Bottle of 'Moscow Mule' Produces Real Salamander

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—(AP) Two married couples assert that ever since they mixed a drink known as a "Moscow Mule" their dreams have been troubled with visions of "mules and lizards which leer at them from the necks of ginger beer bottles."

The foursome has no complaint about the Moscow Mule, as such, but in a suit filed in superior court yesterday they contended that a very live "lizard or salamander" popped out of a ginger beer bottle while they were making the drinks with ginger beer, vodka and lime juice last Sept. 10.

All four claimed in the suit that they became violently nauseated and have been unable to sleep properly since. Mr. and Mrs. George Horsman and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin White, asking $10,000 damages, filed the action against the Cock 'N Bull Products, Inc., and Arrowhead Beverage Co., described as bottlers and distributors of the ginger beer.
