms. The dream cake was served in tiny wrapped packages. The bride's bouquet was caught by Maybelle Knaggs. A beautiful lei was presented to the bride from her uncle, H. V. Johnston, who has just returned from Hawaii.

For traveling the bride chose a suit of soft green with white accessories. Her corsage was orchids. Following a trip along the Oregon-Washington coast, the couple returned to spend the summer at Reston, where the bridegroom is engaged in sawmill work with his father. They plan to attend college in Portland this fall.

The bride was graduated from Roseburg Senior High School and attended Cascade College in Portland. The bridegroom was graduated from Roseburg Senior High School and spent three years in the Army Air Forces.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included: Mrs. D. C. Ingram, Portland, aunt of the bride; W. V. Johnston, Medford, uncle of the bride; Mrs. Gaynell Young, Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston, Newberg, cousins of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. John McMaster, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Royce D. Lang and Marion (uncle and aunt of the bridegroom); and Ross Davis, an uncle of the bridegroom, all of Sweet Home, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Titus of Elkton; Eileen Enos of Vernonia; Bob Titterton, Yakima, Wash.; Anne Fichtner, Cascade College, Portland; Louise Church, Ashland; Wanda White, Omaha, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott and Rev. Gene Elliott of Canyonville and Mrs. Bert Pearson and Elizabeth Pearson of Myrtle Point.

Linger Longer Club entertained Tuesday at Helgeson home.

Mrs. Alvin Helgeson very graciously entertained the Linger Longer Club at her beautiful home near Myrtle Creek Tuesday afternoon at which time the club honored Mrs. Keith Ronk with a very lovely pink and blue shower gift.

Pink hydrangea blossoms and ivy flanked by blue candles, formed the attractive decorations for the affair. At the tea hour Alvin Helgeson, Jr., small son of the hostess, lighted the candles and assisted at the punch bowl.

Those enjoying the occasion with Mrs. Helgeson honoring Mrs. Keith Ronk included Mrs. Carrol Duncan, a visitor, and the following club members: Mrs. Gus Weigel, Mrs. D. COMMUNITY CONCERT ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IS ANNOUNCED

The week of September 15-20, has been announced as the dates for the annual membership drive for the Roseburg Community Concert Association, according to an announcement made by Miss Gladys H. Strong, president. Mrs. Charles A. Brand and Miss Helen Casey are co-chairmen of the drive.

To hold membership in the Association, memberships must be taken out during this one week's drive. The Association presents at least three concerts during the year (so far to date the Roseburg Community Concert Association has presented four concerts yearly since its organization). No tickets are ever sold for any individual concert as only members are privileged to attend. The membership is open to all residents of Douglas County and a cordial invitation is extended to all persons interested in bringing world-famous artists here in concert, to join the association during the membership drive.

Among the great artists already presented by the Association in Roseburg include: Rose Bampton, Dorothy Maynor, Nan Merriman, Nino Martini, Todd Duncan, Alexander Kipnis (all famous singers); Walter Hauzig, Randolph Hokanson, pianists; Patricia Travers, violinist; William Primrose, violinist; Gregor Platigorsky, cellist; Mildred Dilling, harpist; The Platoff Don Cossack Russian Chorus and Dancers with Nicholas Kostukoff as conductor; The Trapp Family Singers; The Bary Ensemble and others.

It is only through the combined efforts of the music lovers of Douglas county banding together and forming the Community Concert Association that has made it possible for bringing such renowned artists to this community. All persons holding memberships in the Roseburg Association are privileged to use the same membership cards at concerts presented by Community Concert Associations in other cities throughout the state, Grants Pass, Salem, Coos Bay, Klamath Falls and Bend are among other cities having associations.
