mination to seize power that can not be gained in a FREE ELEC-TION.

If you will keep that fact clear in your mind, you will be better able to understand what follows.

There is a "new government" in France. That is to say, France has a new premier whose job is to bring order out of the chaos that has been developing.
The French army has been strengthened almost to war footing.

As nearly as we can tell from this distance, what is happening there isn't an honest labor dispute. If that is true, the job of the new French government is to KEEP ORDER.

It seems probable that keeping order, including getting food from where it is produced to where it is needed, would be WELCOMED by all Frenchmen who have refused so far to VOTE COMMUNIST.

Anyway, it looks like the showdown is approaching.

There is a sad note in our own domestic news.

The government is to carry the charges against General Meyers to a federal grand jury. Already the air force has stripped him of his medals and his pension.

It is apparent, as General Arnold said the other day, that Meyers is a rotten apple in the barrel.
It is obvious that in so many barrels of apples there must be a rotten one now and then.

But it is humiliating when it happens in a military barrel. We are entitled to think of our high-up soldiers as honest, patriotic men.

The bitter truth is that during the war money flowed too freely. It was OTHER PEOPLE'S money. Other people's money is peculiar. We don't guard it as we guard OUR money.

That is the great trouble with government spending.

Speaking of spending, Secretary Snyder says the U. S. treasury plans a huge peace-time bond-selling drive. He says increased bond sales to individuals will help to restrain inflation by soaking up potential buying power.

(He means that if people buy more bonds they won't be tempted to spend their money for other things, which would relieve the pressure resulting from too few goods and too much money.)

This writer would say it all depends on what the government does with the money. If the government spends it recklessly, the result will be exactly the same as if the people spend it recklessly.

SNYDER adds that a high tax level should be maintained.

He says:

"It is imperative that during these times of GREAT PROSPER-ITY we should continue to collect adequate revenues over and above a balanced budget to provide a systematic reduction of the debt total."

That sounds OK, but it would be still better if we paid off our debt by the process of reducing expenses to the lowest possible level. That is the way most individuals do it.

It is just possible that Secretary Snyder is kidding himself about this period of "great prosperity." It is true enough that in terms of money incomes are high, but we're learning the hard way that our higher incomes of today don't buy a lot more than our lower incomes used to.

A SOUND POLICY

By CHARLES V. STANTON

The Douglas County Rural School Board will premise its administration upon the declaration that "the child is of primary consideration." That statement is significant. If administration follows strictly implications of the fundamen- tal rule, there can be little quarrel with future operations.

The board anticipates much stormy weather in the first few years under the new system. The change is so drastic and there is such a wide variety of opinion concerning school operation and management that the board will be subject to much pressure and criticism. If, however, it applies its standard of measure, the welfare of the child, in determining the various issues which will arise, its decisions cannot go far astray.

The task before the board is one of great magnitude and there is no precedent. The plan of operation is outlined in the law, adopted by referendum, but the law affords only a skeleton method and fails to set up rules or regulations for handling minor details.

The law requires that budgets for all districts, except those of the first class, be equalized. As Roseburg has the only first class school district in the county, the board becomes budget supervisor for 54 districts embracing all organized and unorganized school territory in the county.

Each district will prepare its tentative budget as usual. This budget will then be submitted to the rural school board which will delete any items considered to be non-essential and will add any items believed necessary. After all budgets have been adjusted, they will be lumped into one and a uniform tax rate will be applied throughout the entire county, exclusive of Roseburg. Thus, every school district will pay the same rate of school tax instead of one district having a high rate of taxation while an adjoining district pays little or no tax.

But the board immediately is faced with some weighty decisions. Fifteen schools, for instance, maintain a hot lunch program. Should all districts be taxed to bear the expense incurred by these 15 schools in furnishing lunches? Some schools conduct athletic programs. They need money for equipment, transportation, etc. An athletic program is recognized as an important part of school activity, but should the entire county be taxed for athletics when some schools do not participate?

The board, at present, holds to the opinion that its assess- ments should be exclusively for the "essentials of education." In other words, it is ruling out levies for extra curricular activities.

This does not mean, however, that districts will be pre- vented from continuing such activities as lunches, music, athletics, etc.

The uniform levy would cover the cost of standard in- struction in "essentials of education." If extra curricular activities are desired, districts can raise such additional funds as may be needed or desired through a special levy, the law permitting any district to vote "current and capital expenditures."

The operation of the law, as interpreted by the board, therefore, will require districts desiring extra curricular activities, new construction and other expenditures outside the fundamental educational requirements, to submit a sup- plementary budget to voters of that district.

This ruling doubtless will result in considerable criticism and remonstrance, but it appears to be the best possible solution of a difficult problem.

Former Resident of Vets Hospital Missing

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Aid in locating Robert W. Bailey, 35, who left the U.S. Veterans hospital at Roseburg, Oct. 23 and last was known to have been in Portland October 27, was requested Wednesday of the Portland police.

Bailey is 5-feet 7-inches tall, weighs 165 pounds, brown hair, fair complexion, blue-grey eyes and walks with a slight limp. He was wearing khaki trousers, tan sweater and blue overcoat.

He spent three years in the armed service.

Who won bird at Elks Tues- eve to tune of Skinnay Ennis but Gene Krewson, restaurant owner, who specializes in tur- key dinners this week.

Have it here that Country Club will launch program for the kids' entertainment in near future, throwin' open doors of their new- ly decorated ballroom to the younguns two Sat. eve's monthly.

Eval notice great resem- blance between Hank Flury of logging supply firm and Lt. Jerge Bolet, pianist to be fea- tured at Com. Concert at Jr. Hl. Nov. 29?

Vonnie Baker and Dick Gilman report situation as "stymied" for at present for a county amateur boxing club. Had plans for enter- ing the kids in the Golden Gloves, too. "Is well known there's no better amateur sports promotion than the 'Gloves.' Anyone have a vacant barn? See Vaughn or Dick.

Drop over to football field to- morrow and you'll see two lil' schools battlin' their hearts out for a try at a state title. Not often Myrtle Creek is heard of in the news, but well'wager a torn stub of UO-OSC game on 'em after Amity.
