Airport Serving Monthly Average Of 100 Aircraft

Roseburg's city airport is serving an average of 100 small transient aircraft monthly, Mrs. George Felt, attendant, said today.

Thus far this month 133 pilots have checked in and signed the local log book. They include students of flying schools as far north as Kent, Wash., on cross-country training flights, construction and lumber executives, rescue crews of Washington, sports men of California, long-hop pilots of Washington and California and emergency flights from within Douglas County.

While port factilities are adequate for overnight stops, transient pilots and passengers are referred to local hotels for the night. Also a list of private homes with spare bedrooms are kept on hand at the airport office. If these are all filled, the office management provides temporary quarters in the office for overnight.

Prominent transient flyers stopping in Roseburg during the past week included: Jack L. Heinz, Portland, flying an N-Avyon here on business at the Heinz Construction Co. on Little River; Joe Bellows, Salem, flying a Steerman, en route home from an aerial crop-dusting job at Grants Pass; Henry Beckley, Elkton, who brought his son, who was recently injured on a bicycle, to the local hospital for treatment, and a rescue party who packed into Buster Butte to salvage the recently crashed Aeronica airplane.

League Season's Finale May See Four-Team Knot

Southern Oregon League baseball fans' eyes are focused this weekend on the outcome of the circuit's three remaining games. They are: Ashland-Central Point, Sunday; Crescent City-Hilt, Labor Day, and Tri-City-Grants Pass, site and date unannounced.

Although Grants Pass has already won the league championship, the battle is still at high pitch for positions in the end-of-the-season Shaughnessy playoffs.

If Tri-City loses to Grants Pass, Central Point loses to Ashland, and Crescent City wins over Hilt, four teams, Roseburg, Tri-City, Central Point, and Crescent City will be tied with a standing of .500 each, giving the loop the aspect of an exciting dead heat horse race.

Last week Medford pulled the season's upset as they jumped Hilt's Loggers for a 2-1 win, and Crescent City, on their home grounds, shut out the Umpqua Chiefs in a pitcher's duel, 1-0.

Tomorrow the Chiefs travel to Tri-City grounds to decide Douglas County's semi-pro baseball championship to usher in Canyonville's annual Labor Day celebration and rodeo. Game time is 12 A. M.

The Chiefs won over Tri-City, 4-3, in their first meeting, while in the second league battle, Tri-crew swamped Roseburg, 10-1.

Dodgers Defeat Giants; Cards Idle

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Giants last night bowed to Brooklyn 6-3, enabling the Dodgers to increase their National League lead over the idle Cardinals to seven and a half games.

Jackie Robinson, who contributed a single to the five-run sixth inning rally, stole home while Beggs was warming up in that inning. It was his 24th stolen base and his third steal of home this season.

Marshall's 32nd home run was the Giants' 181st of the season. One more will tie the major league record of 182 set by the New York Yankes of 1936.

The Boston Braves moved within a half game of the second place Cards by tripping the Phillies, 9-2, in a 17-hit attack.

The Yankees beat Washington, 4-3, in the 10th when McQuinn hit a long fly with one out and the bases loaded to score a runner from third.

Pellagrini doubled in two runs in the last of the seventh to enable the Boston Red Sox to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1.

Landing on Kinder for four runs in the sixth, the Detroit Tigers defeated the St. Louis Browns, 5-4. Fred Hutchinson, who recorded his 13th victory, helped his own cause when he tripled and stole home.

SECURITY AGENT DATED

Carl D. Monroe, manager of the Eugene office of the Social Security Administration, will be in Roseburg Tuesday, Sept. 2. Monroe may be reached at the office of the Oregon State Employment Service at its new location on N. Jackson St., from 8:30 A. M. to noon.

Congress Must Decide on Europe, Dirksen Asserts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Chairman Dirksen (R-Ill.) of a special House Investigating Committee said yesterday Congress must decide next year between bolstering world freedom and abandoning Europe "to husband our strength at home."

The decision, he said, will be made in terms of money.

Dirksen's group, made up of members of the appropriations and armed services committees, was authorized by the House to study both military and economic conditions in Europe and the Near and Middle East. It is one of several similar inquiries either in progress or contemplated.

In an interview which he specified was not to be made public until after his departure, the Illinois lawmaker declared that it is becoming daily more obvious that:

1. "There appears to be small likelihood of any early intimacy between Russia and the United States.

2. "Our efforts abroad will at times make strange bedfellows.

3. "Freedom and human dignity are an indivisable fabric and to forsake it abroad except for the most extraordinary circumstance may be to lose it at home.

4. "Collapse in Europe is imminent; a sharp recession at home could carry the whole world down with it.

5. "The real responsibility before us at the moment is moral.

6. "Foreign policy will be determined not so much by words, but by a conscious, cooperative effort on the part of labor, industry, agriculture and government to leave no stone unturned to keep the nation strong, serene and prosperous."

Up to Congress

Thus, he said, Congress must decide the answer to these questions:

"Shall we abandon Europe for the sake of husbanding our strength at home?

"How long can we afford to carry the present load of aid and relief to foreign countries?

"Shall aid of various types continue, and if so, can a more objective policy be developed?"

"Saving that World War II has not yet ended, Dirksen declared that "action has merely been transferred from the military to the diplomatic front and the casualties are in the realm of ideas and ideals instead of men.

"There is a growing fear complex here at home and a certain war psychosis. Witness the growing interest in military men for the presidency in 1948. There is a growing belief that the 'next' war is not only not impossible but not improbable. There is a growing disillusionment after two years of the United Nations. There is a growing impatience with Soviet policies and attitudes."

Beavers Blanked By Los Angeles

(By the Associated Press)

The Los Angeles Angels found a much-needed stopper in Lynn last night as they bounced back with a 3-0 win over Portland's Beavers to regain a 3½-game lead in the Pacific Coast league.

Lynn shackled the Beavers with seven hits, while his mates landed on Salveson for all their runs in the second and third innings. The result squared the series at two-all.

San Francisco's second-place Seals dropped back a length as Seattle eked out a 2-1 decision when Melton wild-pitched the winning run home in the ninth.

Oakland pulled into a third place tie with Portland, five games off the pace, by pounding Sacramento for a 6-2 win.

Clay's two triples—one with the bases loaded—sparked the San Diego Padres to a 5-4 victory over Hollywood and lifted the Padres into a sixth place deadlock with the Stars.

Several Property Deals Reported by DeCamp Agency

Property transactions to include out-of-state and local residents were reported by Hayden H. DeCamp Real Estate Agency for the past month today.

John Cook and James Wells, formerly of Los Angeles, purchased a building at 735 S. Stephens St. from the Utne brothers and are now operating an upholstering business. Wells also purchased a new homes in West Roseburg from C. E. Pratt and expects to bring his family here from California.

Edward Davis, recently of Nebraska, and manager of the Washington Creamery in that state, purchased his present home on "A" St. from A. U. Taylor.

W. G. Clarenbach, San Francisco, purchased the home and highway property of Russell Ginther and now operates a domestic gas service business and sales office at that location.

Albert L. Scott, Klamath Falls, bought the Zenor home on Eddy St.; L. J. Barnes, local barber, purchased Gene Kirlin's home on Eddy St.; James Quisenberry, formerly of Washington, purchased part of the L. E. Nichson river frontage property on the North Umpqua; Halsey DeCamp bought a 39-acre summer home on Cavit Creek from O. A. Williams; M. W. Burrows, New Mexico, purchased the Owen Pollard farm near Tenmile; Wiley S. Bryant, Sutherlin, purchased a country home on the Garden Valley Road from Walter Fandrich.

George Erickson, Roseburg High School faculty member, bought a new home in the Coates Addition from C. E. Williams; Harold and Clarence Roth purchased the Nicholson property on West 1st St.; H. P. Trimble, Seaside, purchased the Raymond Lee home in Coats Addition; Gordon Larson, Seaside, logging operator, purchased the Frank Beck with home in Coates Addition.

A. R. Brown bought the property of Mary Hudson at Riverside; Harry L. Clemons purchased the Burroway property on Rice St. near his business on South Stephens St., and Ernest Nazelrod is purchasing the Zerbe home in Coates Addition.

Three Bouts Billed On Tonight's Card

The Roseburg Armory will be the scene of three colorful wrestling matches tonight when six of the finest matmen in the light-heavyweight division vie here in a three-star program.

Headlining the festivities will be a return "grudge" match between Tony Ross, the "Salem Terror," and Stocky Knellson, the bearded and villainous hillbilly from Tennessee. Ross upset the burly meanie here some two months ago, and Knellson is out for revenge.

Opening the hostilities at 8:30 P.M. will be a scientific skirmish between Pierre LaBelle and Jack O'Reilly, a newcomer from Oklahoma. The Irishman comes here with a fine reputation and may give the "Fighting Frenchman" a terrific struggle in the one-fall opener.

Sugi Hayamaki, the jiu-jitsu minded Oriental, will meet Buck Davidson, the ex-Texas cowhand, in the three-fall semi-windup. The fur is certain to fly when these two rivals clash. All three bouts will be handled by Referee Elton Owen.

N. Douglas Fair Divisions Listed

Numerous, excellent displays of livestock, farm products, poultry and turkeys are planned for the North Douglas Community Fair to be held at Drain Friday and Saturday, Sept. 12-13.

Divisions of the fair will include sheep and goats, cattle, swine, horses, poultry, grains and seeds, vegetables, horticulture, floral, sewing, domestic baking, dairy products and honey, home canning, farm and community displays and art and craft work.

Parade Chairman Jack Roach announced that $40 in prizes will be paid for the best floats in the parade scheduled for 11 A. M. Saturday, Sept. 13.

Prizes are to be given for the best individual, commercial and organizational floats.

Leading the parade will be a float carrying the queen and princesses, to be selected this year from Yoncalla, with the communities of Drain and Elkton each choosing a princess. Votes are by donations to the fair, one cent a vote.

Mrs. Dale Thompson Dies in Portland

Mrs. Charles F. (Dale Coshow) Thompson, 56, died today in a Portland hospital, following a long period of ill health.

A daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. O. P. Coshow, she was born in Roseburg and completed Roseburg schools, later attending advanced schools in Illinois. She was engaged in teaching school prior to her marriage.

Surviving are the widower, a son Charles, and two daughters, Mrs. Dale Boone, Salem, and Miss Gretchen, Portland. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. K. L. (Hazel) Pickens, Salem, and Mrs. John (Leone) McClintock, Portland.

Funeral services will be held at 4 P.M. Tuesday at the J. P. Finley & Son Mortuary, Portland.

TWO CURFEW ARRESTS

In the first arrests since city police began the enforcement of the 10 o'clock curfew, two boys from Dillard were cited to appear in the Municipal Court with their parents Tuesday morning, Chief of Police O. A. Kennerly reported today. The youths were playing at the Roseburg Bowling Alleys at 11:25 o'clock last night, the chief said.
