Second half title play and preliminary to the city softball championship gets under way tonight at 8 o'clock on Finlay Field. A "sudden death" arrangement was made by club managers last night whereby Squirt, Sutherland and J.V.R., all tied for first place in second-half play, will vie for the league's latter-half title and play a two-out-of-three series to decide the city championship and entry into the district tournament.

Tonight's Scherner's Squirts meet Sutherland's Pastime Tavern, the victor clashing tomorrow night at 7:15 with J.V.R.

Winner of tomorrow night's game meets Squirt, first half winner, in a three-game series starting Sunday evening to decide the city crown. Should Squirt win the "death" playoff, they will automatically win the pennant.

Due to the short time left to play, and in order to send the strongest club possible to the district playoffs, managers of Pepsi-Cola, Veterans Hospital and Veterans of Foreign Wars forfeited their makeup games with Sutherland and Squirt, originally slated for tonight.

J.V.R., drawing a bye tonight, will enter the "death" series the better for wear of the three clubs with two first-line pitchers, Ernie Alstrom and Ralph Sanstead, both of whom are also good hitters.

while Sutherland's lone moundman, Graham, suffering a mild attack of "flu," last night found the going tough in defeating V. F. W. 8-2. Speedballer Vang, who will twirl in tonight's Squirt-Sutherland fray, is also handicapped with a bruised right hand.

In last night's double bill, Wards made good on a strong sixth-inning rally to come from behind a 2-0 Vets Hospital lead and win 3-2, while in the second fray Sutherland played on scoreless terms with V. F. W. until the fourth, when they opened up on a barrage of hits to score six runs, adding two in the seventh. V. F. W. scored their only two runs in the sixth off four hits.

Angels Defeat Rainiers, Beavers Win Over Seals

(By The Associated Press)
The league-leading Los Angeles Angels finally came out on top in the third game of their pitching duels with their Pacific Coast League rivals, the Seattle Rainiers.

After being nipped twice in 11 inning affairs, the Angels' strong pitching staff, Bauers beat an old Angel jinx, Barrett, and the Los Angeles club won the finale of their three-game series, 1 to 0, last night.

Barrett threw a six-hitter and so did Bauers. But Bauers was given a run-out of the six hits while Barrett's mates failed to crash the scoring column. Ostrowski scored the lone run after leading off with a single. The bases loaded up behind him and then Malone grounded to Rocco who touched first base but threw too late to catch Ostrowski at the plate.

The Portland Beavers took the San Francisco Seals for the third straight game, 3 to 1, to make a clean sweep of their series and pull up within 1 1/2 games of the third place Seals. A two-homer rally in the sixth did the trick. Escobar's circuit clout drove in another Seal player to make two runs, and then Reich homered with none on.

San Diego swept its series against second-place Oakland by taking the last of three contests, 7 to 4, but the Padres stayed in the cellar.

Hollywood and Sacramento, the fifth and sixth teams in the league standings, finished a series with the Stars winning two games to 1. The Stars won the finale 6 to 4 when Libke homered in the seventh with one on.

Hayamaki, Ross Billed for Card's Supporting Bout

Sugi Hayamaki, the jiu-jitsu expert, and Tony Ross, the heavy-fisted mat villain from Salem, promise to provide local wrestling fans with plenty of fireworks in the semi-final attraction of Saturday night's weekly grappling show at the Roseburg Armory.

Although the Pacific coast junior-heavyweight championship bout between Herb Parks and Tex Hager will get top billing, the preliminary gives promise of matching the headliner for dynamic action and color.

Ross, a former welterweight boxing champion of the south-eastern states, still uses flistic tactics in the mat sport. Hayamaki, the Oriental who has been very impressive during his short stay in the northwest, is capable of matching Ross' illegal style with jiu-jitsu. The match may turn into a knock-down and drag-out brawl.

Hager, the popular little fellow who was on the brink of walking into the world's championship throne room of the light-heavyweight division only two years ago, has the holds and the ability of defeating the rugged Canadian. He displayed his prowess here several weeks ago when he had Parks on the run until the final minutes of action—but lost on a bad break. He is certain he can turn the trick this week.

Parks is sure to turn on the heat if his title shows signs of departing from his possession, which may result in a bloody brawl in which Hager will prefer taking a physical beating to a technical decision—which would not carry the title with it.

In an effort to keep things moving according to the rules and regulations of catch-as-catch-can wrestling, Owen has signed Jack Poppenheimer of Portland to come here as referee.

The well-balanced program promises to attract a sell-out crowd. The opener gets under way promptly at 8:30 p.m.

'Player of Class' Today Nod Goes to Bus Travis

"Player of Class" for today, as named by officials of the Roseburg Softball circuit is Bus Travis, 29-year-old infielder of the J.V.R. team.

Twice named to All-State while player-manager of the Aberdeen Donut Bar Club, and member of the Western Washington softball champions at Pasco in 1941, Travis began playing softball in 1935 when the game first began to gain West Coast popularity.

A portside batter and right-handed tosser, Travis ably plays catcher, third, second and short-stop. He is batting .389 with the J.V.R. club and holds a record this year of having scored more runs than any other player in the local league.

Chiefs May be Listed in Cascade League in '48

Roseburg's Umpqua Chiefs may see action against University of Oregon's diamonders next year in Cascade League competition, according to Dick Strite, president of the Lane County circuit.

The Chiefs were willing to give all kinds of concessions to enter the Cascade loop, considered the fastest circuit in the state, this year, but were voted down until next year when managers expect to expand and include the Umpqua Valley and Cottage Grove.

Duck Mentor Hobby Hobson recently stated he was greatly interested in entering the collegian nine in the circuit in order to keep them together as a unit during the summer months.

The first dinosaur bone discovery was made in Connecticut.
