lowed the news with reasonable care, that in recent weeks communist has been LOSING OUT-IN ELECTIONS in various European countries. It started in Italy. In the recent municipal elections in France, this trend away from communism was continued.

Britain is socialist. It ISN'T communist. But in its regimen-tation of the lives of individual human beings, in its glorification of the STATE as contrasted with the individual, socialism provides a particular and specialized kind of soil out of which communism can grow. In its recent municipal elections, Britain showed a sharp trend away from socialism.
Enough has leaked out from behind the iron curtain to indicate that Romania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and even Poland aren't accepting communism willingly and happily. They are submitting to it only because it is being imposed upon them by OVERAW-ING FORCE.

This overawing force comes from Russia, which is incorporating these countries into its empire of communism.

THIS is the point:
It is quite possible that Moscow has come to the conclusion that countries WEST of the iron curtain (notably Italy and France) can't be induced to accept communism voluntarily.

SO—Moscow may have decided that now is the time to use force in Italy and France.

HERE is how communism gets started:

It doesn't win in a free election. IT SEIZES the key points of the state—the bureaucracies, the police, the ARMY. Thus it par-alyzes the power of the people to resist.

After that, it proceeds to imprison or kill off the leaders of the opposition to communism.
We've seen all that in operation in Poland, in Romania and generally throughout the Balkans.

By this time, the pattern is quite familiar to us.

WATCH what is happening in Italy and France. It could be very, very significant indeed. It could upset all of our plans to stop the spread of communism over Western Europe.

It could be Moscow's answer to the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall plan.

Police Seek Boys Who Took Explosives and Caps

NORTH BEND, Ore., Nov. 15.— Police still were searching today for explosive caps and dynamite taken from the North Bend airport by 16 youngsters recently.

Some of the 250 caps and two cases of powder were recovered, but one box of caps was found only a foot from where workmen had been swinging axes.
Police Chief Sorenson said a fatal explosion might have resulted if an ax had struck the box.

SLAP ROUTS THIEF
EASTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—(AP)— An Easton housewife gets rid of would-be robbers by slapping them.

The housewife, Mrs. Frances McKee, answering a knock on the door yesterday found a youth with a handkerchief over his face.

After he told her to "stick 'em up," she said she noticed he had no gun so she slapped him in the face and slammed the door shut.
The youth fled before police arrived.

THE PRICE OF EDUCATION

By CHARLES V. STANTON

The 27th observance of American Education Week is now in progress in an effort to focus greater national attention upon our schools and the importance of education to community and national life.

The general public has had reason in the past few years to become increasingly aware of school problems, but these have been financial problems for the most part, rather than issues pertaining to educational evaluation.

We have passed through a period in which teachers were forced to use pressure, even resorting to strikes, to gain a decent wage. Even yet the profession as a whole is underpaid. Because we have failed to provide proper compensation for teachers, our prospects for competent instruction in the future are exceedingly poor. The drop in number of young men and women preparing for educational work is alarming. Our schools are growing steadily. Indications are that the next five or six years will see a still greater rate of growth in school attendance. The birth rate is high following the war, which means we will have many more children than normal entering elementary schools starting four or five years from now. Our institutions of higher education are crowded to capacity while thousands upon thousands of G.I.'s are unable to gain admission. At the same time, the percentage of high school graduates entering universities and colleges is on the upgrade. Yet we have fewer teachers each year, and, with small enrollment in our normal schools and in institutions preparing students for educational professions, a most critical shortage of teachers is certain.

This condition results from a lack of realization of the importance of education, and short-sighted tax policy.

The community of Myrtle Creek recently suffered a disastrous blow when fire damaged its school building. It has been necessary to scatter pupils out into various quarters throughout the city. Classrooms are not properly arranged or equipped for school work. While the district will collect insurance for damage and will make repairs, it will not be possible to increase facilities. Yet fairly recently voters in that area turned thumbs down on a proposal which would have provided school facilities sufficient to meet the increased population growth and at an expense only about one-third as much as required for similar construction now.
In the meantime, the district has bonded itself to the limit and cannot raise more money for school expansion except by year-to-year levies.

We speak of Myrtle Creek because the fire is still fresh in our minds and affords a striking example. The same condition of failure to look ahead and anticipate school needs applies equally to every district in the county.

Roseburg district did anticipate its needs to a degree, and authorized a continuing five-year levy, but the rate of growth was far in excess of our vision. Still, faced with actual facts concerning the year's needs, voters rejected the first budget for the current school year and forced cuts which have seriously curtailed administration.

Proposals have been made concerning a tentative bond issue by Roseburg district to build facilities for future use.
It is a startling proposal, but investigation indicates it is none too ambitious, and, in our opinion, still will not meet our needs should our next step in expansion come as rapidly as we anticipate. Yet it will be a real job to convince taxpayers that the program, as designed, is essential.

Anyone, if questioned, will admit the importance of education in community and national life. We cannot expect good government if we permit our educational standards to become lower. We need the highest level of education. To achieve that goal we need the best possible facilities and the highest degree of instructor proficiency. But are we willing to pay the price?
