Separate Training School to be Built For 'Tough' Boys

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—A $319,785 building program, which will enable the Boys Training School at Woodburn to segregate its tough boys from the ones who can be helped, won unanimous approval today from the State Board of Control and the State Emergency Board, with contract for the work being given to W. C. Smith, Inc., Portland.

The project calls for construction of a gymnasium, cottage for 50 more boys, and a shop building.

The purpose is to divide the school into two divisions to segregate the boys. State Treasurer Scott said "about 5 per cent of the 110 boys in the school are tough and candidates for the penitentiary, while the other 95 per cent can be taught."

M. D. Woolley, superintendent of the school, said the institution still would be crowded to capacity after the building program is completed, because of the school's long waiting list and because the school now is forced to keep boys an average of six months, thus discharging them before they are ready.

Woolley said 22 per cent of the boys are repeaters because they can't receive proper training, whereas the number should be about 12 per cent. He said there are many boys in the penitentiary who are there only because lack of facilities made it impossible for them to get proper training at Woodburn.

He said that there are many boys around the state who are waiting to get in. While they are waiting, they are being kept in county jails, some of them for as long as six months.

WAGE BOOST SOUGHT—EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—The Willamette Valley district council of the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union reported today that a 25-cent wage increase has been asked by most of the area's locals.

Negotiations have not yet begun. The council represents 44 locals.

In the New England region three-fourths of the farms houses are about 60 years old, according to estimates made recently.

Power Shortage Bans Northwest Industries

SPOKANE, Nov. 21.—(AP)—New industries are being prevented from expanding into the Pacific northwest, Dr. Paul Rayer, Bonneville power administrator, asserts, because of a shortage of power that will continue "at least until 1954."

The administrator said in an interview that there is no power for additional industries and that existing industries are also asking for more power.

He predicted the "shortage" would continue until 1954 and would be eased then only if Congress authorizes construction of the Hungry Horse, Foster Creek and McNary dams. "We've already lost two years on the Foster Creek dam," he said, and it probably would not be finished by 1954.

In 1941 each American on the average smoked 1,550 cigarettes.

New Chief of Police Appointed at Eugene

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Lt. Keith L. Jones, Portland Police Department, has been named as Eugene's new chief of police.

City Manager Deane Seeger announced Jones' appointment from a list of more than 15 formal applications for the $3,900-per-year position. He replaces L. L. Pittenger, who resigned several months ago after an incident when he allegedly struck a teen-aged boy. Pittenger has since been appointed chief at Oregon City.

The new police chief is 37 years old and has had 10 years experience in police work. He was born in Salem and was a graduate of Salem High School and Willamette University, where he was a four-year letterman in varsity athletics.

Jones served in the Marines during the war.

Movie Brings Catholic Edict Against Theater

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, head of the Philadelphia Archdiocese, today instructed the area's 1,000,000 Catholics to stay away from the Fox theater here "at least one year" because the theater refused to discontinue showing film "Forever Amber."

The Cardinal ordered the ban in a letter to pastors in the Archdiocese.
